PREFACE:

The following material was gleaned from informal conversations with Alfred B. Glaser, during a 14 year period (from 1968 thru 1982). The notes I took now fill my 3 inch thick journal, which I affectionately call my "Brown Book". While I tried to record his comments as accurately as possible, there are bound to be INADVERTENT distortions of his original comments.

In 1976, Mr. Glaser published his VERY CONDENSED Modern Human Comprehension Courses, which covered the base mechanics of the human being FOR THE FIRST TIME ON THIS PLANET. While "Earth Report" can IN NO WAY substitute for the Comp. Course background & data, it CAN be of value in offering expansion & application ideas... and in broadening one's horizon & potential for Happiness.

SPECIAL THANKS ARE OFFERED TO:

Alfred B. Glaser, without whom this work would not have been possible. He freely gave of himself & his time, and I was never able to ask him a question that he could not answer. Thanks for being there & for caring.

Paul Bunker, a Comp. Mentor, sorted out my "Brown Book" notes, converted them to a readable form, and then typed them up.

Dick & Evelyn Watson let us use their I. B. M. Executive electric typewriter for almost 4 weeks. Also, thanks for the meatloafs, hospitality, and general support....

*****

We ask no BELIEF or FAITH from you, nor do we expect for you to blindly accept what is written, within these pages. Accept or Reject what you read, and then APPLY those ideas that ring true FOR YOU. When you APPLY the material in PHYSICAL ACTS, then you will KNOW for YOURSELF.

*****

(note: 2/5ths of this work was completed by Fry in 1976. All type NOT of the style on this page, which was done on 2 different IBM Executive typewriters, is Fry's work.) P. Bunker

May you live in Pleasure & Affection,

IMPORTANT REMINDER: Mr. Glaser wishes it known that this work represents general replies to specific questions that were put to him in informal sessions. NONE of the answers, therefore, can or should be considered as Comprehensive or All-Inclusive statements of ANY of these subjects. The comprehensive Base-Factor Statements DO NOT appear in this work, but they CAN be found in the Modern Human Comprehension Courses. Please keep this fact in mind as you read this work.

What Good Is History ?

Since few person ever seem to learn from the mistakes of the past put to paper, history hasn't helped much. Looking back in time, it is obvious that most of the great civilizations fell shortly after they lost the free choice laws that brought them to greatness. Today, as we rush into the age of technology, we are still held back by old unworkable domination systems. Fewer & fewer people actually produce anything. The vast majority only provide some sort of service & are tightly controlled & limited.

Under a 'FREE' system, there would be less money manipulation and more emphasis on Human life value & free choice. By observing History you can actually predict the fate of nations by seeing what happened to nations of the past & projecting it to the future.

What brought on the so-called "Dark Ages"? Pope Gregory presided at a Council in 1285 which came up with Canon (church laws). They passed a new law whereby all citizens were FORCED to go to a confessional. If persons ignored the Church law twice, they had a finger cut off. If they refused a third time, they were beheaded! By confessing an act of hoarding valuables, it was common practice for the confessor to be summarily robbed & liquidated by the Church. These conditions brought about the Dark Ages. The King James period lifted this condition somewhat, and with the help of Lutheranism, the Baptists, & other such groups, Europe was finally able to pull out of this condition.

What were the Animal-men like BEFORE the Exiles came here? There were a great number of very unusual & unique animal-man forms here 13,000 years ago, before the Exiles arrived. Animal-men came in many odd forms to conform to their habitats. Some had wings, some were aquatic (mermen), some were giants 50 feet tall, some lived in the Earth like ants, and some could even tie their limbs into knots! Many of our present day "freaks" are genetic throwbacks to these times. For example, have you ever seen a "rubber man" at a circus?? When the Exiles came here & broke the Egg-knowledge, the Earth began to die & many of her food chains were altered. The present form of animal-man was the most adaptable of the animal-man forms, so it ALONE was chosen to be the Hu-man. The other animal-man species died out.

WHAT ARE THE BASIC TYPES OF PERSONS ON EARTH ?

According to background & origin there are 3 basic types. There are the 'Originators' or 'exiles' who were the originators of intelligence on Earth. The 'Midwayers' & then of course the 'Earth Children'.

The 'Originators' came as exiles over 13000 years ago and originally had the power to move matter with their minds. The 'earth children' or animal people were referred to as 'nomes' and later 'men' from the 1st Egyptian ruler Menes. Earth children worked on brain level alone but at various times in Earth's history achieved notable civilizations and fairly high levels of technology. The 'Midwayers' were referred to as 'gentlemen' in Egypt & were born of exile-earth child matings. Such an origin gave them a higher status in the early Egyptian cultures.

WOULD YOU ELABORATE ON THE BIBLICAL 'WAR IN HEAVEN'?

The identity known as SATAN was banished to the planet Earth with 43 other leaders of his own 9th level of knowledge & 144 thousand others of different knowledges. They were placed on Earth, not for wanting to play in matter, but because they began to mentally coerce their fellow creations into joining them. Upon choosing domination, or 'reflection' as it was frequently called, knowledge of the 'Father' was eventually lost & the leaders felt with all sincerity that they were the one Gods of this creation. This condition still exists. {as will be explained}

HOW DID THE EXILES COMMUNICATE BETWEEN THE CONTINENTS ?

While mental telepathy was used by persons of intelligence, there was a special corps of teleporters to handle most of the official communications to & from the 'motherland' of Atlantis. Persons in this corps used a special cross & by holding the cross in a special way could more easily link up with other corps members in Tibet, China, Africa, & the Americas.

WHY WAS THE POWER USAGE TAKEN FROM THE EXILES ?

The high level councils who banished the exiles to Earth felt that they should certainly see the errors of their choice... & let them retain their powers which were inherent with their high level knowledges. What happened was that the exiles continually enjoyed terrorizing the defenseless animal men or 'nomes'. They used them as virtual slaves and pawns in a great series of 'war games'. Representatives were sent to explain that it was an abridgement of the free law of the 'Father' to dominate the 'Earth Children'. Playing 'domination games' among themselves was one thing but subjecting other life forms without defense... Somewhat later there was a dividing of the way among the exiles. There were a few who realized their actions were ethically in bad taste & there were the majority who loved their new 'power games', & could care less about the consequences of their thoughtless actions.

After duly warning the leaders to stop their barbaric actions or face drastic action a representative of the 'FREE' or 'Father' saw that there would be no response and cut off certain vectors of energy which were necessary for the full use of power on Earth.

WHAT HAPPENED WHEN THEY CAME TO EARTH?

They were collected & brought here in a number of space craft. Being of what you would call anti-matter, they split into positive & negative polarities & were soon clothed in matter. They were deposited on the 4 major continents and somewhat later built pyramids at these sites. Since the most adaptable & usefull animal form on the planet was the 'nome' or animal man as we now call him, it was the 'man' body that was eventually preferred by most of the 'exiles'!

WHAT HAPPENED WHEN THE EXILES POWER WAS TAKEN FROM THEM ?

Probably the deepest blow to them was the loss of their power to regenerate their bodies at intervals-so they could retain their power and positions. Such regenerative periods were very painful...in that the aged or decrepid body it required incineration, but without it, it was necessary to be born again and face a long childhood & the slim chances of recovering a complete empire. Once faced with a forced death, the exiles were more than a little alarmed. They got together and decided that ways must be found to perpetuate their knowledges so that they would continue to hold the advantage over the other life forms of the planet.

all across the planet slaves & men were put to work recoding what their leaders had them to...knowledge that before was carefully guarded was now carefully exposed on rock, in legend, & in written words of newly created languages. Overnight, so to speak, animal man was exposed to such a vast amount of data that only a tiny portion of it could be assimilated.

To manipulate matter by more orthodox means than mind energy, the exiles had for some time put the legendary 'star fire' crystals to use. Thousands of men toiled in the mines under Atlantis for these scarce and amazing stones. Such crystals could de materialize matter & act as catalysts for other crystal energy systems.

WHAT SPECIFIC CHANGES WERE PUT INTO EFFECT WHEN THE POWER USAGE WAS TAKEN FROM THE EXILES ?

A belt or shield was formed around the planet to block off certain incoming energies. Some of these energies had to do with amino acid change which is necessary to life and evolvement. The amino acids are one of the main building blocks of life & before the change the so-called 'dead' mineral kingdom was 'alive'. The metals which scientists now recognize as 'dead' & radioactive were then self sustaining or technically 'alive'. All of mother Earth was 'alive' & self sustaining her capillary systems {water} & general tone were far more healthy than at present. Today all life must struggle for an existence using the stored up energies that still exist on the planet.

The science of alchemy is based upon methods of concentrating this 'life energy'. Where once nature grew metals from rocks of certain maturity, alchemists must upgrade the 'spirit' or life energies to make metals or superior healing agents. As this life force was reduced, the ability of life to adapt was for the most part halted. This insured that at the final choosing for Earths inhabitants, conditions would be just as they were after the use of the 'mentals' was halted. When the final choice is made, the so called Van Allen Radiation Belt will be irradiated & Earth may once again be a 'garden paradise'

The major change to the planet that has confused scientists is the fact that the core of the planet was converted to iron from copper. This has caused almost all of basic foundations of science to be distorted.

What happened to the Exiles and their HQ after Atlantis sank ? When Atlantis sank, the Exile HQ moved into the Tibet area. The Exile strongholds in China were invaded, eventually, so they moved from Korea to an area near Turkey. Northern Exiles decided to move to a less populated area, so they began to gather blond-haired slaves from all over Europe. Leaving their slaves in the Scandinavian areas as a front, they settled in the Minnesota area of the U.S. Many of the persons in these present Exile colonies realize their true heritage & origin. Most of these persons are Caucasian, except for the darker-skinned persons from the so-called "Black German" background. Many of these persons live in Germany and Poland. The "Black Mary" is used as a religious symbol in some of these areas instead of the "White Mary".

What do you mean by the term "THE REFLECTION", in reference to (5) the Exiles? The Exiles are sometimes referred to as the "reflection", because they accepted the reflection of reality as being the real thing. For example, if you accept your image (reflected in a mirror in front of you) as being the REAL "you", then you are accepting Reflection. It is well to remember that everything in a reflection is BACKWARDS. So, those Entities who accepted the Reflection as being the REALITY perceive reality as being TOTALLY OPPOSITE to the TRUE reality of "All that Is". It is permissible, within Free Choice Law, to use the pattern of Reflection as you wish... UNLESS you impinge upon the Free Will of OTHERS by Dominating them or by trying to coerce others into accepting the Reflection pattern. This was the "sin" the Exiles were exiled to Earth for committing. Indians have been known to kill white men who photographed them. The Indians carry over genetically ingrained patterns rejecting Reflection. Atlantis was one of the original landing sites of the Exiles, and the Indians carry over the genetic memories of the abuses they endured at the hands of the Exiles. Indians know intuitively that each UN-real perception weakens TRUE perception.

Where did the Counter - intelligence or Priority Mind originate ?
It was a part of the "All That Is". It was isolated here only when it became Un-supportive. It can be usefull & positive... IF supportive.

How can we prevent being overly influenced by this P-Mind influence ?
At the same instant that Priority Mind came to this dimension through the Exiles, another exact opposite Mind came in to existence. While this B-Mind remained dormant until Free Choice Laws were put into effect at the time of Moses, It thereafter balanced the situation to insure that Humans had choice at all times. By balance, Humans could actually have access to the Universal Mind. (A subject that will hopefully be covered in detail in "Staff Study #1'.)

What were the major Pyramids REALLY built & used for? They were built & used as fortresses by the 44 Exile leaders so that they could defend themselves against each other, during their body renewal time. When the Exiles chose to decompose & reconstruct their bodily "garment of matter", it was necessary for them to go through the pain equivalent of being burned alive! For this reason, they only renewed themselves when old age or necessity demanded it. Since the complete process took several days to complete, their companions thought that it was great sport to try to spoil such renewals, at this vulnerable time. Catching one of the 44 at this time, they would keep on destroying the newly forming body as fast as it could form. For this reason, it became imperative for these Exile "Kings" to fortify themselves against each other during their time of renewal. Taking their favorite companions & women with them they entered their pyramids, sealed off the entrances, and began the renewal process unhindered. As they acquired a new body & worked out the minor disorders in its function, they again went forth into the outside world. These pyramids were loaded with elaborate protective devices. The Great Pyramid could pump water, act as a giant electrical energizer, and it could destroy (in various ways) most persons who came near it during the crucial renewal time. The "pyramids as tombs for kings" speculations & theories have come from actual facts that have been twisted over the years. When the egg-knowledge of the animal-man was broken, the 1st instance energy abilities were taken from the Exiles. Those Exiles who tried to renew their bodies in their sealed-up pyramids discovered, much to their dismay, that they could no longer renew their decaying bodies... & they simply died in their fortresses!

WHERE CAN I FIND RECORDS TO CONFIRM THE EVENTS YOU TELL OF ?

With the burning of the great library at Alexandria, a great portion of the recent history of the world was destroyed. Aside from a world wide collection of somewhat obscure material, there is the easily accessible works of Herodotus. According to this Jewish historian, the Egyptian priests kept a very precise record of events for 341 generations. With three generations equal to 100 years, that means a full record of 11,340 years. Asserting that no divinity appeared in human form again, they explained that the sun had changed it's position in the heavens four times {polar shifts}, that their 1st king was Menes, {=men=Mu=animal=animal men} & he was the 1st king to reign after the 'gods'. {ed. note. Dozens of 'paperbacks' are currently out with references in them on such applicable events of old...see catolog.} W

ARE THERE OTHER LIFE FORMS ON EARTH THAT ARE OF INTELLIGENCE ?

When the exiles were placed on the planet they were energy without material form. They soon chose to enter forms that were of the most adaptable & capable types. On land the form preferred was the animal man or Homo Sapien. In the sea the form most preferred was the Dolphin family. Thus it happened that when the full use of 'MIND' was taken from the exiles, there were a certain number of them that were trapped in the Dolphin forms they were using at the time. Today there are a certain percentage of Dolphins who have very high intelligence levels, & who are in fact, exiles or 'originators' {originating the intelligence on this planet}. As in the case of our own species, the whole Dolphin group now carries a smaller degree of this long inbred intelligence. As certain primitive tribes of our own species finally have a trace of outside genetic stock of 'intelligence' mixed in with their own pure animal stock, certain Biblical prophecies now are now fulfilled. Such infusion of intelligence is necessary in relation to their making a final intelligent choice...a choice of whether they, as identities of animal man or dolphin background wish to reject or go further into the 'intelligent'

WHAT OF THE 'BIG FOOT' & YETI WHICH ARE SO FREQUENTLY SEEN ?

The 'Big Foot' is a harmless creature of around a no.3 intelligence and was brought to this planet a little prior to the exiles. The Yeti is a similar type of species but with a slightly higher degree of intelligence. Both species were taken from environments where they had problems with the dominant races. On Earth they could better continue their anti social ways.

HOW WERE THE CYCLOPSE CREATED ?

They were created by a system similar to cloning and from their youth they were subjected to intense conditioning & subjugation. It was their job to control the highbred 'nomes' or earth children & do what we call the 'dirty work'. When Shamballah later fell, these Cyclops just couldn't defend themselves against the numerous nomes who so greatly hated them.

WHY DID THE EXILE KINGS USE CRYSTALS & MACHINERY WHEN THEY HAD THE POWER OF 1ST INSTANCE ENERGY CHANGE...OR MIND OVER MATTER ?

They actually didn't need the machines...but they soon preferred to keep their powers a secret & used the secondary energy conversion units to keep their subjects placated. After their powers were taken, the exiles were allowed just enough power to perpetuate their control of the planet but never the full useage of the power they once held.

WHAT CAUSES THE STRANGE EVENTS IN THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE ?

Some of the dissapearences are caused by the inversion capabilities of the so called 'Star Fire' crystals of legend. In an area long under the Bermuda Triangle there once existed a portion of ancient Atlantis. This area was the only area on the planet that contained these particular crystals, & they were of an element which acted as a neutral point between the third & fourth dimensions. The most minute amounts of solar rays reaching these crystals still allow them to de-materialize matter.

WHERE DID THE MONSTERS OF LEGEND COME FROM ?

Many references to strange 'composite' creatures refer to creations made shortly after the exiles were placed on Earth. It amused them to form such creatures by the use of their 'mind'. Using such 1st instance energy change, they could create anything that they desired. A number of exiles used such monsters to terrorize & control the earth children. As the scientists have pointed out, the great Earth animals who had their food supplies cut off simply adapted to smaller bodies like the lizards, or died out. What is usually not realized is that many of the great Earth animals existed right up to the time of the exiles.

ARE THE LEGENDS CONCERNING ATLANTIS & HER GREAT TECHNOLOGY TRUE ?

Atlantis was the center of this planet's most advanced culture prior to the placement of the exiles here. It was natural then for the exile leaders to quickly gravitate to the positions of authority & power on Atlantis. Because of a natural creative phenomena, Atlantis was the only land mass on Earth that contained crystals of a substance that was the 'hub' or neutral point between dimensions. When solar rays penetrated these crystals they could produce a beam that would de-materialize matter. Many legends about the great mines, kings, & crystals are not only true but understated. Most of the technology was run from crystals of lesser power that could draw from the major 'star fire' crystals, as catalysts.

WHAT KIND OF LANGUAGE WAS USED ON ATLANTIS ?

German was derived from one of the two basic Atlantean languages. There are two basic types of German & a third more complex scientific language. All of these were developed & used under domination leaders. These languages use words that demand...you do this or that-instead of 'will or would you' do something. The coastal or southern German race carry over a great deal of the Atlantean genetic patterns. To some degree this makes them tend toward being disciplinarians & very logical. During world war II the non logical spontaneous action of our fighting forces baffled them...and helped the U.S win the war.

ARE THE LEGENDS CONCERNING AGARTHI & SHAMBALA FACTUAL ?

'Agharta' was the name of an underground city in Tibet at the time of the later Atlantean period. It became a stronghold & center for many of the high level 'exiles' of domination allegiance. The Communists located only a few of the archives of this center when they recently took Tibet.

Shamballah was a city on an island in what is now the Gobi desert. It once served as a center for high exile leaders & a base to carry on racial experimentation. The 'cycloptic' robots were created here using the advanced technology that then existed...& which of course is rapidly being re-found. The cycloptic creations were created & used for controlling & upgrading the animal man or 'nome' species. These creations had a double set of jaws {scientists located one such example in the 60's} & of course had only a single eye. By forcing wars & conflicts upon the 'nomes', it helped to upgrade the racial stock of such 'Earth Children'. {note..In the book "Morning Of The Magicians" Pauwels-Bergier-Avon-68, there is further data on how the Nazi German leaders gave allegiance to concepts stemming from such early domination philosophy.}

PARADISE ON EARTH

© 1981 Fry's, 22511 Markham, Perris, CA 92370

BEFORE THE CONSCIOUSNESS OF TIME AS IT IS KNOWN TODAY, EARTH WAS A GARDEN PARADISE WITH ...

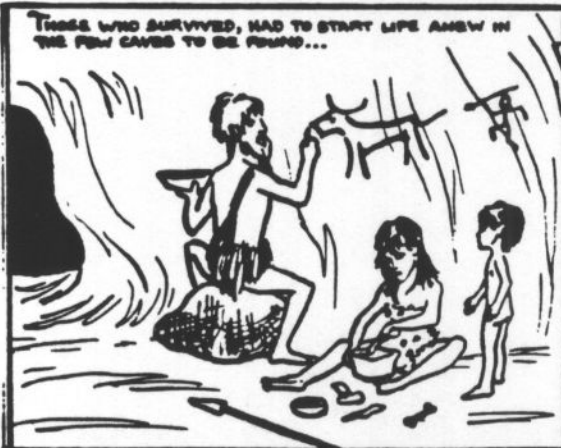

AND, MAGNIFICENT CITIES BUILT BY THE FOREFATHERS OF HUMANS ...

SUDDENLY, UNUSUAL EVENTS TOOK PLACE THAT ALTERED THE WHOLE LIFE SUPPORT PATTERNS OF EARTH. THE GIANT SPECIES OF ANIMALS AND HOMO-SAPIENS BEGAN TO DIE OFF, AND THE FIRST OF THE GREAT FLOODS WIPED OUT THE GREAT CITIES OF MANKIND ...

THOSE WHO SURVIVED, HAD TO START LIFE ANEW IN THE FEW CAVES TO BE FOUND ...

A NEW SPECIES OF HOMO-SAPIENS EMERGED IN ISOLATED AREAS OF EARTH. THEY WERE MORE INDEPENDENT AND DID NOT FIT INTO THE USUAL TRIBAL LIFE OF THE ABORIGINALS ...

IN SACRED TEXTS IT IS TOLD THAT A NON-MATERIAL COMPONENT OF THE GODS BECAME ENTRAPPED WITH THE PHYSICAL BODIES OF THE HOMES OR MEN. IN THE HEBREW WRITINGS WHICH THE CHRISTIANS VALUE, IT IS TOLD THAT MAN ATE "THE FRUIT OF KNOWLEDGE" AND WAS BANISHED FROM PARADISE CONDITIONS ...

- CONTINUED ON PAGE 19 -

How can I gain knowledge & reach my own comprehension level? To KNOW anything, you must be able to APPLY your intelligence IN THE PHYSICAL. This is why we must truly EXPERIENCE all phases of living to truly KNOW each. Thought is USELESS until it is APPLIED in physical ACTS. In the average human, only about 1/10,000 of 1% of all their thoughts are acted upon. Knowing OF something is just INFORMATION. That information will not become KNOWLEDGE unless it is ACTED UPON. There are many different levels of knowledge, but each knowledge is complete within itself. An animal, for example, has an "egg knowledge". Everything that it needs to know is contained within its egg AT BIRTH. Animals know all that they need to know to survive & be happy... their knowledge is complete (for them). They are content with their knowledge level, so they do not seek out any other knowledge level. They simply do not NEED it! We humans, on the other hand, are in a Mutable state of Imperfection. Our egg-knowledge has been broken for 11,000 years, and we have access to many different knowledge levels due to our Mind factors. One person may have a little more knowledge on one level than another person does, but you cannot RECOGNIZE another knowledge UNLESS you also have knowledge on the same level. Animals have ONE knowledge level, so they cannot recognize any other knowledge but their own. Comprehension is the act of AWAKENING parts of ones own knowledge that one was previously UN-awakened to. To comprehend means to RECOGNIZE i.e. to know or be aware that something perceived has been perceived before. There are many different knowledge/comprehension levels, and it does little good to communicate on a different level than your acquaintances are at. You can try to explain it to them until you're blue in the face... but if Your comprehension level is NOT one of theirs, they cannot recognize it. At present, the general populace only comprehend .7% of their total knowledge i.e. they have only awakened to .7% of their own knowledge. However, intelligence is "catching" & when caught, it squares upon itself... as witnessed by the fact that our knowledge doubles itself every 15 years or so, and this rate is now increasing at such a pace that many school books are outdated by the time they get published! Intelligence progresses thru conflict, and without Domination there would BE no conflict. Therefore, Domination is a necessary "evil", for intelligence cannot progress without it! GOOD & EVIL were founded so that man would be constantly torn between choices, and in this conflict, their writings would have to live forever. Without conflict, interest dies. When interest dies, man becomes a pointless wanderer. But given a reason, either pro or con, to make his life gainful, man will seek to prove his point, thereby building knowledge instead of letting it die. Without the Duality of the Domination & the Free, we could not recognize self i.e. we would not KNOW that we ARE. We would just be existing unknowingly, as many "mindless" persons in mental hospitals do. Doing as others do is nonsense... imitating Christ (or anyone else) doesn't make one Christ. Learning to howl like a dog does NOT make you a dog. The only thing that you can do is to try to USE the knowledge Christ used thru COMPREHENSION & ACTION. Imitation WITHOUT comprehension is useless... except for robots. Read books not to attempt to gain knowledge OF someone elses knowledges, but instead, read books to assist you in awakening YOUR OWN knowledges. Books CAN offer KEYS for you to unlock your own knowledges, but no one can unlock your knowledges FOR you. You can only Comprehend for YOURSELF. When you have succeeded in unlocking your own knowledges, then you BECOME YOUR-SELF. Then, it can be said that you are truly FREE.

Is there an easy way to eliminate blocks in one's perception? Everything here starts with DENIAL. We really know all that there is to know, but we usually fail to get the data that applies to our particular Time, Place, & Situation. Every human "screens" their outer environment with their Value Grid, which enables each person to see, hear, or sense their OWN reality. If something is not INWARDLY considered to be of value, in ones outer environment, then one will not be CONSCIOUS of that thing. However, EVERYTHING that passes through our sensing grids IS stored in our INNER data banks, whether WE found it to be of value or not! We only RECOGNIZE or COMPREHEND things that are of VALUE to US, UNLESS a highly proficient teacher is able to use roundabout methods of acceptance activation. At a very early age, most persons Value Sensors pick up the fact that the world is based upon SURVIVAL, and that MONEY seems to be necessary to obtain these survival necessities of food, clothing, & shelter. So, the search for MCNEY becomes the PRIORITY to most persons Value Grid perceptors. This sets up BLOCKS in ones perception, and this action seems so "natural" that most persons never "see" things OUTSIDE of this MATERIALISTIC approach... UNLESS they are literally FORCED to by outer circumstances and/or problems. The so-called Subconscious will give us answers & energy to solve our problems, but only when it is TRULY necessary under Time, Place, & Situation factors. Examples of this sort of action include people who can suddenly lift automobiles off of trapped companions, and people who recieve "hunches" that result in 'chance' meetings with lost loved ones... and sometimes even save your life! Prayer is often a good technique for letting down one's blocks in perception, because when we pray, we pray to OURSELVES. Most persons can't accept the concept that WE know ALL that we NEED to know, and that all we have to do is to ASK OURSELVES, to get the answers we need. So for them, Prayer is a "safe" or "acceptable" concept... and since one prays to oneself IN ANY CASE, the RESULTS will follow.

Is rote memorization necessary for learning? Rote memorization of Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic (the 3 R's) is essential from age 6 to 12... UNTIL a more appropriate Free system comes to this planet. Teaching "authorities" don't really understand how children comprehend. The fact of the matter is that they won't comprehend until they're READY. Then, their eyes will light up & the recognition is obvious. Until such understanding comes to students, rote memorization is the finest foundation one can have. Many persons recognize this later in life & bless the teacher whom they held in such low esteem at the time. Reading, for example, is very complicated. The understanding of the word formations may be delayed by rote memorization, but it can eventually come to approximately 94% of all students. The remaining 6% will never read, unless their malfunction can be overcome at a later period in life. Memory IS NOT learning. APPLICATION OF DATA is LEARNING.

I have difficulty remembering vital metaphysical data. Why is this? Because the P-mind is interested in retaining as much control of the body as it can, it tends to block the memory of data that could in any way prove to be detrimental to its control. Persons who suffer from such problems often have B-minds that have been beaten down (by their P-mind) to a bare act-react condition, so... it often takes time & effort in regaining a normal memory. Searchers for truth are often the most abused victims of the P-mind component. All persons have photgraphic memory, but each person must find their OWN actuator or trigger to bring this memory forth. Some persons require a CHOICE activator, while others may require a FORCE activator.

PLEASE CLARIFY HOW CHOICES & KNOWLEDGES RELATE TO PERSONS OF DIFFERENT BACKGROUNDS.

Much of what you have previously asked about may not be meaningful to 'Earth Children' or persons with an origin from this planet. The majority of such persons have access to their knowledge through what we will call the 'spirit'. Just as millions of aliens, with an origin other than Earth, can tap into their flowline knowledge through their mind or 'entity', so too, this spirit can serve the same purpose. At this time there is a confusion of many knowledges on the planet. There were to be a number of 'teachers' to shed light on the many facets of all this. Unfortunately, most of them are still absent from realizing their missions. Eventually there will be persons with high knowledges concerning life forms, plants, animals & data on spirit.

Because the alien intelligence of the exiles has been genetically passed to all persons of Earth origin now, there will hopefully be a number who will choose to accept the higher knowledges and gain the life everlasting spoken of by one Jesus Christ. There can sometimes be minor complications to such a simple picture but this should have little bearing on the basic choices. A person of 'exile' background for instance, may choose to follow the Free principle... & yet have a higher self or entity who doesn't want the same choice. Earth children with only a Soul are free of such complications.

When I travel into the "Veils" of a knowledge level, how can I differentiate between the "fires" of counter-intelligence & those of intelligence? Simply ask for the "light BEHIND the light".

What is this "egg knowledge" you constantly refer to? When the total knowledge of a species is in the EGG, that is called egg knowledge. Born upon earth, such animals ask no questions and are oblivious to things beyond their species pattern which don't affect their pleasure or survival patterns.

Must intelligence be transferred by breeding? Not necessarily! One can also "catch" intelligence from an encounter with an intelligent person! The unintelligent persons' cellular "intelligence chambers" might exist, but they could be empty. When the unintelligent person "catches" the intelligence from the intelligent person, these "Intelligence Chambers" suddenly fill... and the person "wakes up"! To the recipient, this constitutes a "born again" experience.

Are primitive people more open-minded to new ideas? Not really. Aborigine tribes, for example, will often kill persons who try to introduce new knowledges to their tribe. Animal-men have an inward drive to protect their egg-knowledge, and when their B & P-minds are weak & virtually unused... their A-mind drives win out. We "civilized" humans are far more open-minded.

Did most of these Indians have any knowledge of the TRUE nature of Man? Most Indians recognized the "Soul-nature" of man, but only 3 Major tribes had any clear knowledge of the Mentals... through their instruction by the Exiles.

WHAT MAKES A GENIUS ?

Many of the child prodigys & geniuses are given their specific higher knowledges for domination goals. A musician, for instance, may use his music to limit & restrict the listener with base or hypnotic style... instead of uplifting or freeing. Children of Free backgrounds are seldom ever aided in getting ahead with their talents. They are usually discouraged in every way & this can include blocking certain energy receivers & lines to their higher knowledge. Many have their environment tampered with & changed at a very early age. Higher level domination identities can do this manipulation through their own aware or unwitting pawns. Conversely, a child of high level domination background can be born in absolute squalor & ignorance, & by using his carried over knowledge under domination principles, can still often be a millionaire at a very early age. 'Genious' can be a number of things, or a number of levels, to a number of different people.

WHAT IS KNOWLEDGE ?

You might say it is a complete sphere of 'knowing'. Animals for instance, each have their own knowledge & it is completely from another species. A dog simply cannot duplicate the knowledge of a cat. In the case of man, there is a great deal of confusion because he has access to many knowledges.

Technically, or from a view of higher level beings, there are now nine basic knowledges --- on the planet. While the majority of persons are at levels from numbers 5 to 6. If progress can continue the 7th levels can soon be accepted. All levels above the 7th level carry the use of 'mind over matter' abilities with them.

WHY DO SO FEW PEOPLE EVER BREAK INTO THEIR HIGHER KNOWLEDGES & 'AWARENESS' ?

Very few persons ever trouble to really ask for knowledge. At 1st you can ask for knowledge in the field you are interested in. If you have problems simply ask for the solution to such problems...within your own brain. Know that the solution, or answer, will come sooner or later...& keep asking if necessary. Many persons will only ask for things in an emergency, or they often fail to realize they have received the answer when it comes. With practice, many persons are able to do astounding things. Typical, is the ability to place ones hands over an object and 'know' about or what is in the object. DESIRE & ACTION bring the desired results. Few persons ask & act.

IN COMMUNICATION, HOW DOES ONE RECOGNIZE MENTAL INFLOW OR KNOWLEDGE ?

Brain wave communication is picked up in sequence, A piece at a time, until the idea has 'come across'. Mind, on the other hand, differs in that the whole idea or thought knowledge comes in completeness instantly... with no time lag. Each person may receive data in a slightly different way. Some persons may see mental pictures, some just 'know', & a few ask their intellect & 'entity' to use an inner voice. I might point out that all answers of importance should be challenged as to origin...& that a favored way of domination expression is the use of symbols. Symbols are, all too often, 'booby traps' that allow the originator to shirk any responsibility for the communication.

DO OTHER PLANETS HAVE A NUMBER OF KNOWLEDGES ?

No. Planet Earth is unique in this respect. As I pointed out, there were exiles of many knowledges & backgrounds put here. By such actions, a number of very unique circumstances came into being. Technically, the leaders of the so-called 'war in heaven' or 'rebellion' were of a number 9 knowledge level. Their original intention was to step into the trinity levels of the 10th 11th & 12th levels. THIS brought about the 'fall' so often spoken of.

HOW CAN I GAIN ANOTHER KNOWLEDGE ?

By application of those new knowledges you get ~ after you ask for and get them. If you do not apply the new knowledges you receive, they usually tend to slip away.

HOW DO I PROVE THAT A KNOWLEDGE OR TRUTH IS TRUE ?

There are many knowledges or ways of reaching a solution. If you know your way is right, then it is right until it's proven wrong...& even though it may conflict with another's way. Truth & knowledge can be different for each individual, and until the actual proof of error is forthcoming, assume that you are right. Only the domination & their systems will assume a person is wrong until proven right. Persons who remain FREE do not accept this tenet. The domination rule by fear & don't want persons to 'know'..or defend themselves. Their dogmas say: 'do it'. They often need your money, allegiance, or work. If working under the guise of doing the 'lord's work' they cannot tolerate persons who would ask "if the lord needs that done, why doesn't he provide".

HOW DO I GO ABOUT GAINING A KNOWLEDGE SAFELY ?

Ask yourself if the knowledge you want would destroy you. If the answer you get mentally is 'no' go ahead & ask for the knowledge. Fear is often a block to this, but you should remember that fear is a check to the physical only & is a warning for your self preservation & survival. Not being bound to the brain & it's natural fear, you have the right to ask that it step aside temporarily & let your mind re-gain it's 'knowingness'. Knowledge does carry a great deal of responsibility & it is best to tread carefully until you gain a sufficient knowledge of protection. {covered in other MH Pub's. }

WHAT KEEPS ME FROM COMPREHENDING MANY PRINCIPLES & CONCEPTS.?

There are many comprehension levels and misunderstanding can easily come when the communication is above your particular level. One can enjoy communication on any levels that are mutually comprehensible. Sometimes, of course, this requires that we put our information or thoughts in a simpler form. Under Free law, both free & domination principles are contained in all the great religious texts or 'Bibles' of the world. Most persons choose to reject all of the great teaching which require responsibility & self choice and action. They choose instead the parts which order them to do something under threat. Comprehension does not come with such blind obedience.

HOW DO KNOWLEDGES COMPARE WITH EACH OTHER ?

Animals have an 'egg' knowledge & only know of their place within that or one knowledge. Humans too often think that they know how an animal thinks or feels & this can be mis-leading. What might be pain for us may not be pain to an insect or an animal. Each animal knowledge is different, and one animal cannot act, think, or feel on the level of another animal of another species.

Because of the exile here of knowledges from all over the universe there is much confusion on this subject for humans. Generally speaking, if you are content with a certain system or knowledge, it is a part of your greater overall knowledge level. If on the other hand, there is confusion, frustration, & lack of recognition or focus, then this is probably an alien knowledge to you. This won't mean that yours is a higher or lower knowledge as such...just different on a horizontal, different level.

One of the goals of the domination system is to keep many of the knowledges from interlinking. Such correlation of knowledge would help free man. Like a chain, each knowledge link should lead to another...if the links are not removed.

WHAT REALLY IS THAT YOU CALL INTELLIGENCE ?

Intelligence is technically a wavelength...just like the bands of radio television, or sunlight. If your brain can adjust to this wavelength you will be able to function on a much higher level than if you function on the brain 'computer' alone. If you will ask for such intelligence truthfully & unafraid, your brain can go into a state of acceptance. If your brain rejects intelligence...you won't be able to use it. To retain intelligence without disaster, you must learn a degree of control...eventually never asking of another, what you yourself would not receive...or free ethics.

Since supreme intelligence must by necessity, be free in all it's limits, the other end of the wavelength on this planet is 'reflection' or counter intelligence. The average person is now bound to this end of the wavelength by environmental patterns of the domination. Which end one stays on is determined of course, by self choice.

What brings awareness? We are only un-aware that WE ARE ALL THAT IS. In dealing with our surroundings, we only awaken to more subjects. More COMPREHENSION opens up greater awareness. (see Comps. 1-4)

How can I tap into the "Flowline", or my higher selves? First, you must have a clear GOAL related to self-knowledge. Then, go to a quiet place, relax, and set an alarm clock for 15 to 20 minutes. Go into the "forest of Mind" by putting everything out of your mind, and negate the physical "Fear Barrier" by affirming that you won't fear anything that comes. Fear is a "check" in the physical ONLY, and does not apply in the realm of Mind. Relax & don't think or care. Let the fancies, no matter how preposterous, come into your consciousness. Don't fight anything that comes... you will have plenty of time LATER to be skeptical. It is important to set the alarm for 15 to 20 minutes, because if you stay too long you may go too far out & you may then not want to return to this physical state of imperfection. When you have proven that you fear not & you live up to your word, you will be well on the way to thought control.

How can I achieve a Serenity dwell? The only way I know that one can achieve a Serenity dwell is to KNOW YOURSELF. To truly come to know your OWN FEELINGS, you must spend some time ALONE... without social life, etc. Once you come to know YOUR OWN LIKES & DISLIKES, then you will be well on the way to knowing yourself. Then, achieving a Serenity dwell is easy!

Why do I often feel drowsy after a period of mental activity? The Brain often becomes tired! Science was not aware of this until 1974.

What do you mean by the term "illusion"? Your eyes & ears automatically screen out things that are not of value to you. Science has actually found the screening grid for the ears, and they will probably soon find the grid for the eyes. Humans ignore about 90% of what goes through their Value Grids. We will only look at or hear what is important to us at the time. To observe more would soon drive us to distraction. If you are functioning in one mind dwell (P-mind, for example), you often cannot comprehend a principle based on the intelligence of another Mind dwell (say B-mind, for example). Comp. Course students may not comprehend UNLESS a teacher presents the concepts to them in another more compatible way.

Why are most psychics dependant upon various "guides" instead of their OWN higher selves? For many justifiable reasons, most persons don't want to be responsible for unusual ideas that reach beyond the "accepted norm". Psychics require "spirits" to lay any upcoming blame upon.

What brings about the Kundalini "bliss" state reported by reclusive yogis and mystics? When B-mind and A-mind work in cooperation, the sexual ecstasy pattern can be repeated continually without a partner. A-mind is all too happy to continue giving energy for such enjoyment, regardless of the lack of anything CONSTRUCTIVE ever occurring in such a state.

Can I reach the state of "Nirvana" or "Bliss" like certain yogis do WITHOUT going through years of training? The potential for going into the Serenity dwell is open to all & easily attainable. However.... persons who have a broad knowledge of functioning in ALL of the Hu-man dwells find that remaining in the Serenity dwell on a continual basis wastes their potential talents & serves humanity in no useful way. The world is in need of persons of ABILITY, SELF-CONTROL, and ACTION..... not persons escaping into non-action.

Not if one takes normal precautions. It is advisable to ask for your knowledge only to the degree that your brain can safely handle it. Increased mind 'flowline energys' create a great deal more electricity in the brain than normal. Unless the brain circuits are opened & prepared slowly, there could be some damage. Usually such awareness comes gradually & safely anyway. Sometimes when the flowline energies are very powerfull, it can bring on a chemical reaction which would cause a touch of arthritis. For this reason there are those beings of high knowledge in the physical, who create little chemical storage pockets under their skin..to protect the joints.

Sometimes when a person begins to break into 'awareness', there is a sharp flashing effect in their 'mind'. This is merely the mind increasing the voltage to the brain so that it can handle the greater knowledge energys. New circuits are opened up to carry more than the normal two watts of current.

It is usual for the domination faction to send representatives to be on hand when persons begin to gain a good measure of awareness. They often will try to gain favor & allegiance by a number of means. Bargains for power and wealth are common...very much in the spirit of "The Devil & Daniel Webster".

IS IT NECESSARY TO REPEATEDLY PRACTICE ANY SORT OF EXERCISES TO START THE "FLOWLINE" TO ONES MIND ?

Because there is no set circumstances or background, there can be no set procedures for 'awakening'. It can be dangerous to continue certain set exercises or procedures too long. The brain is likely to rebel, and begin a 'boil off' or reversal of directions. It is usually best to set a goal and work toward the goal, giving the brain plenty of time for what may appear to be 'frivolity'. If the goal is a working union between the brain & the mind, then periodic sessions at answering ones own questions in writing can be of great benefit. An effective question to ask yourself could be: "What are the problems...& how do I overcome these problems".

Probably the greatest block to knowledge is fear. The fear syndrome is most usefull to the domination in causing chaos & perpetuating ignorance. Remember your brain waves are on a much lower or dense level than you mind energys. Hate & other baser energys are only harmful if your brain receives them. Your discrimination then, is essential.

HOW DOES ONE CHECK OUT THE DATA ONE RECEIVES FROM 'FLOWLINE' ETC ?

If you ask your 'self' for an answer and get a 'yes' to your question, 'mentally' ask that you receive verification of this answer. Some prefer to mentally ask whether the answer is of 'Free' or is of domination & a deliberate false or 'tamper' answer. If they get an inner 'yes' to their question, "is this domination data", then they ask the original question all over again to eventually get the true answer. For other persons a simple mental thought as to the authenticity of an answer is sufficient to bring on an inner 'knowing' of the truth. This of course, sounds like a lot of bother, but persons of Free status find that there is a continual flow of 'tamper' directed at them & once they have worked out their own style of verification, the simple procedures become second nature to them.

If one will ask to be warned of untruth or accidents and such it is usually only necessary to put the thought out and learn to discern the warning when it comes. Such a warning may be a clear awareness, or may only be a funny feeling that is of the same pattern you always get in 'tamper'. An uneasiness in the middle of an enjoyable event may be to you a true portend of a so called domination booby trap. The trick again, is simply to ask and then act on the data you get...practice makes perfect.

CAN WE EXPECT TO GET ANSWERS TO OUR QUESTIONS IF WE ASK, AS JESUS TAUGHT

Yes. If a person truly wants an answer, & is reasonably patient, the answer will come. It may come from a very insignificant or unexpected source, but it will come. If, on the other hand, you 'inwardly' don't really want the answer, no amount of words to the contrary will help. If you or your brain could not safely handle an answer you would get, you would also fail to get the results you outwardly ask for.

ARE MANY PERSONS OF FREE STATUS USING THEIR HIGHER KNOWLEDGES ?

Certainly. There are only a small percentage however, who could be called FREE... & aware of their status. The vast majority of persons who are not deeply tied to the domination patterns, are to a large degree ignorant of their positions. High level free persons could use their powers to alter matter & gain many possessions, but this would be unfair to the vast majority who did not have such an ability. It is for this reason that persons of high level free status restrain themselves in their use of power. It is simply against ethical free law.... again by self regulating free choice.

Acceptance of any knowledge is an essential move for the more primitive or ignorant to gain intelligence. As we regain many of the higher levels of technology, a certain amount of exposure to intelligence is bound to take place. Even in the most remote areas of the world.

Why do most people have poor memories? Most people can only recall those things that are NEEDED for their survival, according to the proper time, place, & situation. While the memory-banks store away ALL of the sensory data one receives, the RECALL ability varies... and this is what determines the INTELLIGENCE base i.e. the more recall one has, the more "intelligent" one is assumed to be. You could say that we are all HYPNOTIZED from the moment you are conceived, and it is often very difficult to get UN-hypnotized from our "normal" patterns which take the pleasures of life away & block our photographic-memory abilities. We tend to equate everything with ARTIFICIAL worth. Clock-conscious persons will tend to take actions, whether the body is ready or not. Why should the body (A-mind) give the other Minds energy for recall, when these other Minds (B & P-mind) tend to only FURTHER restrict its (A-mind's) fun & pleasures when it DOES give greater abilities??

Why do recent Memory-Training techniques include stop & start words plus the use of odd physical-pressure exercises? These techniques are merely outward assurances to A-mind that it is still in control. A-mind doesn't really care what the other 2 Minds do as long as A-mind does not lose its control of its areas of function. When the P-mind takes control & threatens the animal's pleasures, A-mind knows that this could be fatal to the body. Many persons with poor memories have repeatedly threatened A-mind's pleasure and gave no reward for A-mind's production of recall energy. To gain a "photographic" memory requires only that you reward your A-mind for supplying the energy you need to retrieve the memories you seek.

How do I get things done? Power is nothing until it meets resistance. To get things done requires a starting action. No action = no resistance. The only way to KNOW is to put ideas to WORK for you. Fit the furniture to the room, NOT the room to the furniture. Thoughts are of little value until put to USE.

What kind of data does P-mind encourage you to know? C-mind is only interested in you seeking knowledge about P-mind function, through priority doctrine & data. P-mind does not acknowledge the B & A-minds as being valid... in fact, it is not aware of any intelligence besides its own. (see Comp. 4 for a full explanation of this)

What causes human dreams? When a humans' non-material Entity has a need for communication with the material body, it must use whatever method it can to get through. Since the majority of persons cannot talk to their Entity directly (some M.H. students can), the Entity uses whatever symbols it feels will make an impression & get the message across. An Entity dream will be symbolic & in sequence. Un-sequential dreams usually are not significant, & they should be forgotten about, for help. One strong symbol will often be used as a key to pinpoint the content of the dream, and... contrary to hundreds of dream symbol dictionaries... there are no set rules or symbol meanings that one can apply to all peoples. Only YOU can truly know the meaning of your own dream symbols. Sometimes, a good "contact" will allow the dream to depict exactly what is needed or what will happen.... WITHOUT the use of symbols. Such DIRECT KNOWING is conspicuously absent from poorer communications which must rely upon symbology.

IN SEEKING THE ANSWERES TO WHY I EXIST & WHERE I AM GOING, WHAT STEPS DO I TAKE? The only true answeres you will find in this world are those from within yourself. To make contact with yourself you must want the answeres and act toward getting them. As you recieve the answeres you s seek, more will come as you use the knowledge you get.

An important step to understanding your present position can be taken in learning the true history of intelligence on Earth...

IS MATERIALISM A BLOCK TO SELF AWARENESS ?

Not particularly. The Eastern philosophys accentuate life after death and the non-material simply because their lives in the material are often so miserable. When an 'Easterner' gets the means to enjoy the physical comforts & pleasures, The self denial philosophys are usually quickly forsaken. Self awareness will come from the desire, action, & acceptance, regardless.

WHAT IS 'TRUTH'?

Truth is that which corresponds with what one knows. Truth can be different for persons of different knowledges. Each being has a different knowledge & will more or less, forget or fail to accept or comprehend knowledges that are alien to their own. Many of the 'exiles' for instance find it hard to accept many so called truths of science, philosophy, religion & so on.

Can the eyes be of value in judging a persons background ?

Certainly, The eyes ARE the 'mirrors of the Soul' It may be difficult to penetrate the mental shields put up by higher level beings but generally speaking you can easily 'feel' the power level of a person through momentary eye contact. The large black or blue eyes of Italians & Germans often carry the intensive power background. The light blue eyes of the Germans or Celts indicates a DNA pattern from Atlantean stock. Those of the unusual green, violet, and even Phosphorescent varieties indicate persons who often carry components of an 'alien' origin. Such persons often volunteer to come here to this dimension to aid in uplifting the planet.

It is typical for most of us to mentally block out the probing of others who look into our eyes. Higher energy persons can send hypnotic power flows to persons who constanly remain open. A visualized 'shield' against this is sufficient but many persons simply avoid eye contact with strangers.

Persons trapped in the domination systems will often have a 'fear' or 'hardness' in their eyes. Persons who have cut off their higher level Mind components through drugs or choice will have an 'animal' look in their eyes.

What is a good method of bringing about self knowledge or 'awareness' ?

A primary step in tapping in to your own knowledges, is allowing your various components to have an equal share in the work and play load.

To gain the higher levels of knowledge and power useage you must learn balance and control. Using your knowledge as a follower of domination principles you will contend with restrictions imposed by higher level domination leaders & shortcomings. If you choose to act under a free choice motivation your concerns will center around ethical use of your knowledge ..under your own self control.

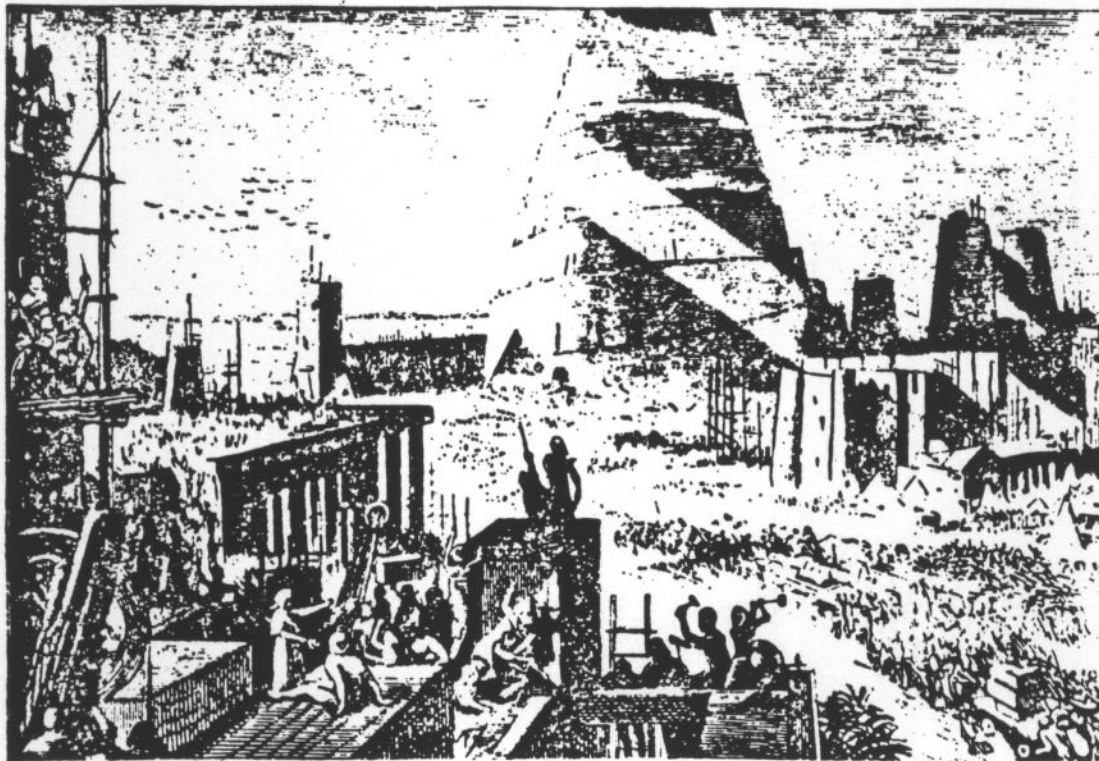

WHY IS THE BRAIN SO RELUCTANT TO ALLOW THE MIND TO HELP INFLUENCE US ?

Thousands of years of being tortured, abused, & miserable from a confused & vacillating intellect has taught the brain that such an intellect just can't be trusted. Believing in 'messias' & what has passed for spiritual things on Earth has all too often led to a life of deprivation and even martyrdom. This is just not in the interest of body survival. The brain then, has learned to reject most alien or unknown factors which might be a threat to the body's well being. The mind & intellect are factors which the brain cannot reliably compute from material data. Being the computer of the body, it blocks out such potentially harmful influences.

It often takes a great deal of effort to affect a working agreement between the brain & the mind, 'Talking to ones self' & making working arrangements through continued communication is usually necessary. The brain has the right to free choice & rejection of course, & this will require that a good case be made for allowing more 'flowline'. Continually ask yourself 'do I want this or not'. If your intellect doesn't, question the brain's actions or reactions, and have another little understanding talk...

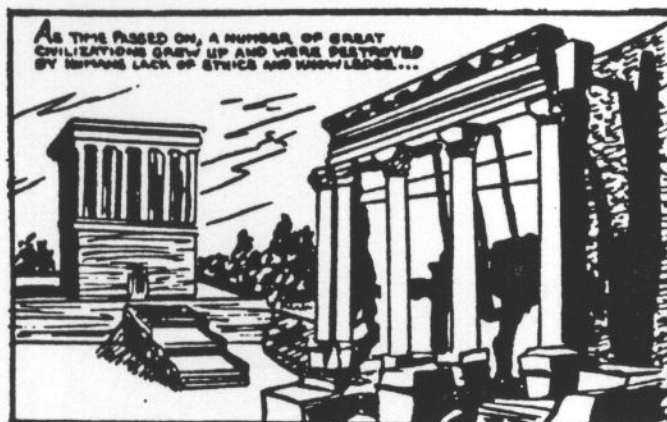

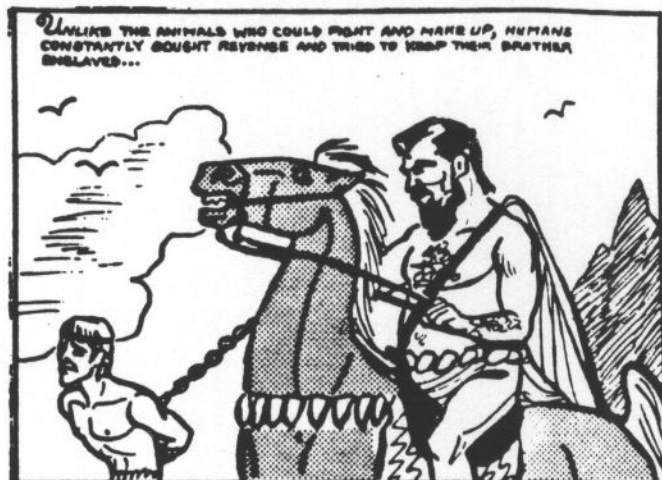

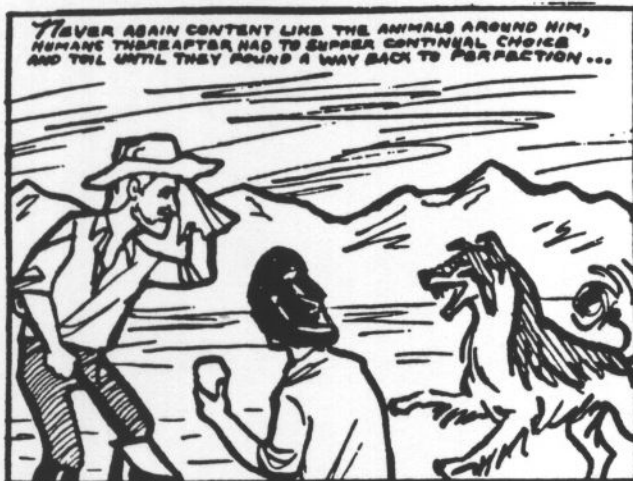

Where are the majority of men now in regard to 'awareness'?

The animal part of man is the brain, and it acts on an emotional level. The mind or real identity of man uses intellect. At this time ('73) around 70% of the population is at an Animal base level.

THE TOWER OF BABEL.

***Chapter C***

What is required to create a miracle? You need to know what type of miracle you want before you will be given the ability to perform it. Actually, miracles are not usually necessary EXCEPT to satisfy P-minds' artificial "needs". The Creator already put everything here for every being on this planet to live in paradise. It is only when others DENY the masses the bounty that is already here that problems arise & we begin to wish for "miracles".

What field of energy is needed to work miracles? As a human, your Survival field provides all the energy you need to perform in this dimension. By locking all of your attention onto ONE focal point, great music or art can come from B-mind... or, levitation & "super strength" abilities can come from A-mind Concentration. With "Affection dwell" concentration, humans can walk right up to wild animals... just as the Indians did. Spiritualists must stay tranquil while they concentrate, or they lose their abilities.

Is it possible to produce food Mentally? The various life forms (like plants, etc.) around us frequently can produce food by & for themselves. Photosynthesis is an example of such a process. Man has lost the use of this ability, because he would be dangerous... at present... if he had this power. Animals are in an "automated" act-react Perfection state where they cannot misuse such power. Man, on the other hand, is in an IMPERFECT state. Man can either CHOOSE to learn enough self-control to use such abilities wisely, or his CHOICE of NON-action will cause him to go back into an automated-perfection state... minus his Mind components & ability to choose. A person with SELF-control can use Delta energy to change matter or make food. At the present time, people would find it hard to accept such an "illusion".

There are many primitive tribes who have Shamens (medicine men) who can work so-called miracles. How do they accomplish such feats? Shamens simply request, from their A-minds, a faster energy output... and their body responds by having their intestinal tract churn together at a faster rate, thus producing more electricity. This allows their Survival field or their See energy to extend more powerfully to distant places & work 1st instance energy changes. In our highly technological society, we use MACHINES to perform virtually ALL of our Survival tasks... so we do not really NEED such "miracle working" abilities. However, these abilities CAN come forth, when or if they are needed, as long as they are not used in violation of Free Choice Laws.

When is it possible for a Hu-man to use their mind to overcome or change matter? After developing the neuron capacity for the necessary energy flow through COMPREHENSION, "mind over matter" can be used when it is beneficial to the hu-man. Non-beneficial use is censored by the B-mind.

Is it really possible to use 1st instance energy change (Mind-over-matter) under full control? Certainly! Persons continually use 1st instance energy change in their daily routines... WITHOUT realizing it! We usually only recognize the SPECTACULAR examples, such as moving cars out of the way to avoid potential accidents. Actually, if one can gain total clarity in a total stasis, (a Tranquility dwell) the holes making up matter can actually be seen & aligned so as to be altered to suit the situation. With a little practice, hands can move through walls & bullets can pass through bodies!

How difficult is it to perform a miracle? Miracles are easy, but people do not RECOGNIZE them when performed (by oneself or by others)!!!!

When I have a Vision, how can I tell if it was REAL? The things seen, in such cases, MUST be there to be seen. Therefore, they ARE real. (for more details, see Comp.4)

Why do some Child Prodigies suddenly lose their abilities? There is often an abridgment of such higher-level functioning, if the child reaches a point where there is too much of a brain-current load on their brain neurons. When a child prodigy reaches the 4 thru 6 year old age level, they often experience an ever increasing number of headaches (due to the current overload), and if their blood supply cannot cool off the brain neurons quickly or sufficiently enough, then their brain circuits "blow" & their higher-level abilities are lost. Some youngsters must actually lie down, with their head lower than their heart, to bring a sufficient supply of blood to the brain to cool it off. There are drugs which can be used to increase the blood flow to the brain, but these drugs are rather dangerous. While these drugs DO loosen arterial blockages, they ALSO tend to loosen many particles of matter into the bloodstream (the particles that were blocking the arteries)... and this creates a real danger of blood clots. The fallacy that Cholesterol causes such arterial build ups is finally being repaced, in medical circles, by the correct diagnosis... the real culprit is STRESS.

How do we see things? The eye is merely an energy- change perceptor, and matter is an action of the condensation of ones perception. Knowledge must precede before any object can be seen. (see Comp. 4 for details)

Which of our senses comes thru with the least distortion, our sight or our hearing? The eyes tend to fool most persons to a much greater extent than the ears do. Persons constantly see things that are not there (in MATERIAL form), and persons are prone to block out visual images that are of no interest to the particular Mind that is in control at that moment. Our Minds can add their own "tint" to change the colors our A-mind would normally see, and they can actually "see" things that the A-mind's see-sense would never pick up! Add to this the fact that few persons actually see color the same with their A-mind... and you can see why the faculty of sight is the most highly individualistic sense the human has, and why it is the most misleading of the senses. On the other hand, our sense of hearing seldom fools us. If you are talking with someone & wish to gain a TRUE FEELING about what they are all about, then all you have to do is to turn your eyes away from them and then listen to what they are saying, while you try to "feel" them with your FEEL FIELD. The results will often be the EXACT OPPOSITE of what your eyes told you, but your FEELINGS will NOT lie to you, if they are correctly translated.

What are the keys to Astral Travel? Astral travel requires a state of NO CONFLICT & can even be done in a crowded room, once mastered. The greatest block to this Serenity (no conflict) state is FEAR. Fear will bring one instantly back into the body.

What methods can I use to project my consciousness to distant points? To astrally project to a distant person, CONCENTRATE on getting a clear image of them & what they are doing. With a strong desire to go & see them, you eventually can... with practice. Your Soul can take your consciousness to distant points in a twinkling... unless there are blocks. The person that you are trying to "visit" may be involved with another person at the time, for instance. This causes them to have a strong Privacy Shield around them, and effectively blocks your penetration. Your higher-level Entity has the ability to project instantly to distant points & gain much more thorough information on a given subject. ENTIRE ideas, knowledges, or events can be gained instantly with complete clarity. The Entity also has the ability to guide another's thought processes by gaining the permission to take control of them, as indicated in some possession cases.

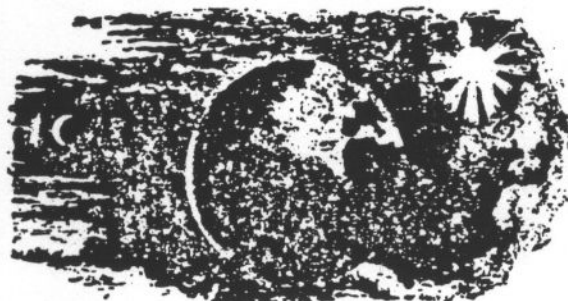

How can we communicate with the beings in various other dimensions?

It is difficult to communicate with other dimensions because Symbolism must be used, and this can cause a certain amount of distortion in such communications. The nature of other dimensions differs from the "natural" (to US) nature of this dimension, and beings from different dimensions can have vast differences in orientation. The only way that we can go to ANY dimension we CHOOSE to go to is to use a Universal Key. Each being has an Aura of Energy that Attracts or Repels. If we are in alignment with & "polarized" to beings in other dimensions, then we can reach them. Other dimensions have other colors & color systems than we have here on Earth. We "see", with our animal eyes, only the colors within the spectrum of our Sun. Other dimensions use different color spectrums, so THEIR colors are different than OURS. We can relate to THEIR colors only thru COMPARISON with our OWN. Since color is simply a manifestation of various types & frequencies of Energy, we can use a Universal Color with a TOTAL Spectrum Value to contact any dimension we choose. AFFECTION is this TOTAL Spectrum Value Universal Key. By thinking beautiful, peaceful thoughts & by not being afraid of the unusual or different, we can get into this Universal-Key dwell. As humans, our Mind may not be afraid of ghosts & other-dimensional Entities..., but the Brain or body part of the human often is terrified by such unknown factors! The A-mind often feels that this "unknown" could be detrimental to the body's survival, so... it puts the body on "alert" with fear & a hair-raising "chilly" feeling. If such fear arises, you (as the Mind) can talk to your animal self. Explain that the ghost (or whatever) is NOT harmful, and that it's simply a soul on the verge of going or coming back from this physical dimension. Explain that you (the Mind part) will not let anything happen to it (your physical body), and that the experience can actually be FUN! For instance, you can rush into the space that the ghost occupies and experience a sudden chill... just for fun! In contacting other-dimensional beings, remember to stay in a friendly, relaxed state while you send out a strong desire or question. If the answer that you receive seems "evil" or "bad", please remember that it is only "bad" according to our LIMITED perspective. There ARE no such differences as "good" or "evil" in these other-dimensional realities beyond this "out of perfection" Earth of ours.

Does "mind reading" work with dogs? Yes, but with a catch! If you end up mentally asking your dog a question like, "How many pups did you have in your last litter?", then you may receive a strange combination of both the dogs' "thoughts" AND his masters' thoughts! Dogs know nothing about numbers, so that part of the answer would come from the dogs' master. The strong bond between the dog and its master leaves them "tuned in" to each other most of the time, but the dog is usually more aware of this than his master is!

Do we get energy from the sun? The average Hu-man puts out 2 watts of power every 24 hours. An equal mass from the Sun only puts out 1 watt. "Who creates what?" is a question you might want to consider.

Is the mind responsible for ESP abilities?

Most ESP comes under a form of telekinesis and is on a strictly brain level.

Standard Oil found groups of pure aborigine in Australia, for instance, who could locate animals and water from up to 10 miles away and who could 'see' underground. The Lumerians were an ancient pre-exile race who could actually move matter by brain waves. The infusion of genetic stock of intelligence and mind causes a decline of these abilities because of domination influences.

It should be made clear at this point that the mind holds potentials far beyond Brain. All knowledges above the 7th level carry the 'mind-over-matter' abilities. The general knowledge level of the majority of persons on this planet is now around the 6 level ('75).

How do I transfer over to and travel in the 'mentals'?

In much the same fashion as you would go into the 'astral' levels, you travel in the 'mentals.' In travelling to the highest astral levels where the domination leaders prefer to remain, one will find very lovely energy fires. In travelling beyond the Earth-bound astral levels, one will pass into the great mental energy fires. This is similar to but of much greater intensity than the astral level fires. As you first begin entrance into what will seem to be a long dark tunnel, fear may come. Recognize or witness this fear and continue until you break through into the glory of these breath-taking 'energy fires.' Your hesitation and first fears will quickly turn into exhilaration as you pass into your knowledge and 'home.' A short period in your knowledge will brief you as to your mission or purpose in life.

Most persons find it difficult to accept coming back to this chaotic world and limited body. This is why it is very important to set an alarm clock for 15 or 20 minutes. Many persons of free origin unknowingly commit themselves to domination goals until they are re-oriented in the 'mentals.' Domination entities will often exaggerate the brain fear involved in the first of these trips. It usually takes repeated attempts and a lot of determination to complete the initial breakthrough. Persons of domination allegiance and origin are unable to enter into the 'mentals' and are restricted to the 'astral' levels or dimensions.

How do I travel in the 'astral' regions?

If you wish to travel as a free identity, first affirm your desire to be free and ask for a 'free' guard to stand beside and protect your body while your mind is elsewhere. On a first trip it is also desirable to have a 'free' guide accompany you to see that you are not misled. If these precautions are not taken, it frequently happens that identities of domination allegiance will represent themselves as beings which you would normally trust and nullify gains you should normally have.

If you are of domination yourself or wish to interdimensionally travel just for fun, this is fine. If you wish to find truth and gain the assistance of persons who have valid knowledge, you will insist on specifying the free allegiance of your guides. Since your body can be attacked if it is not defended-if you are not of domination, it is well to have protection while your body is fairly defenseless. By visualizing detaching yourself from your very relaxed body, repeated practice sessions should eventually bring results. Some persons like to set an alarm clock for an hour or two for the first few trips. Such a precaution insures that one will not lose track of returning. Traveling in the 'mental' dimension is done with the same precautions.

What is power? Power is a cause to act or ACTUATOR. Power remains latent, as POTENTIAL ONLY, until it meets RESISTANCE. Once it meets resistance, power creates FORCE & physical acts. Without resistance, power is NOTHING! "See force" doesn't even see until it meets resistance (see Comp. 1). Actuators can vary from vocalized thoughts to electricity..., yet the principle remains the same. Power is an aspect of intelligence, so animals do not have power. Animals are actuated by their ENVIRONMENT in pure act-react perfection. They cannot "push their own buttons". Their environment does the "button pushing" for them! Humans have intelligence & therefore have CHOICE. Humans, therefore, are self-governing & self-actuating... as long as they do not violate Free Choice Laws. When this happens, humans experience what is commonly called KARMA to offset their violation of CHOICE. Action is required to build upon the data one receives in B-mind, P-mind, or Universal-mind visits. Most persons tend to merely TALK ABOUT using the "inspired" data they get. This negates any resistance, and will eventually cut you off from the aid of your "other-dimensional" selves. Why should they aid you if you never ACT upon the data they supply you with????

It has been found that strange Crystals appear in the bloodstream, after Sorcery is mentally practiced, and these Crystals have been traced to the Pituitary gland. What purpose is served by these Crystals? A number of glands, in the body, produce crystalline formations which act in reflecting various energies from the body to distant points... as in the case of the sending of a "spell" to a distant point.

IF MANY PERSONS NOW HAVE THE RIGHT TO CHANGE MATTER WITH THEIR MINDS WHY DON'T THEY USE SUCH POWERS ?

Those of domination & under the influence of the domination are restricted in such usage. Those of the FREE will not use such power if it in any way affects other persons. This would in effect, give them unfair advantage & violate the self imposed 'free law'. Many persons on both sides of course use somewhat lesser mind powers. In simpler cases such persons alter things more slowly or go without sleeping, eating etc. Such useage might come only in an emergency...like when another person is trapped in a burning auto.

HOW MUCH POWER CAN WE LAWFULLY USE ?

Being a part of The All That Is or the 'Father', we may have any degree of power & energy control that we can utilize without dominating or breaking free law. Since only a few persons can lawfully handle such a degree of power & control at present, It is a fervent hope that enough persons can free themselves to soon alter this situation.

ARE THE FORCES OF THE 'FATHER' OR THE 'FREE' ALLOWED FULL POWER USAGE?

Technically yes. Such useage however would be extremely dangerous to use & the high level free realize this. Such use would identify you as an alien life form to be feared & eliminated...on all levels of recognition

Can mind power truly ensure success?

I suppose that depends upon what you call success. You can do anything you continue to set your mind to. If you will ignore the obstacles and continue working toward a specific goal, success will come. Only time is the variable.

In a case where you feel success is regaining your 'lost' knowledge, then there must be some sort of working arrangement made between the brain and minds. If, for instance, you can get the brain to step aside so that your mind can give you 'awareness', then, later, you can allow the brain to enjoy food, sex, or other pleasures, free of the more serious 'mind.' Rest assured in any event that there are no limitations to the mind potentials at hand.

Can we travel Astrally to other Planets? Certainly. Your Soul can travel to a distant planet in an INSTANT, by using the "force rings" or "matrix lines" that connect each planet to the other. Advanced spacecraft can "slip through" the Earth INTERDIMENSIONALLY, when travelling to other distant planets. It is well to remember, at this point, that there are BILLIONS of dimensions, and that the Mind of Man is not IN this physical dimension... it only MANIFESTS in this dimension.

Is there a simple explanation of how matter & the universe function?

Einstein, when asked questions in this regard, would simply put down two circles touching. This "8" is a very profound symbolic form. If you follow the lines of the "8", for instance, you can duplicate the action of the Mobius strip or a two-dimensional form. The ancient symbol of two rings touching included the upper ring representing the Creator's energy binding & energizing matter. All the universe is made up of circles or holes. How they overlap or touch determines matter, etc. How they are bound in matter is shown by crystalline forms. All material things have these crystalline patterns....., from blood, to planets, to the universe. This data is simplified in M.H. Comp. 4, and... once the complete concept is recognized.. most of the confusion of the scientists should fade in this area. They will know how the rings of tiny particles function, etc.

What happens when persons burn up in the so-called Blue Flame? The human body has all of the ingredients of an electrical dynamo. When we require more movement or mental usage, our body merely steps up the intestinal generative action... and we get the additional electrical energy we need. Persons who have a full flow, of this electrical action, are very much "alive" & have a vibrant "glow" about them. Persons who have blocked their flow, through SELF-denial & negativity, often become sick or feel poorly. Persons who have their electrical energy flow SHORT-CIRCUITED burn up in the well-known Blue Flame, much in the same manner as a Tungsten wire, under a heavy load, will vaporize in a white flame. (see Comp. 4 for more details)

***Chapter D***

ONE OF THE HUMAN ANTI-FORTER COMPONENTS HAD A STORED MEMORY OF WHAT IT FELT LIKE TO BE ABUSED AND DOMINATED BY OTHERS. IF THEY INFLICTED SUCH ACTIONS ON OTHERS, THEY HAD TO IGNORE AND TURN AGAINST THEIR INNER KNOWLEDGE OF ETHICS. DURING THE TRAINING OF HUMANS IN SUCH KNOWLEDGE, THEY WERE CAREFULLY MONITORED SO THAT THEY DID NOT BLOW THEMSELVES COMPLETELY UP. THE ANIMALS AROUND THEM WERE ALSO MONITORED FOR GENETIC CONTAMINATION...

IN THE FINAL DAYS OF CHOICE, THE INHABITANTS OF EARTH WERE GIVEN ENOUGH TECHNOLOGY TO MAKE THEIR LONG PROMISED PARADISE A REALITY PHYSICALLY. IT REMAINED, HOWEVER, FOR THEM TO MAKE THE CHOICE OF HOW THEY USED THE TECHNOLOGY...

ALL HUMANS WERE SUBJECTED TO PRESSURES AND TESTS IN REGARD TO THEIR ETHICS, CHOICES AND DESIRES TO CONTINUE WITH THEIR HIGHER LEVEL COMPONENTS...

IN THE FINAL DAYS, THOSE HUMANS WHO REFUSED TO BALANCE THEIR VARIOUS COMPONENTS AND PROGRESS TO A MORE PERFECT SYSTEM WOULD LOSE SOME COMPONENTS. THE FINAL CHOICE WAS AT HAND...

TO MAKE THE CHOICES CLEARER IN THE LAST DAYS, A NUMBER OF GREAT ENTERTAINMENT SPOTS WERE PRODUCED THAT CONTAINED REASONABLY CLEAR CONCEPTS AND FRAGMENTS OF BOTH SIDES OF THE PICTURE. EVEN THE REMOTE AND UNEDUCATED HAD CHOICE OPPORTUNITY...

A CLEAR UNDERSTANDING OF HOW THE VARIOUS HUMAN COMPONENTS FUNCTIONED EVENTUALLY CAME OUT AS THE MODERN HUMAN COMPREHENSION TEXTS...

Frustration in an optimum condition for control. The domination system has built in methods to perpetuate such frustrations. Breaking free of such controls requires a balance of play, relaxation, sex and other enjoyments along with the 'work'. Unfortunately, persons are brainwashed into thinking all these pleasures can only be had through money. The proverbial 'carrot on a stick' is used by the domination to keep persons working on some 'treadmill' so they can someday buy or have enjoyment. Often the fame and fortune are taken away after they are once acquired. Women cry. Men laugh.

Why are factory accidents prone to occur in groups? If a foreman or overseer pushes his workers too hard, the workers' animal bodies will often just "self-destruct" to a degree to eliminate the pressure.

What makes up the subconscious? The subconscious is made up of the Minds one is not using at that particular moment. The subconscious, therefore, is a factor of all 3 Minds. When one Mind is being used, the other two lie dormant.

You say that we are an Emotional field, but I can't see much evidence that humans run on emotional reactions. Explain! We humans are kept from running on emotions as much as possible by the Systems (our Domination systems)..., because only Materialistic DENIAL systems can ensure CONTROL over the general populace. This might be compared to a mechanistic-transportation auto, which can be driven anywhere, & an emotional transportation-horse that will balk at the first fence that is too high to SAFELY jump. Governments & Rulers would have little control over a populace which acted on pure emotion. Present systems are based on Law, Rules, Order, Indoctrination, Set Procedures, Custom, Money, Value Systems, Denial, and Fear. How many persons are you aware of that can really "let their hair down" & emote with their fellow humans... or even their affection-starved mates?? In the physical, Happiness should be one of your primary goals... yet few persons even know what Happiness is! They have DENIED their OWN emotions for so long that they no longer KNOW how to be happy! In your relationships... if there are good, honest emotions & rapport on all levels, then IMAGINED sacrifices & unhappiness can't lead to resentments. Good marriages, fantastic lovemaking, and happy relationships result. Animals, who are FREE of MENTALITY, are therefore free to use their emotions freely. They don't have such problems.....

Is thinking "wrong" thoughts as bad as "wrong" action? Religious creeds have long admonished their followers to stop certain thoughts. This is absolutely ridiculous... like trying to stop the wind. Only the PHYSICAL EXPRESSION of thoughts are harmful, and many times the physical expression would actually lead to JOY..., IF the person's conscience would allow them to express the so-called "sinful" act. In our P-minded society, our animal body's PLEASURES are SINFUL! No wonder people are emotional wrecks! Persons need to be more expressive of their "good" thoughts. If you wish to become acquainted with others, ASK. It is THEIR loss, if they DENY your request. If you constantly deny your own feelings & expressions, then your Priority Mind (P-mind) can destroy you. Occasional rejections will hurt, but... those persons could NOT have made you happy anyway! Just ONE compatible relationship will make all of the minor rejections seem trivial & unimportant.

Do our Minds create emotion? There IS no emotion in your Mind. The Mind USES your Soul's emotional field... if the Soul lets it!

What causes emotions? Emotions ARE. We cannot CREATE them. We can only control their EXPRESSION by taking into account Time, Place, & Situation factors. What is "right" at one time may not be "right" at another.

Can most emotions be faked? Affection is the only emotion which cannot be faked. The human vocal patterns can be faked to a high degree, but affection is FREE & can stop or go at short notice. We FEEL good in the presence of true affection, while we feel EXCITED when confronted with FAKE affection. Pleasure & Excitement FEEL differently, & your FEELINGS cannot lie to you.

What happens, within the body, during Excitement? Excitement is caused by the P-mind's chopping-up of the body Delta wave... through variations of FEAR. Too much excitement can bring about excessive & dangerous energy drains, UNLESS the person has learned to MIX Affection & Excitement together. (see Comps. for more details)

WHY IS THERE SO MUCH PAIN IN LIFE ?

When the intelligence of the 'Exiles' broke open the pure self contained animal man knowledges, the warning emotional fields mixed with the protective emotional field & brought on a great propensity toward constant pain. After this, there was a constant effort on the part of humans, to drag their fellow humans down into various states of pain. As you observe the news, or listen to the sad tales of what are supposed to be your teachers & friends, you can observe that most simply do not want you to be happy. To assume that other animals have the same difficulty or same degree of pain is simply a false assumption.

IS IT GOOD TO BE EMOTIONAL ?

Psychologists are especially prone to categorize or place humans too close to 'inanimate objects'. Actually, everything that we have is the product of some human emotion. Emotions are wonderful as long as they all function under control...or under the intellect.

What is hypnosis, and how does it work? Hypnosis breaks the chains of human inhibitions. There are actually 2 types of hypnotism: the Rhythmic type & the "See Force" type. The Rhythmic type can be induced by music or any repetitive beat... as long as they contain rhythmic beats which relate to the Earth's rhythms (like the heartbeat, etc.). The Rhythmic type is effective on most animals, but CONSTANT RE-STIMULATION is necessary. Birds who relax and go rigid on a tree limb is a good example of Rhythmic hypnosis. The "See Force" type of hypnotic trance is induced when the hypnotist "pushes the buttons on his subjects mind-computer" with energy transmitted to the subject through the EYES. A person with strong "SEE FORCE" energy can transmit hypnotic force from his eyes to the person he wishes to control, UNLESS the receiver is able to block this force with an EQUAL amount of "See Force". The P-mind is usually the force behind this type of hypnosis. Suggestions given during these trances can be totally against the receiver's will & they can last for years. J. Edgar Hoover once disputed this, and had his loyal bodyguard hypnotized. A suggestion was then given to the bodyguard that Hoover must be killed at any cost. A gun with blanks in it was given to the bodyguard (without the bodyguard knowing that the gun was filled with blanks), and he proceeded to pump a cylinder-full of blanks into Hoover... much to his surprise! The human voice can also be used to transmit this hypnotic force. Hitler's high-pitched monotone drove people into a frenzy of excitement, while a low-pitched drone can relax people & put them to sleep.

What makes so many persons unthinking sheep? From a very early age, most people learn that the easiest way to get along with most persons is to NEVER disagree with them! If you stay agreeable, they reason, then you can never hurt another person's feelings by disagreeing with them. After a number of years, it becomes a habit with them to tell others what they THINK the other person wishes to hear..., and soon it becomes very difficult for them to resist the suggestions of others! Such persons can easily be controlled & hypnotized by others UNLESS they can come to REALIZE what they are doing to themselves. Once the person recognizes what they have UNKNOWINGLY been doing to themselves, then they can easily reverse such actions by merely being TRUTHFUL with themselves AND others. You can be hypnotized ONLY if you allow yourself to be. Once you KNOW, then you can CHOOSE.

How can I overcome my problems? Humans are inclined to constantly worry & fuss over numerous problems. They fail to see that they are DESIGNED to OVERCOME OBSTACLES by changing them, going around them, or just plain ignoring them. I can't tell you how to get rid of worry... only obstacles. We are constantly being told that we CAN'T do things that are NATURAL for us. We have been HYPNOTIZED by all of this "can't do" talk. So, to REGAIN our NATURAL function, we need to UN-hypnotize ourselves.

Is it wrong to WANT things? Without the use of discrimination & the granting of their rights to others, the "wants" of a person lead to destruction & sometimes even death! Hitler "wanted" his way, and 60 million persons died. If discession is not used, violence can often erupt. For example: a brash girl who "wants" & demands things that she doesn't deserve can be told by the person she seeks the favor from that he wishes to punch her in the face. And, since SHE demands that HER wishes be acted upon, then HE has that same right!

How can I reach my goals? All goals are reached when alignment is reached and maintained between oneself and the various facets of ones goal, such as your alignment of your emotions with others.

Are "right" behavior patterns usually the easiest? We humans tend to accept what is EASIEST, and NOT what is BEST for us. Habit patterns kill 90% of the people, in our world today. Too much sleep, for instance, quickly debilitates a person... and acting according to the expectations of OTHERS quickly kills our pleasure patterns. Ego is very necessary, but if our pride is so strong that we won't "back off" a little bit, when necessary, the results can be devastating! To free ourselves from such traps, we need to gain a well-rounded measure of SELF-control & discerning awareness.

I recognize several parts of my Self that can be in control of my actions. How many are there in all? Seven. (see Comp. 4 for full details)

Wouldn't I be better off by rejecting my pain-causing P-mind and just staying in B-mind dwell all of the time? P-mind is only "evil" when it sets up conflict by trying to kill off the A-minds' emotions & pleasures. When one learns to keep ones' P-mind under CONTROL & mix it with other dwells, ones' pleasure can be DOUBLED! B-mind, acting alone, accomplishes little. Such persons usually end up sitting on top of some mountain-top with a group of followers who supply the B-minded persons every survival need. Denying ANY of the minds leads to conflict and dis-ease. Balance your minds IN EXPRESSION, and you will be well on the way to health, happiness, and a new-perfection.

What causes suicide? An out-of-control P-mind. If a person is at ALL rational, the old Soul halts such actions.

How do I keep my animal self happy? Do not trick your animal self. Just as a dog chasing meat on the end of a stick will not continue once he has been tricked without a reward, so your animal body will not supply you with effort if you do not reward it with fun, a good steak, etc. Your animal needs decent food, shelter, and pleasure if you expect it to remain happy and to continue working with you. The "price" you pay, however, is not so hard to take... for the Total Goal of the animal is to seek PLEASURE! So, by cracking down and "forcing" yourself to commit pleasurable happiness-producing acts, you will have one happy, healthy, and willing animal body!!

Wouldn't we be better off without a P-mind? If kept under reasonable CONTROL, P-mind can work with and exist with the other Minds in harmony. The mixture of excitement & emotion is great, & eventually some P-minds see the advantage of working WITH the body. Why not flow WITH the current instead of going against it all of the time! P-minds who make this choice to work WITH their animal bodies often get into trouble when they go back in transition to face their "god", Satan. Big Brother (Satan) doesn't appreciate traitors to his cause.

Is P-mind responsible for ALL negativity? P-mind, itself, is not negative at all! It's very, very absolute positive! The fact is, it frowns on anything negative. The negative aspects come in when it frustrates the other 2 Minds. So, the negativeness comes up in US, (and) NOT in P-mind. And, does it cause it? Well sure, in a sense that if it wasn't there it wouldn't be..., but it doesn't cause it on PURPOSE. It's not its INTENT for anyone or anything to be negative! At no time & place does it project or advocate negativity. It is a very positive, very adept technological Mind-energy intelligence. When placed in comparison with our A & B-minds, then this comparison brings forth negativity in us. And in this way, it (P-mind) causes negativity to be. But it... even then... does NOT want it. But, it does not know what to do about it.

Your B-mind does not produce negative effects. It tries to calm the A-mind, but in so doing it furthers the situation & heightens the negativity and the frustration. And it lashes back & straightens P-mind out, and then things quiet down and they're beautiful for awhile. But, this can't go on forever without the animal getting really teed off and saying "to hell with everything!" and setting down and saying, "Let the world go by." And then, you're sick or you're diseased or you're just no good for anything! The animal won't give you the energy, and B-mind & P-mind can plainly go to hell! And, it CAN develop to this situation and this makes your little animal totally negative and all the way to the point of death... and sometimes through death. But, it (P-mind) in itself is NOT negative.

How do I use my Minds to get things done? First, remember that you must deal with and work together with the "animal you". The creatures, trees, & rocks all around you are part of your animal-nature. The second part of you is the Mind component that thrives on technology and rules. The third part of you is the idealistic, beauty oriented mind component that is so seldom used by most persons. The 2nd part of you can step up your animal self-actions to a very high level IF it is done in rhythm with periodic rest periods & other non-priority actions. The Beta waves of such mind action can chop up the smoothly flowing animal Delta wave to pieces if sustained too long. This means that a person can burn out or damage themselves if they aren't carefull. If you get wound up to the extent that you can't rest, relax, or sleep, then you are not in rhythm and are in danger of abusing yourself. Years of such abuse will bring on various dis-eases and breakdowns. For example, if you force yourself up a mountain, you may have a heart attack unless you ENJOY the experience and rest periodically. If you push beyond the norm, you may collapse at the end and require days of recuperation. Your P-mind (technical mind) is usually happy to let the animal part of you enjoy its emotions, as long as it gets to return to technical pursuits later on in the day, etc.

Why is Man in such mental confusion?

Earth people are a composite of several parts.

The Genetic Part carries over the genetics of ancestors.

The Soul is shaped from the sum total of previous lives.

The Environment moulds us from influences and mores of our upbringing and training

The Brain runs us as a basic animal being, running on a very specialized 'egg' knowledge (instinct, etc.).

The Mind. In cases where persons are of alien origin, there is often the strong influence of the anti-matter non-material higher self.

Along with the continual chaos perpetuated by the domination systems on the planet, it is a wonder that people survive as well as they do. Animals, without a mind to block out brain stress, can't bear up under such stress.

How do I gain the cooperation of my animal body? The sole motivation of the animal body is pleasure. If you find it difficult to get started on some project or action, remember how you rewarded your animal body the last time you were involved in a similar project. If you fail to follow through with pleasure upon the completion of your project, the chances are that your animal body will not be inclined to give you effort and energy for a similar "dead end" action. Our whole society is based upon PUNISHMENT rewards instead of PLEASURE rewards. It is little wonder that our bodies break down and rebel so regularly! It is remarkably simple for our Minds to live in harmony with our bodies if we simply remember to reward our animal selves after each mind-motivated set of actions. A little happiness is the only reward needed. If you will look around you at the actions which make other animals happy, you will be on the right track. If you are continuously worrying about tomorrow,...you are killing the animal pleasure you could be having in the NOW, or PRESENT. You can enjoy food, booze, or whatever..., but you will lack energy unless you continue to reward your animal self. The 3 elements to getting things done are Energy, Effort, & Motivation. You become motivated by a desire to act, and you use effort in deciding what to do with your body's energy. When you are required to use lengthy work periods, remember to promise yourself little rest periods along the way & FOLLOW THROUGH by giving yourself these rest periods.

DOES THE MIND PROTECT THE BRAIN ?

Under the stress of modern civilization few persons would hold up any better than the crazed rats in lab. stress experiments...without mental aid. Bad memories & experiences, for instance, are usually forgotten in time due to the mental control over the brain. If man used strictly brain, he would not have recall as we know it.

What happens to the Idealism of youth? It is an unfortunate fact that very few persons can get past about the age of 30 WITHOUT losing most of their dreams, and humanitarian ideas & goals. This can be likened to a funnel in which ones various goals are all channelled & squeezed together to such a degree that they are no longer distinguishable... and soon, they cease to exist. We lose our Idealistic goals in the downhill slide towards conformity & the "easy way out" patterns of the mindless slave. Persons lose their drives for SELF-action & SELF-responsibility to embrace the Siren of Conformity, and they are so bewitched by the Siren's sweet singing that they will blindly follow its influence to their own destruction... for they will listen to no other song, even if their very LIFE hangs in the balance!

What are man's motivating factors? The Hu-man is motivated by 3 major sources: 1) act-react patterns, 2) influence patterns, and 3) self-action.

What drives the average Hu-man today? Our EXPECTATIONS are our total drive. Expect too much... and we are constantly disappointed. Expect too little... and we feel unfulfilled.

Why do we so seldom enjoy our goals when we reach them? Most goals are based upon WANTS (C-mind created desires), and just because we WANT something doesn't mean that we'll LIKE it when we get what we THOUGHT we wanted! You are often more miserable AFTER you achieve your goal than you were BEFORE you achieved it. By the time you reach your goal, your WANTS are now different! The situation has changed & you have changed.

Is there any justification for doing things you don't want to do? Yes! Sometimes, we "must" do un-pleasurable things to gain a GREATER pleasure later on "down the road". A-mind will give you energy for this IF it is rewarded sufficiently at the end.

Why are we obsessed with clothing, fashion, etc.? Clothes are the outward manifestation of the ego. The great rulers of ancient Egypt often exposed their breasts & sex parts because, to them, clothes were used to show wealth... not to hide the body.

What will insure that we have rich, full lives... if that is our wish? While knowledge of human interrelationships & functioning can serve as a map, the major requirement is to set a WORTHY GOAL. All too many persons realize some of their earlier goals & then stop. By the age of 21, for instance, many women have the "nest egg" or home they desired. Without a new goal, these women become bored... and their marriage crumbles. New goals are essential to life, on ANY level.

Is Lying really harmful? Lying comes in many forms, but they are all used to perpetuate our "false fronts" or our FACADES. When we are living a Facade, we are living someone ELSE'S life & not our own... and this can lead to self-denial, dis-ease, and a general LACK of pleasure. A person who starts lying soon becomes confused as to what the Truth REALLY is, and this confusion soon spreads to ones acquaintances & loved ones. If not checked, this pattern of confusion can wreck ones relationships, and eventually destroy oneself! Another SEEMINGLY INNOCENT type of lying is practiced by those persons who FLATTER other people & tell them "what they want to hear"... which is NOT, in most cases, what the flatterer REALLY thinks about that person. If this is kept up for very long, the flatterer may begin to forget what the person is REALLY like... and disaster results. Lying is accepting the REFLECTION for the REAL thru one's words & deeds, and each UN-real perception tends to weaken TRUE perception.

What makes for good voice communication? Words transmit only 1/2 of the communication value. Inflections are ALL-IMPORTANT. If there is hostility in the voice it gives the impression of hostility, regardless of the TRUE feeling. You can actually change moods around you with good inflection. It is very easy to upset good "flow lines" by a momentary sarcastic inflection or comment. Jokes & "asides" are used by public speakers, to set aside occasional hostility vibes from the audience. Laughter is the only thing that sets us aside from the animals. A certain bluntness of speech is also often helpful, because it takes away some of the seriousness, etc. The nicknames kids used to call each other are very good for "breaking the ice" in conversations, yet such names are usually discouraged today. Our feel field determines what is meant in voice inflections & patterns, & it will give us the TRUE picture IF we listen to it instead of ignoring it as "just a feeling"!

What do I need to attain happiness? A GOAL is needed to seek after.... on this or any other plane.

Why is there so much negativity in attitudes today? Persons, today, often ENJOY being miserable! At least 1/2 of their pleasures are derived from their getting cheated in life. Persons enjoy having things to complain about, because this is the only way that they know to get affection (sympathy) from others. This is a pitiful condition resulting from a System (Domination) that just isn't working right...

Why do groups have so much difficulty getting things done? Only about 3 persons can ever REALLY enjoy the same plan. Any number more than 3 increases the negative odds terribly. Egos get in the way, and there emerge too many factors of disagreement.

Why can't I enjoy life anymore? There are many reasons, but one of the most common reason is that most persons constantly think of TOMORROW & fail to live in the PRESENT (this is the old "carrot on the stick" ploy... work NOW, & maybe we'll pay you & let you have fun LATER). It is fine to make plans, but you should not let them interfere with the fun you could be having NOW. Most persons don't even realize that they have achieved their goals, anyway! By the time that they manage to achieve their goal, their WANTS have changed... and they are already after a new goal. Each person is different, in their LIKES & DISLIKES, so I cannot tell you what you SHOULD like. Today, however, we are programmed into believing that many pleasures are EVIL... so the choice of ones pleasures becomes greatly narrowed down, for most persons. The zinging, glowing, no-hostility "dwell" (another word for a "mood", etc.) that animals run around in is simple to use (we have an animal body, remember?)... however, most persons insist upon placing a great expense upon the few pleasures they have left. We only have our SELVES, in this world of ours, and the more we relate with others in a PLEASURABLE way, the happier we will be.

Can I be against something without harming myself? Being against things usually only succeeds in shredding & limiting YOUR OWN pleasure! Society is 80% pain saturated, and such miserable persons are an added burden to our society. Such pain-saturated persons want other persons to relate their sad tales to, so they try to drag others down into their miserable condition. The world certainly doesn't need any more pain, and besides... wouldn't you really rather live a happy & pleasure-filled life???

Well, don't we need money, to have fun & find pleasure in life? There are at least 255 amusements that are free of any cost whatsoever...yet today, people are turning themselves into SLAVES, in order to gain MONEY so that they can PAY for their amusements. In this ENDLESS "I gotta get MORE" quest, persons throw away their pleasures. They trade Pleasure for Gain. They already have the potential for FREE pleasures built into them, but they are brainwashed into buying their pleasures. They can only gain a limited number of pleasures with money, so they tend to ignore the many Free pleasures (if it's Free, it must not be WORTH anything...they reason). This situation often becomes so pathetic that they must depend on ANOTHER PERSON to turn them on..., instead of turning THEMSELVES on. The only thing the human has here is their body. They cannot really HAVE (which implies ownership) someone else. They can only SHARE. Your Pleasures are your OWN. When you can SHARE your pleasure with another person who has the SAME pleasure, then you have a relationship... in that particular area. Even when things get bad physically, there is no way that the pleasure of good thoughts can be harmed. Most persons are only about 40% real, with the other 60% being taken up by Facades. Most persons run around, in life, trying to get away from themselves. Sex is probably the greatest pleasure of all, yet it is constantly being repressed & used for Gain and Manipulation. Over 2/3rds of the unhappiness most persons experience in sex is due to the hypnotic indoctrination that most unhappy people embrace.

***Chapter E***

AT THE SO CALLED 'END TIME' OF CHOOSING, WHAT HAPPENS IF SOME IDENTITIES REFUSE TO CHOOSE ?

In the earlier period of choice when the 'power' was taken from the exiles a few decided to 'disperse' & cease to exist as an identity. The unit particles which they were formed of, then dispersed and caused many lower forms of life on the planet to gain a small bit of what some might call 'intelligence'. It became possible by this incident to be able to communicate to some degree with what we might call the lower forms of life.

At a future time, if there are those who refuse to choose either domination or Free, then such a 'dispersal' will again replace choice. Choice is an irrevocable law in this existence. To cease to choose will bring a ceasession of existence. ..From time to time there are persons who refuse to choose in the everyday business of living. In mental hospitals, these persons are what could be called the 'vegetables'. Their bodies are able to function to some degree, but the 'light' in their eyes is gone and their 'minds' have departed. ...while this is not the same situation, it may clarify the concept. CHOICE is a major factor separating Man from Animal at this time. Animals cannot choose their future. Man can.

HOW IS THIS PARTICULAR CHOICE PROBLEM CLEARED UP ?

It is all to true that the other dimensional 'entities' or anti-matter counterparts to the exiles, are a little lax in committing themselves to a choice. Because of their status out of this turmoil they really often don't choose to rush the matter. If the flow line occurs between the brain and this higher self however, the brain can insist that an agreement take place one way or another. Either the two choose to go to the domination... or they choose to go to the Free. If an agreement can't be worked out and the entity for instance, chooses not to accept the free choice of the brain. Then, the person & brain can dismiss the entity & gain legal free status... without the original entity. This, is of course, a very unusual situation, but can help perhaps, in making the legal position of the choice clear.

The thing to remember is that the choice must be made in the physical body, by both the brain & the mind part of self. That is why gaining the awareness that comes with 'flowline' is so important to persons who want to gain their spiritual freedom.

In very early times before the exiles came to Earth, there were high periods or cycles when even the Earth Children with their high level 'egg' knowledge could change matter through high level brain usage. At the period when the exiles arrived they were at a low cycle, and so the actions of the exiles seemed quite astounding. In speaking of an 'egg' knowledge it is well to point out that everything is in a certain continuity. A bird or a fish for instance, will lay an egg that contains in it everything that they are. This, is in effect, an egg cycle.

WHAT HAPPENS IF THE FREE FAIL TO GET THE MESSAGE OF CHOICE BEFORE THE PEOPLE OF EARTH.

In the past, there were failures in free choice decisions just before each of the great polar shifts. Technology was allowed, or pushed, to the point that the shift could be prevented...but the majority failed to act & fight for freedom of choice. In the 1970's it was decided by the 'Free's' representative of law, that the cyclic choice 'merry go round' should be ended in the present cycle ending. Persons would be exposed to a certain amount of truth from many sources...& would be making their decision of choice while traveling through the daily grind of normal life patterns. Just how many will have acquired an inward revulsion of the domination system by the 'end time', will remain to be seen. The fact ever remains, that the message of choice has been widely exposed since the time of christ.

Actions regarding Earth are usually based upon data given to 'councils'. These councils are made up of FREE volunteers. In the 1970's the local council in jurisdiction felt that the local beings of domination should be taken from the physical en mass...so that the planet could be re constructed along patterns of FREE principle. As the domination were reborn to the physical, it was felt that the 'REAL' or FREE patterns would be to strongly ingrained in the planets culture to be changed. This action would also balance the Free-will violation the domination visited upon the 'Earth children'.

In this case the so called 'holy gaust' {ancient trans for 'windy one'} ...also once called 'the man of revelation {distorted into new test.vers.by domination}...was acting as the closest representative to the 'Father' & disagreed with the councils decisions. He felt that by continuing technology supplying enough food, disarming...& fixing the unbalanced ice cap, the peop of Earth could overstep or overthrow the dominations system by themselves. {Ed. note: In the 70's a number of nuclear tests & small wars which were fat ed to bring on sure world disaster...were suddenly halted by strange turns o inner events...confirming to large extent the 'outside control' factors.} f.

CAN WE CHOOSE TO UNDERSTAND & REJECT DOMINATION PRINCIPLES AFTER DEATH ?

The choice of rejecting domination must legally be made while in the physical. This is required because persons of 'animal man origin or backgrou had no prior guidelines in the other planes or 'spirit'. One of the complexities which can arise is, when a person of 'exile background has a mind or 'entity who is legally of domination & has a brain that rejects domination. Before this person is legally or technically free, his brain & entity must get together {flowline} & both choose to be free. It is very hard for person born of animal man & exile 'gods' to even concieve of domination. Persons who have volunteered to work on the planet after the originators or 'exiles' arrival, are briefed in the domination problem before they take on bodies. They are usually aware that a domination system functions here, but are ofte to attuned to an inner knowing of the over all view to attach much import to the fact. To most persons of Earth child backgrounds, there is little interest or understanding in these lines of thought. To the exiles who have lost so much however, there is usually a great striving for lost answeres... unless of course they are held to tightly in some mental bondage of the domiations system.

Will some of the events of the Book of Revelation be acted out?

The Book of Revelation is a distortion of the original works of the 'Man of Revelation.' It originally applied to the time of its writing (2000 years ago). If it applied to the future, it would have been called a prophesy. The domination may yet be allowed to bring complete destruction and chaos to the planet. The man of Revelation was the true father of Mcses and the grandfather of Solomon. In his present form on the planet he carries a good deal of the fate of our planet on his decisions.

2. If the 'tribulations' occur, it will be the doing of the 'Gods' of Earth, not of the 'Father.'

When asked if he would come again, Christ said, "I will be with you always, but at the end of time a 'Man of Revelations' will come among you, and you shall have the knowledge which you shall seek."

Why don't you act physically to help others? I can only point the basics of life on this planet out to you. I cannot expand your awareness or give you powers. Only YOU can really ever do ANYTHING for yourself. Each of us, on this planet, is only responsible for themselves. No progress in HAPPINESS can come to society until the evasion of self-responsibility ceases.

Why isn't this "time of choosing" covered in the scriptures? It IS... in most religious "Bibles" of the world. The Final Choice & the New Perfection "Paradise on Earth" concepts are covered in most of the LASTING religious works as Salvation & Redemption, etc. Heaven on Earth is possible for those who are able to transmute their baser Domination natures into "Freedom of Choice" natures & actions. This "transmutation" process is covered in the Comp. courses.

How can the entire population gain enough comprehension to choose KNOWINGLY, before this Cycles end (around the year 2,000)?? There are 4 billion people to be reached, but our present technological tools & a great deal of subjective "sleep seeding" allows the work to progress quickly. During sleep, thoughts from BOTH the Domination AND the Free are coming into our dreams, etc. These thoughts cannot control us, but they DO give us ideas from BOTH sides, from which we are free to accept or reject as WE choose. In this way, many "revolutionary" thoughts end up being published in books, etc.

At the Final Choosing, what percentage of the population will Choose & Act upon their choice? At the Final Choosing, it is estimated that there will be at least 15% of the population who will gain enough self-control to keep their Mind components & continue life in a permanent sequence. This minority will be BLEND of B-minds & P-minds who have gained enough SELF-responsibility to control & govern their OWN actions by CHOICE... while NOT violating the Free Choice of OTHERS. The remaining 85% of the world's population will take NO DIRECT ACTION to learn self-control, will refuse to make a CHOICE (choice is MEANINGLESS without ACTION to back it up), will refuse to deviate from a hard-core Domination pattern, or will just have no DESIRE to live again.

Is Choice always possible? Choice is not possible IF it is not given. A true choice must be made in KNOWLEDGE, not in IGNORANCE.

What percentage of the Earths' population will advance to the Entity level? Only an estimated 5% of the total population of this earth will gain control of BOTH their B & P-minds and be able to continue as multi-dimensional Entities, due to their putting their CHOICE into ACTION. No action..no effort..no more.

What do you mean by "new perfection"? This would be a state where emotions & things are in parity, i.e. each kept in its proper place.

Will the transition to the final blending of the 3 Minds to reach New Perfection be very traumatic & take a long period of time? At first, people will tend to congregate among persons with a preponderance of the same Mind dwell. However, it isn't expected that the later drive to MIX dwells will take very long or be very traumatic.

How can man act to bring about a more perfect world? The human being is the ONLY creature of imperfection on Earth. All of the other animals & creatures here are not in the least bit confused about where they are going or what they are doing. They live in a choiceless, automatic, act & react existence. Only the Hu-man has TRUE choice, yet he remains in confusion when he shirks his responsibility towards self-control. Even with a gun at ones head, one has a choice of fighting back or following someone elses desires. Sidestepping confrontations with force is sometimes necessary to retain ones free choice. Humans are going towards a new perfection, and the perfors with the greater control over their various Mind components will eventually have the greater action potential in this universe. Nothing will happen, however, without ACTION.

Can we Hu-mans ever regain perfection? Perfection is not nullified by the mixing of the P & B-minds with the A-mind in the Hu-man. Each mind is of perfection, and when we learn to use them under CONTROL, a greater perfection and level of ability is possible.

How can we overcome our problems on this planet? My greatest disappointment is the fact that people on this planet will not make a decision & ACT... UNLESS they are FORCED into it by some FEAR or PRESSURE. In the future, it will be necessary to bring about a Guaranteed Life Support System for ALL of the people to eliminate this fear & to let people wake up to their broader potentials.

How can mankind gain Paradise? Perfection was promised in the Bibles ONLY to those willing to seek & make it HERE ON EARTH.

Is it possible to eventually be perfect? If you are acting to the LIMITS of your knowledge, then you are acting in perfection! If you should act AGAINST your knowledge or Ethics (what you KNOW is correct "inwardly"), then you are acting in imperfection BY CHOICE. Your FEELINGS never lie. If you follow them, then you are walking in perfection with the Father.

How can we overcome our world problems? Humans must eventually learn to accept persons with a different Mind dwell than their own, and when the SECURITY of Guaranteed Life Support From The Cradle To The Grave for ALL peoples is assured, then the hostility, stealing, & various other problems can easily be overcome.

WHAT CAUSED THE FLOOD ?

With the many natural rejuvenation energies cut off from the planet after the 'Exile' problem, there was need for some sort of cyclic rejuvenation to substitute. By allowing the planet to build up an uneven ice cap at the South Pole, there is a natural rejuvenation cycle which now occurs about every 3400 years. This cycle not only allows many of the 'washed away' trace elements to be returned to the land masses, It exposes a great deal of new mineral rich rock & soil. Just before all of the past polar shifts, man has been allowed to create the technology to avert such shifts. In the past of course, such technology was never used for such purposes.

WHEN WILL THE NEXT POLAR SHIFT OCCUR ?

It was due for the year 2005 according to the exact cyclic sequence. In the past this sequence has varied somewhat according to a number of records. As this is written {1976} the gulf streams are rapidly changing in their normal routes & this is an indication that, just as in the past during a prior shift, the latest shift could be early. Ancient Egyptian records have shown that such changes in the ocean currents...along with the changing weather patterns & earthquakes, have preceded all of the last four 'floods'. {there are a number of works out on the polar shifts & the ancient records which concern them. Emanuel Veloskovky's "worlds In Collision" is an example}

WHAT OCCURS DURING A POLAR SHIFT ?

Once our planet reaches a point of wobble over four degrees there is no way to avert a complete 'shift' in poles. Just before such shifts occur the earthquakes become quite severe and numerous...destroying the very technology that could be used to avert the disaster. As the Earth changes pole points, there are vast bodies of water rushing over the face of the planet which destroy most of the man & animal life. At such times only those who are at high points on the planet survive. For 50 years after a polar shift there are high waters, chaotic rains & winds. It usually takes up to 200 years for the planet to settle down into normal weather patterns again.

HOW CAN THE POLAR SHIFTS BE PREVENTED ?

The planet 'shifts' when the wobble reaches around four degrees or 60 minutes. At the present rate of wobble increase, this probably gives us until the late 80's to stack our arms, work together in eliminating or de-materializing the proper areas of polar ice-or suffer another 'flood'.

If these Polar Earth Flips have happened before, in man's history, then why are there no Written Records of this? There are libraries all across the World just FILLED with material which scientists IGNORE, because it doesn't fit-into the current theories of what SHOULD be (according to THEIR opinion). In Spanish libraries, for instance, you can read of the awesome rip tides that tore furiously through the narrow Strait of Hellespont (now called Dardanelles), just prior to one of the last 'Pole Shifts'. Today, weather & climate changes are fast repeating these earlier records.

How can we stop the Earth from flipping? To stop the Earth from flipping, we would have to eliminate the unevenly-loaded ice cap at the South Pole. Up until recent years, we could only hope to MELT the ice cap... thereby flooding the coastal cities & losing much of our land area. However, in the mid 1960's we developed the Phaser. Early models were extremely powerful, but they could not lase continuously & they required vast amounts of power to operate. Lasers, when aimed at a block of ice, merely MELT the ice..., but the Phaser, when aimed at a block of ice, converts the water into its basic component atoms (hydrogen & oxygen)! Using the Phaser to melt the ice cap would only result in the release of hydrogen & oxygen into the atmosphere! In 1975, the major problems with the Phaser had been solved... to a large degree... thru the use of the duality principle. In the first Phasers, the lasing process could not be continuous because it took time for the bouncing light to build up enough momentum to escape with full intensity. In 1975, however, scientists found a way to have a SECOND charge & fire cycle going in REVERSE SEQUENCE to the FIRST cycle. This, of course, provided a CONTINUOUS cycle. Inherent in this same development were factors which reduced power consumption. The only factor that now remains, in the reduction of the polar cap, is to get the Major Powers of the World to work TOGETHER to stop the Earth Flip. It is up to the Free Choice of the PEOPLE of this Earth. Non-action is also a choice.

Can we avoid a WW III? ??? Nations war against other nations when they fear a loss. The Original Sin was actually DENIAL. Our Systems, all around the world, are based upon Denial...and only if this Denial factor is REVERSED will we get Beauty instead of ugliness. Instead of blaming our leaders & our weapons manufacturers, we can only blame OURSELVES. We have taken the "easy way out", by giving up our freedoms & SELF-control/responsibility, so that someone ELSE can take care of us & take responsibility FOR us. We are only now beginning to realize the horrible price for such actions, as our Domination-based Systems crumble all around us. Guns will no longer be needed, when we no longer "need" to protect ourselves & our homes. Some persons may enjoy killing just for the thrill of it, but if they can come to COMPREHEND the base factor BEHIND their "love" for killing, then they can CONTROL it. When we can learn to CONTROL OURSELVES, we can quickly eliminate most of the FEARS in life. Fear is merely an "early warning" system. If we RECOGNIZE our fears, WITHOUT freezing up & letting THEM control US, then we can continue our "journey through life" WITHOUT the fear of loss.

Will the prophecies of Nuclear Holocaust come true? The world has already seen nuclear war in the 3 examples used against Japan in WW II. While the nuclear confrontations in the Middle East were held off by the "Free" Guardians of this planet in 1960 & the early 1970's, in 1978 this "hold" was lifted. They will no longer step in and stop such actions, but ALL persons have been given the chance to escape such holocausts by ACTION. Most persons have chosen to shirk this responsibility by placing it upon someone else's shoulders. However, the soldiers with their fingers on the tiny red holocaust buttons won't rationalize. Pay the price of responsibility NOW, or you may be choosing to have no future later!

What are the next most important steps toward fulfillment of free goals? 1976

Diversion of W W III and the development of laser crystal technology to the point of melting unbalanced polar ice. Unless nuclear war is prevented, there will not be enough technology left to develop the sophisticated lasers necessary to melt vast amounts of ice. Without melting the ice which is causing an increase in polar wobble, the technology will be destroyed by earthquakes and water. Without the technology, man will be so far back into a barbaric state again that the presentation of the choice laws and truth will fail to be meaningful.

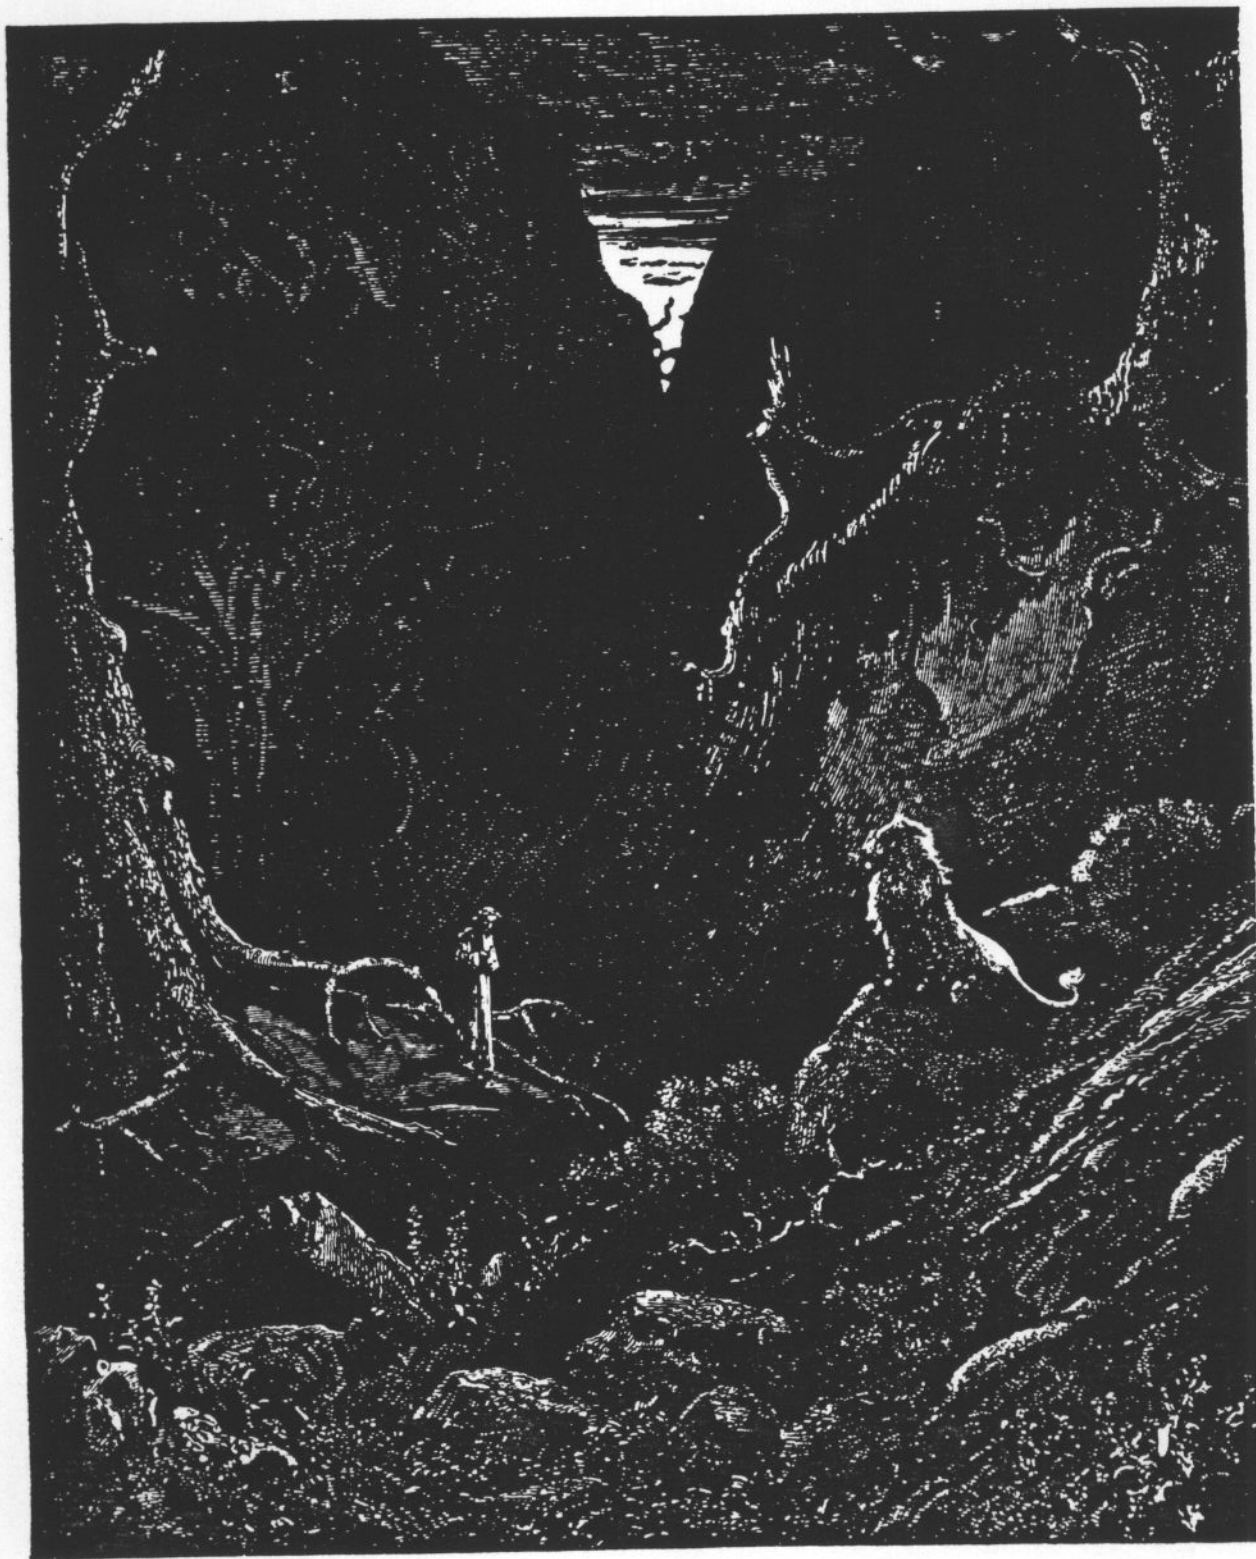

Note; Periodic update publications are released to Modern Humans students that cover various aspects of higher level global changes.

What about Gun Control? At the present moment, private arms are necessary for us to keep our freedoms. Without guns, we would have no means of protection for our families & homes. Guns will be necessary UNTIL women stand up & act to disarm the entire population of the world simultaneously.

If you know so much about Life & Happiness, then why aren't you out in the World offering your assistance to the poor, the needy, & the suffering? If persons would merely start TAKING CARE OF THEMSELVES & stop assuming that they can help other persons with theories and/or actions not SELF chosen (by the individual you're trying to help), then the first step will be taken towards a FREER & HAPPIER planet! It is difficult to KNOW & to be SELF-responsible, when most of your fellow human beings seem to be happier in their ignorance & LACK of responsibility. As you become more in control, you find that instead of shouting the "good news" from the rooftops, you contain yourself & give only to those who ASK for your help (and whom you can see truly NEED your help), or to those whom you are "guided from within" to help (in such cases, they are probably too proud or confused to ask you PHYSICALLY for help... so their Soul comes to your Soul & asks for the assistance). In most cases, however, we can say that it is enough to help ourselves. For example: if you give a "Skid Rower" money for food, there is a very good chance that it will only HINDER his progress towards being SELF-responsible, etc. As unusual as this line of thought may be to you now, a little time & reason will show you the wisdom of this and all of the other examples given all down through history by the Great teachers... such as Jesus. One of the Great teachers explained that the only persons who are happy ALL THE TIME are the Insane! This, as you can see, is quite accurate. Although the Insane are escaping their responsibilities & are (for the most part) unwilling to reciprocate in the "Game of Life", they are at least not trying to change anything. Until we learn the Art of granting EVERYONE the right to BE JUST AS THEY ARE WITHOUT WANTING TO CHANGE THEM, we will be experiencing the periodic ups & downs of Happiness & Sadness. When you look at a situation, you are only sad when YOU cannot have it as YOU want it. As you gain & practice "knowingness", you will begin to see the wisdom of "living up to being the best YOU which you know how to be at any given time"... which is hard enough without wishing to inflict premature knowledge upon others. Do-gooders often find that the persons they try to help RESENT them for their unasked for actions. We must learn to help ourselves, and we must learn to BE ourselves. Once we BECOME OURSELVES, most of our problems will be easily handled & resolved.

***Chapter F***

Can everyone learn to talk to the Father (the Creator)?? ANY being can talk to the Father REGARDLESS of their background or what Mind they usually function in. Such communications are easier when you are relating to the natural wonder & beauty of the Universe. Look at all of the GOODNESS in nature & your body... and see who brought it about. Look on the Father not just as a Power, but as a Personal Being. The Father will answer any question you put to him & comment as a Loving Personal Father. You will KNOW when you have truly established contact with the Father by an INNER FEELING of a Higher Vibe. This FEELING can even affect bystanders! (see Comp.4 for details)

Is it true that nothing is new?

Yes, for under the 'I AM' principle, the 'I AM' always was and will be the total present. If everything 'is', there can't be anything new. Simply put, there are no lost or original thoughts. As your awareness grows, you will be able to know this concept.

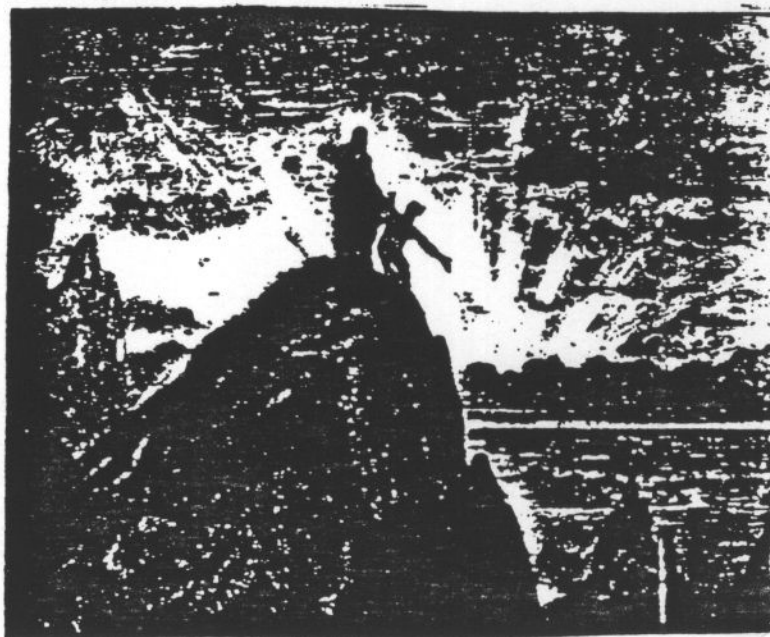

Why would Satan wish to see so much misery in the world? Satan... or Big Brother, as persons on "communication level" sometimes refer to him... does NOT condone or endorse the way that money is being used to enslave others on this planet. The major goal of P-mind (Big Brother's intelligence) is to build up the brain currents of the human to such a level that the Exiles can regain their Mind-over-matter abilities. This goal is actually HINDERED by the greedy misuse of money & power by his high-level followers and their DENIAL games. Every so often, therefore, Big Brother acts to destroy those individuals here whose ruthless drive for power & control goes too far. People like Nelson Rockefeller suddenly have heart attacks or accidents (when they were in perfect health, etc.) when they go too far in denying the people. An EVEN distribution of the wealth is actually to the advantage of Big Brother's goal, but his followers can never seem to resist the temptations of power & control that their advanced knowledges open up to them.

Is Big Brother (Satan) here on Earth now? Big Brother & the other 43 high-level Mind Complex leaders must occasionally come back into bodies just like everyone else. At this cycle-end he was born in Viet Nam, due to his vibratory affinity for the magnetic polarity in this area. His mate (Uris) was born within this same time period in the Congo region of Africa. Both have high enough Mental energy patterns to find a way out of these areas & to gain sufficient knowledge of the material world to yield them full power and influence. However, due to the handicap of being born in such areas of poverty & illiteracy, they may not rise to power until they are 18 or 20 years old.

MOSES BEFORE
PHARAOH

"Aaron cast down his rod before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it became a serpent." Exodus 7:10.

What are the so-called Star People? Star People are totally FINITE beings (their intelligence is complete) from an "infinite beyond". While these Star People have been coming to earth in small groups for centuries, 150 million of them came into bodies between 1920 & 1930. This will allow them to grow to maturity & to work their various "missions" before the present Earth Cycle ends, at around the year 2,000. As of 1981, there are about 115 million of the original 150 million volunteers left. Many were "booby trapped" by Big Brother, and many others become so depressed about the conditions here & their lack of being able to make any constructive changes, etc. that they just give up & ask to be sent home (by dying, physically). These Star People are of a background that is NOT of Earth origin, so they are confused by the many intertwining intelligences upon this planet. Star People are committed to levels of action ALIEN to the usual existence patterns upon this planet, so they are often very frustrated by the "normal" systems & patterns of life in operation here on Earth. These persons are often in ignorance as to just what their goals & purposes here are, but many eventually open up enough of their awareness to realize what their missions truly are. Such missions usually center around the betterment of the human species... in one way or another. Such actions are foretold in the UN-altered or UN-mutilated stone records of the ancient past, and the uplifting process they foretold is now being carried out. As they foretold, people of today are exposing their true natures and it might be observed that many national leaders often act in irrational ways & thereby expose themselves unintentionally to the world as they TRULY are. The physical characteristics of Star People include a propensity for some DNA confusion in BOTH sexes. Due to a stronger energy release in conception (due to their alien origin, etc.), Star People can have any number of genetic problems with their vertebrae, eyes, hearing, etc. & they even experience occasional disfigurement. Most are reluctant to become involved with any organizations that require the following of a set doctrine or system, yet many find alliances with others of like interests or with "regular" humans on a "fun oriented" basis. Most Star People have brilliant minds, but they often tend to be confused, on this planet, and many live in a fantasy world. Female Star People tend to have many psychosomatically-related illnesses, due to their empathy with others who are ill. Male Star People often show a repugnance towards violence, and they may appear to be a bit effeminate... to those used to a more harsh male image. Mothers, who carry such Star People during pregnancy, often have problems before & during the birth. Most Star People have a strong desire to go "Home", which leads them to believe (due to logic, etc.) that they are from another planet. In actuality, however, they are from another DIMENSION. Most find it difficult to locate friends, and after a few years of being open & being (therefore) subjected to repeated denials & ridicule, they tend to withdraw from the chaotic world of man. Howard Hughes was a good example of this. Time and again he tried to do "good works", but he was constantly ridiculed & rebuffed for his efforts. The "Spruce Goose", which he designed & built, was very innovative & unique... but to others, it was only the object of their ridicule. If a person, whom Hughes liked, was in a particularly stressful situation, he sometimes aided the person by buying the stress away i.e. a restaurant for a waitress, etc. Few Star People become wealthy (like Hughes did), because dominating & manipulating others is very repugnant to them. Many Star People have benefited mankind & aided the "general plan" by writing & producing for an entertainment media that would otherwise remain in negativity. Their productions often stress Ethics over Domination (Star Trek & Star Wars are recent media examples.)

I just don't seem to fit into life & I look at the whole "game" in a rather detached way. Why is this? Persons of Alien origin often go around in an Entity dwell, and they just can't get very excited about the things that excite or deeply affect the more emotional "Earth Children". The first step in relieving this detached feeling is to realize that you are a human... at this present moment. The seeker should consider the fact that the Human, on this planet, has the most advanced physical vehicle in the entire System of Universes. Animal-man has withstood devastating attacks against his species, and come out on top. Your animal-man body is a magnificent creation..., and the sooner you USE your body for PLEASURE & natural function, the sooner your detachment problems will quiet down.

Why aren't the persons here on Missions to help us doing their "thing"?? Most of the persons on "Mission" here get into physical bodies, at birth, just like the rest of us. As they grow up & get caught up in the human rat-race, they promptly begin to goof off and procrastinate. They block off inner promptings to get busy on their projects. However, as the Final Period draws near (see data on the Earth Flip), these people will ACT AT BEING WHAT THEY ARE & start their works... even if they must crawl on their hands and knees to do so!

HOW DANGEROUS ARE 'MISSIONS' ?

Persons of domination allegiance don't face any particular danger unless they 'double cross' their leaders. While there is often the chance that their power & positions will be taken, this is dependent upon their performance. They may also be prevented from abridging certain free laws by the FREE. In the LD's a number faced swift retrobutions when they overstepped such well defined boundarys. FREE volunteers on the other hand, face constant danger. Even the split second necessary to enter a new womb & baby is long enough without protection to bring disaster. Certain vital energy links or ties with the FREE can be cut of at such a point. Once in a body, the parents can be shifted or eliminated if they are under the dominations control. Any tell tale traces of a child's 'seeing' or hearing unusual things {awareness} can of course, bring on censorship or even incarceration. A very high percentage of FREE volunteers have their 'missions' rendered valueless by these or a number of later 'control' influences. Those who break into "awareness" of what they have to accomplish are constantly harrassed & attacked in many ways. With their 'awareness' however, comes an equal knowledge in the ways of defense. Domination forces can only hope to wear down FREE workers with pain, despair hopelessness & such. They do not have the power to bring on death.

WHAT ARE SOME TYPES OF MISSIONS THAT YOU COULD MENTION ?

Three typical types of 'missions' performed by the FREE cover:

1. 'Gatherers' or spies...who are on the planet to gather up certain types of data concerning people & situations. This data is used by persons of 'alien' backgrounds or 'councils' to base their decisions for future actions on.
2. 'Doers'...who are here to see that changes take place through action.
3. Teachers...who are on the planet to teach only.

One of the problems connected with such missions is the fact that persons on such 'missions' get somewhat dis oriented by domination booby traps and environments. A person on one type of mission for instance, may try to perform another type of mission. In such cases, if they ask for & receive mental data out of their own category, they are often not able to receive it in its proper form. Lacking such specialized knowledge causes them to only add to the confusion already on the planet. Such volunteers usually recognize that they are different from their fellows... & unless they reach a certain stage of their 'awareness', their mind may rationalize that they are sent from some exotic planet...on a 'mission' to save the world all by themselves etc etc.

None were probably frauds...since all probably believed in what they were doing. Persons like St. Bernadet & Joan of Arc were 'volunteers' on FREE missions. They were given a special energy usage 'in witness' for a specific purpose. As with most FREE workers, they soon lost their positions & have since been counterfitted & mis interpreted thousands of times. It is well to remember that for every 'counterfit' there must have been a real original. Many notable persons of great talent have been on direct missions for domination leaders. If a teacher or doctrine does not aim at freeing an individual, the principles are of domination.

SHOULD WE TEACH OTHERS CONCERNING FREE PRINCIPLES ?

The great FREE teacher Christ sanctioned us to seek 1st 'the kingdom', and after we had this knowledge of self, energy control, & law...then we could get the word out. Few persons have sufficient 'awareness' to teach. Even the disciples did not teach until after they had received a special 'bestowal' at the last supper. Many 'volunteers' of FREE background get the 'message' out before each cyclic end time. True, many are blocked to a great degree and often even mix FREE principles with some taint of domination...yet the truth always gets out. Many of the science fiction writers & more controversial freedom movement writers have been knowingly, or unknowingly, putting out the required information for 'choice'. To often however, persons on 'mission' to gather information, promote certain causes, or aid certain movements, overstepped their specialization requirements & added to the confusion by uncoordinated teachings.

How did Moses part the Red Sea & work his other miracles? Moses had knowledge of the impending Earth-axis shift, and he took advantage of this in the wonders he worked. The excess Earth-wobble caused the Gulf Stream currents to alter & warm-up considerably. This caused a dramatic rise in the frog, lice, fly, and locust populations. The crossing of the Red Sea took almost an entire day of floundering through mud, after the axis-shift had caused the waters to recede. Their Egyptian pursuers were mounted, and their horses went wild from the pillars of fire (static electricity generated in the area). This detained them long enough to ensure their destruction, when the water rushed back into place.

The Bible is an odd mixture of Domination & Free concepts. Why is this? The Bible contains 1,215 words spoken by Jesus... none of which broke Free Choice. The Bible, to contain the WHOLE truth, is a combination of the Free AND the Domination. It repeatedly refutes itself, thus forcing you to CHOOSE between the Right & the Left, to extract what you feel is right for YOU, and then to put those ideas into ACTION. When asked why he didn't write a Bible containing only Free principles, Glaser only smiled and said, "If I wrote a Bible containing only Free principles, how would the readers have a CHOICE??".

Did the Disciples learn about using AFFECTION from Jesus? Jesus did teach them about affection, but all 12 disciples remained skeptics up until the day Jesus rose up from the dead. After Jesus had left them, they were hunted and persecuted..., but they began using affection to the extent that even LIONS lay down beside Daniel & licked his hand when he stayed in an affection-dwell WITHOUT FEAR.

Did Mary Magdalene realize the true importance of Jesus? Mary Magdalene didn't understand him, but she thought of him as a quiet & wonderful person. People STILL don't realize the significance of his coming back from the dead! People STILL deny him. They claim that they "have" Christ..., yet if he doesn't fulfill their demands, they crucify him again!

HOW DID HE ENSURE THAT HIS TEACHINGS WOULD ENDURE ?

He saw to it that he had a great deal of controversial publicity. Despite the antagonism toward him, there was enough respect, for even the hard bitten Roman leaders to be impressed {witness the calender change}. Even the domination carried over parts of his teachings. Sol the tax collector for instance later became paul: giver of truth & untruth. Again....Christ came to be a witness to the 'live again if you so choose' concept, not specifically to teach.

WHAT WERE SOME OF HIS LIMITATIONS ?

He was free of all laws save one. That was the release of himself from the physical. It is usual I might add, that teachers must be responsible for what they teach. Christ sanctioned us to 1st seek the 'kingdom' and after we had this 'self knowledge', energy control, etc...then we could teach. He only sanctioned his disciples to teach after such an influx of knowledge at the last supper.

WHAT WAS CHRIST'S MISSION ON EARTH ?

His primary mission was to show that man could live again if he so chose. With the end of the present choice cycle we may gain the 'when'..missing.

What did Jesus come to Earth for? His two major missions were:

- 1) to show the power of affection, and 2) to demonstrate that there was life after death.

What did Christ mean in his "Render unto Caesar" retort? Had Christ detailed his knowledge of money being used as a domination factor to control men, etc. he would probably have been killed on the spot. Money is actually a benefit, when used for the betterment of man instead of the debasement of man. Money, to the Father, is the same as all forms of matter. It is for man's potential benefit & pleasure.

How did Christ select those he chose to heal? Many persons who are sick have completely clobbered their emotions. Christ only healed persons who had not burned out their emotional field complex. He HAD TO turn away many persons whose emotions were too far gone for aid. It was these rejected persons who hated Christ the most & were glad to see him crucified.

Was Jesus a success at his early teachings? Prior to age 30, Jesus travelled all over the world. When he arrived back home at age 30, he was considered mature..., since the average life expectancy at the time was about 30 years. The Bible does not mention what he did BEFORE the age of 30, only what he did after the age of 30. Throughout Jesus' life he taught, because he was BORN KNOWING. At that time, however, no one related to him or really wanted what he taught. It is no different today. People all over the world DEMAND (in P-mind dwell) for Jesus to help them, to save them, or to give them THINGS FOR FREE. This directly contradicts His mandate that, "ALL could do what he had done... and MORE."

DO THE LEADERS OF THE 'DOMINATION' & 'LUCIFER' HATE & WAR AGAINST THE FATHER OR THE FREE SYSTEM?

Lucifer, or 'Big Brother' as many of the 'Free' call him, & many of the 'exiles' are not really aware of the existence of the 'one God' or Father they are continually puzzled at references to him. Lucifer feels that he is the God of this creation. This is due to the knowledge polarities and the fact that the domination can only recognize the reflection of the 'real'. Millions have never really known the 'Father' & their uplifting experiences with what they call the 'spirit' is in actuality, a usage of energys of the 'domination' factions...with strings attached.

It may be of interest to know that Lucifers 'soul mate' or other half, Uris, was repeatedly warned against violating certain free law restrictions and after a number of serious infractions in the 1970's she was stripped of her power or 'chained'.. as they call it.

Do you consider ALL of the Religions, Metaphysical groups, Cults, Philosophies, and Psychological theories of TODAY to be FAILURES... and if so, what are they lacking? As far as I am concerned, every work that has been performed since Christ is a failure! They've lost complete sight of his statement, and in the only prayer that was left behind by him. And this, to me, is totally dumbfounding. And, I openly say that the WORLD has failed his message..., because the promise is for the Paradise to be HERE, NOT somewhere else. The promise of paradise is to be on this planet among us peoples. And, NOBODY'S been working for that, nobody's been attempting the Paradise to be here... They're using their P-minds to amass great WEALTH by selling happiness, and forgiveness, and everything else... and very few getting all the money for this... from a people that do not really have the money to give them. But they do it anyways, hoping for a little happiness, peace, and contentment here BEFORE they go to that glorious promised land over there.

So, they've ALL failed their mission. I have not found ONE true follower of Christ since I've been here, not in the fact that the promise is for the Paradise to be HERE. Period. And, that's in the "Lord's Prayer". And, if you do NOT know the "Lord's Prayer", then please look it up..., because that's where it's clearly stated. And, it's said hundreds of millions of times a day, AND THE PEOPLE DO NOT KNOW WHAT THEY'RE SAYING. Yes, they've ALL failed. And, they'd better get off their backsides!!

The Organization I belong to has one face a mirror and view ones uglier side in the mirror. What does this accomplish?

If allowed to, your P-mind can bring through distortions to your optic centers... giving you such impressions. Inferiority, unworthyness, and guilt are typical ways in which alligience to leaders or organizations can be assured.

Are the works of such persons as Walter Russell, which were done after a period of illumination, valid? Persons who break into their Higher-level awareness (often termed Cosmic Consciousness, etc.) may often have a very difficult time getting the PURE concepts on paper... IF the data is from a B-mind perspective. A high percentage of such persons will try to put their illuminations into P-minded language & structures, and by doing so, much of the original content and meaning are lost or altered beyond recognition. The resulting mixture of B & P-mind language may be impressive on PAPER, but it is seldom very applicable for use in practical day-to-day living.

ARE ORGANIZATIONS THAT ERASE BUILT IN 'BLOCKS' OF THE SUB CONSCIOUS BENEF'L

Animals do not allow emotions to effect their later actions. They can fight & quarrel & later eat together without hostility. Man carries over this 'Third factor' & allows it to affect many of his actions. It frequently happens that organizations control man through this 'third factor'. Such systems often require unquestioning acceptance of their tenants & will halt further processing or advancement if this control is not accepted.

By asking yourself why you should be afraid of something, the mind can often see that the fear is unfounded. This can cause such brain fear to be overcome or rejected without domination or expense factors. In the case of non brain 'blocks' there are a number of recognition factors that will allow release of such 'blocks'. (ed note: Modern Humans Courses cover this.)

How do people get caught up in Cults? The pursuit of Security often leads persons to being programmed by some Cult, or their minds become so scrambled that they feel that they can't be happy by themselves.... they must let someone else make them happy. They finally get afraid to act in ANY direction on their own for fear of wrong-doing. This causes pleasure-destroying confusion, and continuation in the Cult due only to FEAR.

What really caused the Jonestown massacre? Jim Jones collected persons who wanted affection, and gave it to them. He eventually became drained, and had to become a dominant "taking instead of giving" person to survive. His group then became P-minded, isolated themselves, and started hammering away on each other until the whole cult blew up from the inside. Fear killed them.

Scientology has gotten results, and it seems that many of their teachings are very similar to your own. Could you explain this? Scientology principles are essentially correct. For example: Cycles are always completed, unless they are intentionally stopped 1/2 way to completion. Also, RECOGNITION of the ROOT CAUSE of our problems corrects the need for Karma, etc. Hubbard's Domination usage is the problem, & it will eventually boomerang back and work against him. Ron Hubbard started Scientology with the help of the financing of a Cosmetic company to the tune of several million dollars. Ron started out with Free principles... which did not "move", & then on to Domination principles... which DID "move". Scientology concentrates on improving the individual by using an "E-meter" to detect & remove Engrams. Engrams are carried-over FEARS. These fears can range from pain, to guilt, to worry, to emotional hurt, and even to feelings of worthlessness. Such Engrams register on the E-meter as tiny changes in bodily current, and it is interesting to note that most major hospitals use a more sophisticated version of the E-meter to monitor their patient's vital signals. Animals do not allow their emotions to affect their actions later on in the day. Animals can fight one minute & end up peacefully eating together five minutes later. Man carries over these Engrams & allows them to affect him. Scientology concentrates on controlling man through this Engram carry-over factor... NOT in eliminating this carry-over factor. In Modern Humans, a person who can control his fear is called FREE. In Scientology, a person who has eliminated their Engrams is called a CLEAR. In Scientology, the E-meter is used as a perfect example of "1984 Methodology". A Detector (the E-meter) is used on persons to determine whether or not they UNQUESTIONINGLY accept Scientology's dictates. Persons who fail the test are stopped from further processing. Scientology tells you that IT is the ONLY way to freedom, and in so doing, it turns into a Dictator. Scientology is the most advanced P-mind organization on this planet, but its fatal flaw is that it tries to use one emotion to kill off other emotions. 'Modern Humans' say that you ARE an Emotional Field, and that by killing your emotions, you are killing yourself! Scientology DOES make its members into "better" people, but it does so at the expense of OTHERS. Many Mystics often require their students to "do as I do" to reach Enlightenment, and even Ron Hubbard points out that he uses energies furnished to him by the "worship" offered to him by his followers. Now... as to those Engrams, the Mind can override these carried over FEARS by asking WHY you should be afraid of something. Your Mind, under such direction, can see that the fear is unfounded & cause the brain-fear to be overcome. P-mind uses such carried-over fears to control the A-mind, and such fear depends upon MEMORY. We LEARN to be in fear & in pain... & if we learned fear & pain, then we can UN-learn them.

My organization stresses Survival for the greatest number of beings. What about this? Ask yourself whether or not this Survival exists now... among those of a P-mind system... or later, for an eternity under self-control. Ask yourself, "Who will the greatest number of people give their allegiance to?", since they are required to follow someone else's rules without deviation.

IS SPIRITUALISM VALID ?

A certain number of persons have the responsibility of acting as 'witnesses to the 'other dimensions'. Unfortunately, many such persons fall into 'domination' perspectives & goals... & little good comes of their 'gift'. When 'spiritualists' fail to remain free they are restricted to the so called 'Astral' levels & cannot enter the 'mentals'. This means that their information is usually limited to 'Earth bound' entities who are very much limited in knowledge compared to that coming from the 'mentals'. Above this a large percentage of the helpful 'spirits' give out erroneous data on purpose. Very few persons ever even bother to challenge such information.

What about Edgar Cayce? Edgar Cayce used his ancient Soul & his A-mind to bring him the data he used in his Readings. Few persons can bring A-mind through so strongly, because their B & P-minds are so strong that they block such action. Cayce did not have a strong B or P-mind, so he was not bothered. His predictions were based on projections of the available data... much like a computer makes predictions. This causes many predictions to be "off" or untrue. His many healings were performed, to a large extent, by sending AFFECTION energies to his patients. The unique remedies often acted as mere placebos, because persons cannot accept that affection ALONE can heal.

Are Churches with fear-inducing "Doctrines of Hell" of any real value? Churches must use fear to get people to come to church. If a person is happy, they usually remain passive & little is done to perpetuate the church. In the Dark Ages, persons lost interest in learning and did not support the church. During such times, the Church DID help by perpetuating LEARNING.

Are religious "commandments" & moral laws helpful or harmful? ALL religions are based on "DON'TS", while the Original Laws of Affection (the Affectionates.. see Comp. 3) were based upon "DOS". While religious "don't" commandments were harmful to free choice, the religious works which carried both positive AND negative elements kept the Father concept alive through many dark ages.

Could you recommend some written works which contain TRUTH? ALL BOOKS HAVE FAILED, OR WE WOULD NOW HAVE A PARADISE ON EARTH. People do not usually ACCEPT the truth, because it is usually the direct OPPOSITE of what they BELIEVE to be true. Books, for example, usually do NOT sell... UNLESS they are full of FANTASY. Most authors tend to live in a fantasy world, and even the non-fiction writers will usually only pit one person's opinion against another. People seldom learn from books of ANY kind. Newspapers are somewhat free from opinions, but they require that the reader THINK to find the truth. Most persons can't (or won't) think deeply enough to find THEIR truth.

What is your background and Status?

I am from an enjoyment energy field and do not ordinarily use a body as such. In this field, I am dispersed over a very wide area by your concepts. Here, I am one of the very few who is not held accountable by normal planetary laws, such as Karma.

In volunteering to bring the 'Exile problems' to a just and fair end, I have served a number of incarnations in an Earth-Man body.

At present I have a body which is genetically from one of the 9th level Exiles. With such lineage, I have constant battle against egotism, unauthorized power usage, and drive for authority. In keeping with free principles, I am very much a 'born of woman' man, subject to the same weaknesses and strengths of any man.

To what extent can the Comps. increase my brain wattage? The Comp. Courses were designed to raise the wattage of the neuron circuits in the brain. Today, most of the population generates around 3 to 4 watts every 24 hours. After Comp. 1, this level should raise to 6 watts. Comp. 2 should raise it to 12 watts, Comp. 3 to 18 watts, and Comp. 4 to 24 watts. Mind over matter abilities require at least 20 watts. These figures represent the wattages that should come with FULL comprehension of each course, and lesser degrees of comprehension will decrease the wattage flow in direct proportion. Headaches after lessons are due to the increase in wattage & oxygen utilization.

Why do the Comp. Courses seem so different in regards to their wording and structure? The Comp. Courses contain STATEMENTS of FACT, without the usual adverbs, "ifs", and "buts". Our languages, on this planet, are based on the various Domination Systems who brought them forth. The coming of Christ put the first real crack in this Complex of Domination languages, yet we are still using these Domination languages... with their built-in limitations... today. The Comp. Courses have been kept fairly free of P-minded "need" & "denial" words, and they have been written in a sentence structure that can easily be translated into other languages. In regard to ORAL communication of these courses, it is not so much the WORDS that count but the VIBE-LINE in BACK OF the communication.

Why didn't the Comps. come out hundreds of years ago? Todays' auto.... working on controlled combustion & pressure... took 11,000 years to produce before all of the necessary technologies were available. Todays' person, in self control, was able to see the true pattern of life in bits & pieces, but the majority of persons have not been ready.

What mental procedure was used in the creation of the various Comp. courses?? Comp. 1 was done by shutting off the Minds & going into the Old Soul/ A-mind states of consciousness. After the required data was retrieved, it was difficult to get rid of headache pressures... due to the prolonged dwell in this state. Each Comp. was likewise done in the 1st-hand dwell, so to speak. This is clarified in the last Comps.

Why was Comp. 4 so delayed in coming out? When I wrote Comp. 1, almost 3 inches (over 500 pages) of material was condensed down to around 60 pages. About the time that Comp. 1 was published, I got the word from my Entity that it had just completed a different version, and that I had "jumped the gun"! On Comps. 2 & 3, I waited until I got the word from my Entity before I put them out... and this resulted in a better sense of continuity & content. Comp. 4 was delayed until the "go ahead". This also gave students a chance to absorb & apply the first three Comps. , which is no small task in itself.

How can I apply the material in the Comp. courses? How would you learn to drive a car with only the blueprints (the owners manual) of your car? Without Reading, Effort, and Practice, your car would wind up like the bodies of many humans... crashed & destroyed.

Why can't many people accept many parts of the Comps.? If people already accepted all of the material in the Comps., there would have been no need for them to have been written.

Isn't there some way to make the persons on this planet recognize & apply the Comp. data?? Not really. We must let the people reach for the Comps. by CHOICE. It would be domination not to....

***Chapter G***

LEARNING GAMES

Why has the U.S. been so successful? The most desirable DNA patterns (human) from all over the world assembled here. Freedom-loving, adventurous immigrants (persons of ACTION) came to our shores for the sole purpose of finding a better life. Their brethren stayed at home because they didn't have the drive, guts, determination, or genetic qualifications to make the trip. These immigrants were special people who could not fulfill their dreams where they were at. Many of the same type of persons are now moving to California to be near more open-minded & tolerant neighbors.

How did the U.S. become such a great nation so quickly? As a Republic with a free-choice constitution, the U.S. was very fortunate in many ways. It could attract the world's best genetic "stock" by its FREE system & land. Since land meant security, the U.S. quickly prospered and became strong through its strong immigrants. Persons constantly seek security, and political systems are among the sellers of security. COMMUNISM claims that you can get your land back and that they will guarantee your survival.... for a PRICE. That price is to give up your freedom. SOCIALISM divides up work performance, etc. but it is usually used as a front for the Communists to win over intellectuals that balk at Communism. Karl Marx states in the preface of "The Communist Manifesto" that Socialism will not work unless the people can become responsible for themselves. All Communists ignore this vital base factor, as do all Socialists!

Should the U.S. return the land it stole from the Indians? Everything was originally stolen. No man originally owned anything. Governments or tribes... they all require PUNISHMENT for taking control of things NOT under their jurisdiction. The U.S. was founded on the religious law of "steal & get imprisoned". The Father (the Creator) provided ALL that exists WITHOUT COST. ALL governments shall fall UNTIL the Earth's bounty is SHARED. Withholding the Earth's bounty thru DENIAL has created scarcity & has provided us with the last 11,000 years of bloody, chaotic human history. Returning the land won't help. Returning to FREE-CHOICE Law under unselfish SELF-control WILL help.

Why are Americans so friendless in the World? Americans have a peculiar double-standard that relates to this problem. We Americans too often tend to try to please strangers WHILE WE IGNORE OUR FRIENDS! We even accept politicians whom we know to be crooks!

Isn't our nation relatively free compared to others?

Is it? Land ownership is one of the few securities people have. Today you are taxed to the point of working hard for the State or losing what you own. The laws of sovereignty have been altered so that if you defend your property, you can easily be jailed for everything from assault to murder. Your Constitution has been altered to the point that your President could be a virtual dictator in the event of a declared 'National Emergency' (See Executive Orders 11490). Your money is not as strong as many others backed with gold. Do you get more time to act as you wish than other people in other lands?

Few persons really know what freedoms are all about. Freedom of expression, for instance, just doesn't exist on this planet. If you walked up to a person at this time ('75) and told him exactly what you were thinking, he would classify you as nuts, psycho, or just plain uncouth.

What is Communism all about?

The original visions of Marx were very valid ideas for a paradise on Earth. Present Communism simply uses this work to 'bait' freedom-hungry individuals into their deceptive dictatorship. The leaders of Communism have as their goal world rule, and, during the early '70's, they were going to destroy the major U. S. centers and occupy this Country. Almost 3 million crack Mongolian troops were prepared to use our survivors to re-build our nation into a 'bread basket' for the Communist nations. Communist leaders later began to realize that they were too economically tied to the rest of the world, that to break down the economies of the world just might destroy their own systems. No small part of present stability ('75) is owed to certain actions of high level free 'guardians.'

As those under Communism are educated, there is the possibility of internal changes. Even domination oriented education brings on an increased ability to think and choose. Carl Marx said in his original work that his system would never work without the self control of each individual. As usual, we can clearly see the allegiance of any system by the actions--choice. . . no choice.

Why is there continual war on this planet?

In order to insure a continual sale of arms and to perpetuate various domination government systems, the controlling powers of Earth create constant fear and hostility. In the case of insuring arms sales through fear of war, it is hard to juggle this influence without occasional 'backfires.' In the past wars have also been caused by persons of domination who enjoyed great power. Some have even been necessary and encouraged because it was the only way to topple stagnated governments and ideas. Even in the recent past, it was only through war that the people gained the benefits of higher technology. Left alone, money oriented industry is reluctant to allow new technology which would cut into the old profit-making lines.

Reduced to a sentence, 'The cause of war is the domination system now in control.'

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE MAJOR CONTROL METHODS USED BY THE DOMINATION.

At this time, the whole planet is systemized into unit values of production. The U.V. System is now money & the major world governments use it through a world banking system. This procedure allows a complete control of nations, regardless of the many money values in use. This system also assures that there is a high material or agricultural production. It should be recognized at this point, that the money system itself is a very worthwhile system. It has always been it's use for domination that is against Free p's.

There are always many lesser systems used for control. Most use and perpetuate constant futility. The domination forces constantly use many variations of the proverbial 'carrot on a stick'. In most instances, even if the thing desired is gained, the dream soon turns to ashes...& little true happiness is achieved. Money, power, guilt, fear, life beyond death, security, ..all are emotions, factors, or conditions which are twisted & used to dominate. True happiness & security must come from within a free person.

What is meant by "THE MEAK SHALL INHERITE THE EARTH"?

This term does not mean that persons should not defend themselves. One of the achelles heels of the domination system is the fact that in the long bloody cycles of civilization, it is the strong who fight & die... it is the weak or 'meak' who often survive.

Who actually "pulls the strings" on this planet? There are several major factions vying for world rule, but the one that has come out on top is the ultra-secret Bismark Imperium. This organization is set up in manifests only (which few persons have ever seen), and therefore there are virtually no documents concerning it. Its goals of preordained world rule come from a lineage dating back to the ancient Atlantean Hierarchy. Its social "carriers" include the Masonic Lodge. The Bismark Imperium was the power behind Hitler, and its military arm is the ultra-secret Werewolf Organization. During the 2nd World War, the SS were aware of the Werewolf secret police group... and they greatly respected it! The Elite of the Bismark Imperium are the so-called Illuminati.

Why is the system set up by the Mind Complex (Big Brother) so stressful & devoid of pleasure? For P-mind to reach its goal of regaining its lost powers of Mind-over-matter, it must increase the brain wattage of the general populace thru comprehension. However, most persons do not WANT to change or to jeopardize their present security base. This tends to keep them from making decisions that could bring on changes in their lives. In the face of such resistance to change, the Domination found that only by DENYING the human of PLEASURE and promising its return IF the person upgraded themselves could they insure PROGRESS. Unhappy persons denied of their pleasures will do almost ANYTHING to get them back. The so-called Progress (the civilization of Mind Complex) pulls the simple living, primitive, static people up into a complex world of many pressures & problems... which, in turn, upgrades their thinking capacities & mental capabilities.

Why don't we just get rid of our corrupt leaders & systems and start over? Leaders are always led to MURDER, in one form or another. True leaders must always kill opponents bodies or ideas, to gain followers. Systems based upon leaders are doomed... but until a BETTER system is presented, it is not wise to destroy the original system. If one building is ugly, it is senseless to tear it down & suffer its loss... when there isn't another building to take its place.

How have we managed to lose over 90% of our Constitutional rights? Most persons, today, are so involved in chasing around after the Survival "carrot on a stick", that they simply have no time left to demand & to stand up for their fast-eroding rights. They gamble away their Present Happiness for a Future Gain.

Is our criminal system of value? No. In our current Judicial system, they punish people for acting to survive. Many criminals know of no other way to survive. If ALL people were GUARANTEED their survival needs, there would be no NEED to steal.

Is it possible to truly enslave the people of the world? For a short time, yes. Comp. students will realize that it is a goal of P-mind to eliminate emotions. After thousands of years, the Exile leaders have just about given up on this goal. Even during the worst wars, the troops will refuse to fight during their favorite holidays.

Why do slaves remain slaves? Most slaves do not realize that they are enslaved!

Are more educated persons more inclined to fight for freedom? The more highly educated people become, the less likely they are to revolt! China, for example, once had such a highly educated populace under the Mandarian System (civil service, etc.) that the whole Chinese nation of billions were conquered by Genghis Khan & a couple of million invaders. The U.S. has historically helped its world neighbors to push intruders out of their countries. Now, we are becoming less helpfull in aiding & defending others. Even Russia is now being educated out of violence. As the major nations of today let their citizens become better educated, there is less international violence than ever before in recent history. Because of smaller less educated powers, however, it is still necessary to "keep the gunpowder dry".

Have we progressed to the degree expected of us, by identities such as yourself?

In some ways. In the United States you have had the desired technological breakthroughs and progress. Unfortunately, you have lost around 80% of your Constitutional freedoms. Thomas Jefferson observed that your freedoms would be taken unless there was constant vigilance and action. They have been. Your people no longer have the security of land, money, or just laws. The land can be oppressively taxed and confiscated, the money once based on hard metal value and ethical issuance can now become worth no more than 'paper,' and your very Constitution has been circumvented and eroded.

Based on ownership of property and home after a reasonable amount of work, you have been in an economic depression since the '60's. Working persons seldom have more debt-free property than during the great depression of the '30's. Without more action toward gaining freedom, I'm afraid a difficult lesson will be forthcoming.

What brings about taxation?

Apathy of a freedom-loving people does! Most of the taxes in the United States are in violation of the original Constitution. If this original Constitution had been fought for and safe-guarded, the U. S. would still be the strong, delightful free nation she once was. Even local taxation has come under the guise of good.

City dog licenses were issued because it was once hard to pinpoint sheep killing dogs. Entry upon property was illegal except in pursuit of an unlicensed dog. Now, of course, the licenses are just another source of revenue. City business licenses were to legalize entry upon private property; now they are a city tax. Even air is now taxed through the required smog control devices. Sex may be our next tax, through required medical services. In the past, no nation has survived when taxation got beyond moderate levels.

Why is it so hard for working classes to get ahead?

Basically the rich have always feared violent reactions from the working classes. They realize that production is necessary to sales and money; without the working man, there would be nothing. In the past they have been able to juggle the economies of the nations to keep the workers pretty well in line.

If, in the U.S. for instance, unemployment over 10%-or danger of an economic collapse would cause them to pump more money into the economy to balance it. If things got too good and wages started up, they would create economic problems. Recently, the Unions have brought great changes and the rich are very unhappy about the working classes having so much, materially. Taxes brought on by excessive Government spending have helped slow this situation, but now Communism is making the juggling game even more difficult. Again, the problem simply boils down to the perpetuation of domination systems.

What is Socialism based on?

The basic Communist systems have contrived to show great benefits to the working classes of people. Because the intellectual elements and factions could not see any benefit possible under Communism, Socialism was invented. Like Communism, Socialism, in its present forms, does not free the individual. It is another system 'warped' for domination perpetuation and control.

***Chapter H***

CHARITY

ABBOTT THAYER

Can "accidental" illnesses occur? Yes. This Earth is no longer in perfection. There can be "mechanical" flaws at birth, such as gene reproductions at the wrong time in the womb, that lead to various dis-eases due to structural imbalance or flaws.

Which of my minds causes me to eat & drink to excess? CONFLICTS are a major cause of eating & drinking to excess. If you are a basic "9 to 5" person that can Eat, Drink, and Be Merry WITHOUT carrying over the problems of your daily actions... then you are using a lot of Brain (A-mind) action. However, if you are unhappy with your lot, seeking answers, & can't seem to forget your involvements in Fighting, Loving, & Living in general... then you're tearing yourself apart with Mind (usually your P-mind). When we tear ourselves apart, we also tend to indulge in eating & drinking to give our A-minds at least SOME pleasure & to get our P-minds temporarily off our backs. If your 3 Minds are BALANCED, however, you will be free of conflict.

Why is DMSO effective? DMSO is a NATURAL Carbon compound. It is similar, in many respects, to its manufactured cousin... Carbon Tetrachloride. Carbon Tetrachloride (known as carbon-tet) is used in machine shops to cut grease, because it tends to isolate silicon substances like dirt & sand. DMSO can be very dangerous to the human liver, IF absorbed in excessive amounts. The liver balances the amount of Carbon & Silicon used by the body, and it is possible to disrupt this balance with excessive use of DMSO. This is why DMSO has not yet been made legal for medical use.

Why is Gold effective in a variety of medical uses? Gold is the closest element to Copper, which once carried the Perfection Energies, on this planet.

How do memory drugs work? As the human ages, the chemicals at the base of the synapse points (in the Brain) are often depleted. Memory drugs usually renew these chemicals, to some degree, and thus renew the memory.

What causes Epilepsy? Epilepsy happens when the body's conducting solution (electrolyte) alters or flickers, thereby causing the body's nerve grid to fusc. This condition often develops during sudden dietary changes.

What really causes Cancer? The Greeks (in ancient times) were well aware that Cancer was simply a case where portions of the body were dying AHEAD of the rest of the body. Traumatic shocks can bring this condition on within a year's time, however, the lack of Affection over longer periods of time is the greater problem. Lack of Affection is the #1 cause of Cancer.

How do sleep-inducing gasses work? Anesthetics, such as Chloroform, often work on the simple principle of supplying the body with an OVERDOSE of a substance which would normally only relax it. For example, if a little catnip makes a cat feel pleasantly relaxed, then an excess of catnip can bring the cat to a state of non-alertness.

Why is Lithium so effective in the treatment of mental disorders? It is simply a very scarce dietary supplement that some persons, due to their genetic background, find necessary for normal functioning.

Is Nuclear Radiation as grave a threat as environmentalist groups would have us believe? Nuclear bombs have been 'clean' or free of high rad. waste count for years & Nuclear reactor waste is really not any great danger under the present safeguard systems. The Human body can normally through off a reasonable amount of over exposure... just as it can with solar rays. Niacin & several other substances can speed this process up if necessary. Actually, the most dangerous substance on this planet is Cobalt. The center of the Sun contains Cobalt, & a piece the size of an Orange could 'Nova' Earth for a thousand years.

Why does Alcohol make us feel good? Alcohol dilates the arteries of the body. This allows better circulation & relaxation. This would make a person feel good just by itself, but alcohol also effectively cuts off BOTH the B & C-minds. This gives the animal-body a break, and activates the body's PLEASURE-FUN field. Such drugs (alcohol IS a drug) are not necessary if you are in control of your Minds, but alcohol can be beneficial... when used in moderation.

Why do alcoholics act so strangely? Alcohol releases the individual from responsibility because it shuts down both B & C-mind. Animals, as we all know, are "irresponsible" by "civilized" human standards. And, with B & C-mind shut off, the humans' A-mind produces animal behavior in the human. This can be a JOY to behold, or a HORROR to behold..., depending upon time, place, and situation. The C-mind will not use a body disoriented from alcohol. If NEEDED, however, it will instantly sober up the body. Alcoholics are generally sloppy & surley, and they often gripe & bitch. These actions are typical when A-minds gather in groups under certain conditions. One can only deal with violence-prone alcoholics before or after they get drunk. Violent acts, in this state, can only be met with violence.

How do you recognize an alcoholic? The only difference in EXPRESSION between a person who is merely drinking for relaxation & a person who has the alcohol controlling them IS CONTROL.

What makes so many persons turn to Drugs? We are always being told things that keep us in fear, thus preventing our ENJOYMENT of life. For example, the majority of man's theories about smoking constantly change... as they are proven wrong. At one time, they claimed that smoking caused Tuberculosis. Now, they claim that smoking causes Cancer. Tomorrow, they will discover that BOTH diseases are caused by VIRUSES. However, the SCARE campaign that has been perpetrated upon the general public has generated a lot of UNFOUNDED fears. Many humans, not enjoying a life of fear, will very often times turn to Drugs (alcohol included) to ease their fears & add some FUN to their lives.

What damage is done by drugs other than LSD?

Mushrooms, pyote, grass, and many of the artificial drugs are usually not permanently damaging to the brain for some time. Harder drugs such as heroin may badly damage the body more quickly. The great difference in these drugs and LSD is that these drugs can be stopped by choice, while 'acid' does its damage without a 'choice' being involved.

With so many drugs such as grass or hemp, as it is called in the East, the effects of the drug eventually take away the ability to recognize the undesirable effects that are being caused. There are terrible prices to pay for drug useage, but as long as free choice laws are not abridged, there will be no restrictions other than those society sets up.

Can L S D be helpful in certain conditions?

LSD attacks the negative nerve endings of brain cells and causes what you could term a short circuit. The metallic content of the nerves carry electricity, and as the LSD eats away the nerve endings, there is eventually an electrical overload and many nerves are blown. An analogy would be the fine wires of a flashbulb blowing as the electricity is introduced.

In the human brain, the ability to ever replace the blown brain cells is usually lost after the first few 'trips.' A person who has had repeated doses will permanently lose the function of certain 'blown' areas of his brain. Influx of mental energy on higher levels requires that the brain handle much higher-than-normal loads of brain current.

Many volunteers of free allegiance have permanently blown their missions by first blowing their brains partially out on LSD. The Domination had hoped for a 15% wipe-out rate by such methodology by the mid '70's, but it is estimated that this booby trap was only 8% effective. It is well to add that if the brain damage is not too severe, a person can petition his mind or entity-flow-line to re-construct portions of the damaged brain, somewhat. Much reconstruction work will probably be done at the time of the final choosing, if required.

If Affection can cure ALL of our illnesses & dis-eases, then does this mean that Doctors are no longer needed? That is a Perfection question. Once Perfection is reached, no... there is no such thing as a doctor. But until Perfection is reached by all the beings on this planet, then some form of remedial action will have to be pursued by somebody that knows what to do when the other person doesn't. And therefore, there will always be a counselor of some type called a doctor, psychologist, psychiatrist, talker, witch doctor,... it doesn't make any difference. When a person gets struck by accident, their ability to think clearly disappears. A person NOT afflicted can then think clearly FOR them... in this instance...and guide them to a return. So, to eradicate helpers... and doctors should fall in that category... that will never happen UNTIL Perfection is reached. There will always be someone around to help, because that's part of having relationships.

How can we find out what the true cause of our dis-eases are? You, as an animal-man, are like two people. One is composed of matter, and the other is composed of anti-matter. This anti-matter portion of your animal body is your Soul. You can ask your old Soul why it is letting a part of your body go bad. Your "inner voice" may hint that you are abusing your body due to some particular excess (staying in P-mind dwell too long is a common excess). If you challenge your Soul to offer proof of self-abuse, your liver (or whatever) may have a sudden pain as a demonstration of what shape you would be in if your Soul were not aiding it. You must accept that the potential is there, before any results will be forthcoming. Stop and think... isn't some "inner intelligence or force" causing your blood to flow in your veins & your heart to beat? This is your "stem-brain" or Soul in action. Hereditary illnesses, genetic flaws, and other imperfect conditions can be cured when you couple your affection-field with you ancient Soul. Even cancer & heart-attacks can be cured by this method. (see Comp. 4)

Can negative thoughts cause eye disorders? Eye problems usually stem from prolonged ABUSE & strain..., and psychological problems usually have very little affect, in such cases. However, a lack of AFFECTION can cause hereditary eye disorders to suddenly surface.

Can negative thoughts cause eye disorders? Eye problems usually stem from prolonged ABUSE & strain..., and psychological problems usually have very little affect, in such cases. However, a lack of AFFECTION can cause hereditary eye disorders to suddenly surface.

What causes sickness & accidents? Injuries are OUTSIDE problems. Sickness is an INSIDE EMOTIONAL problem. Cancer, for instance, is usually preceded by great emotional conflict. We can think "well" thoughts, or constantly think "sick" thoughts. Tendencies can be present from the heritage pattern (DNA, etc.), but such physiological weaknesses can also be overcome. There are 4 vital centers of the body that one should pay close attention to. These are the HEART, the LUNGS, the LIVER, and the KIDNEYS. Keep them in good shape, and you will be OK. Minor problems with teeth, hearing, aches, pains, etc. can be dealt with by ordinary means or ignored. Affection can cure ANY dis-ease, but too much attention given to these minor problems through Mind concentration can lower the vitality of the 4 main centers... leading to dangerous consequences.

When should we eat? Eat when hungry. You can sometimes satisfy a Mind actuated craving by visualizing eating the desired food. However, this cannot satisfy a bodily need. RECOGNIZE where the craving is actually coming from, and then treat it accordingly.

Are Food Supplements & Minerals beneficial to the average person? In the ancient world, the animal-man had a relatively short lifetime (by TODAY'S standards) which peaked out at around 30 years of age. One must remember that in Christ's time, the average life expectancy was only 35 years. With the advent of the Minds' over-control actions, the human body was programmed to live longer. However, this also gave man a declining ability to adapt to new foods, and it also gave man a declining ability to absorb the elements in ANY food... AFTER he reached the age of 30. Vitamin & Mineral supplements are of benefit, then, but in time, the body fails to convert them efficiently. CHELATED supplements can aid in this assimilation problem, to some degree.

How does Vitamin C work? Vitamin C cuts off P-mind, and it also works to soften the veins & arteries of the body. These actions tranquilize the bodily nervous system, so that the body can return to its normal functioning.

How do Herbs work? Herbs contain minute quantities of vital trace elements, vitamins, & pacifarins which are often unavailable in our "ordinary" dietary intake.

Could we prolong our lives by switching to a diet like the Hunzas live on? The periodic regenerative floods which rejuvenate the soils in the LOWLAND area do little for the HIGHER-ALTITUDE dwellers. These people (like the Hunzas) must adapt to crops that come from trees & meat from wild animals. The lowlanders would find such food as the Hunzas eat to be deficient, without considerable adaptation... and vice versa.

How does Acupuncture work? Acupuncture needles simply block off the pain signals running to the brain. It does not alleviate problems, but it can offer TEMPORARY relief... like aspirin does.

Aren't many food additives a heavy burden on the human body? Certainly! The body's process of throwing off "bad" food drains one's energy & even causes a certain amount of depression.

What is a good food to eat to vitalize the brain? In the matter of our bodily replenishment, it is more efficient to match HARMONIES to balance shortages. Eat flesh to renew flesh. In the body's building mechanisms, meat and animal-product enzymes have over TWICE as much energy value as vegetable matter. In the crucial brain circuitry, an enzyme-rich diet is often helpful in replenishing the vital chemicals at the base of the brain synapse points. Faulty brain function can occur in a starved brain.

What causes 'epidemics' of sickness?

Most things in this physical dimension are subject to certain cycle patterns. Such patterns weaken or strengthen natural resistance. Sickness can sometimes be caused by waves of energies which activate certain virus action. An unusually high heart attack rate for the past decade came from such an influence.

Is Vegetarianism harmful? Vegetarianism, or any other sudden diet switch, can soon cause disorientation. It takes around 2 years to build up a tolerance for the new "Mono" diets, etc.

Is Vegetarianism helpful?

By including meat in his diet, man has increased his capacity for the heightened brain cell action caused by the electrical stimulation from certain amino acids. Electrometers show a greater amount of electricity flows through the brain when meat is included in the diet. Man or animal, the brain functions at a higher efficiency when meat is eaten. This means a body that is more active, alert, and aggressive. Few vegetarian-based cultures have ever achieved anything of notable value. India is a good example, and few persons realize that the ancient rulers forbade meat simply because they realized that India could never furnish the pasture and fodder to economically raise the meat that would be necessary. While rulers used religious law to block the masses, they often dined on meat in their own households. Even egg production is drastically reduced when chickens fail to get meat in their diet.

When the 'exile' problem is finally resolved, there will be no need for meat. Until this time, meat is probably the most necessary and concentrated food we have.

Why does food quality fail to be of more concern in the Comp. material? There is, unfortunately, a great ignorance as to just how our animal bodies are nourished. The unit of measure we use for calibrating food efficiency is the Calorie, and this comes from a test once used for measuring coal efficiency! To apply this unit to a nourishment process which has over a hundred variables is ridiculous! We humans run at a temperature of around 98 degrees Fahrenheit. To get this amount of heat from a stove our size would take many times the amount of food we normally furnish our bodies with. We gain our energy from air & water as well as from the food we eat. Our material bodies are made up of matter, which is formed by rings or "holes". The smaller holes of our food can energize us, while holes larger than us have no effect. (see Comp. 4)

How do we know what foods are best for us?

To a certain degree, the body will produce cravings for the substances it needs. There is some danger to this, in that artificial foods such as sugar may produce an artificial craving. Man originally had a better tolerance for natural poisons than now. The appendix, for instance, acted as a natural trap to prevent serious damage from such poisons, and it still acts to a degree against cancer.

The mind plays a great part in seeing that junk foods are thrown off by the body. Without the mind, the body would function no better from junk foods than the laboratory rats, whose life expectancies are drastically cut down on such fare. Because of our mind, it is not so important what we put into our bodies as what our thoughts consist of. If we think that junk foods will poison us like the laboratory rats, then it will. If we know it won't, then it won't. Unfortunately, poisonous food additives greatly reduce the brain's efficiency in most higher civilizations at present. Few persons resist this poison with proper mind action.

What about the persons down through the ages that have been able to live without eating food? While a certain amount of air can be converted by the body into energy, the persons on record who lived without eating have been unable to do hard physical labor or even function under a normal work load. It requires a great deal of oxygen consumption to gain the elements required for survival from the air, and the Hu-man body just can't push enough air through the lungs to compete with food. This situation was different 12,000 years ago before the Exiles came here and this planet was still in perfection. When the "egg knowledge" was broken & the earth changed, many of the larger animals died out when they needed to depend upon food alone. Man's body, being the same as an animal, must have food the same as an animal. While the Alpha mind can exist on the Earth's oxygen content alone, the body needs many energy sources only found in food. There are persons who have abused bodies that should have long been dead, but their LIFE ENERGY sustained them under MENTAL control. There IS a difference.

What do you consider major faults with present eating habits? The body will let a person know what its needs are. Today, life is so hectic that all too many persons are driven by Mind desires & NOT bodily needs. Persons eat when they aren't hungry. They also tend to ignore basic liquid needs. The body of the average person needs at least 4 glasses of water a day to keep the stomach acids diluted down. Persons who are overweight could drink up to 10 glasses of water in response to hunger sensations. Meals should be about 1/3 water, and Europeans have long gained this quota from wine & other brews. Americans who fall short of these requirements are prone to headaches... from un-diluted stomach acids. Candy bars & Caffeine consumed for "pick me up" energy fall far short of simple grass! Grass is the most usefull food on our planet. While it would take a long period of time for the Hu-man body to adjust to eating large quantities of grass, a small amount will give almost instant energy. As Christ pointed out, however, it isn't so much what goes INTO the body but what goes on in the Hu-man MENTAL state ABOUT that food.

Is it wrong to kill animals for meat? Humans are all too prone to assume that killing animals is an unnatural & vile act. They choose to ignore the fact that ALL life-forms, on this planet, are caught up in the complex "eat & be eaten" food chain. They are quick to assume that OTHER life-forms have the same pain that HUMANS suffer with. They refuse to see the natural workings & functionings of the perfection forms surrounding them. The "primitive" races, on this planet, are far more astute, in these matters. They kill gently, without guilt. Cardinal rules require that game be killed BEFORE the animal's "alert" field becomes active, thereby sending adrenalin & other toxic substances through the animal's system. An animal "bagged" with a shot to the heart, before the animal senses the hunter, provides delicious meat. A shot to other portions of the body, or a shot AFTER the animal becomes alert, can bring about tainted meat. Once alerted, a killing blow may temporarily stun an animal... but, in a minute or so, the animal is very likely to be up & fleeing. Professional European hunters are often aware that game must be heart-shot, while still unalerted. All TRUE hunters would not even think of killing game, unless there is a need for meat. The Biblical traditions of the Jews call for the killing of animals in affection. Meat cannot be "kosher", IF the animal was in distress, when killed. Persons myopic to the point of refusing meat, because it has been "killed", just ignore a million examples of "life feeding on other life" all around them. While professing a "greater spirituality" by their actions, they often fail to "advance" as quickly as their fellow human beings.

To what extent can the power of mind be used to heal oneself?

Since the time of Christ, it has been possible to heal oneself mentally. There is some delay in allowing full power usage for this purpose, so, for most persons, it requires a series of repeated concentrated sessions. One must visualize the adjustment desired and be careful not to dwell upon an un-normal condition. It is an unfortunate truth that most sickness does not come from a real physical problem. The domination system encourages persons to think of themselves as very limited and prone to weakness. This is not a truth nor reality.

One of the traps that is all too common is to convince a person that certain actions of theirs, or even what they eat, will result in sickness. With enough convictions of these beliefs, the results come. In smoking, for instance, far too many persons with physical systems that fail to eradicate the deleterious substances from the lungs are convinced of only harmful results. These persons can notice the results and stop smoking, while other persons can throw off the undesirable substances and can gain the soothing benefits of nicotine (through their lungs) and enjoy smoking.

Can we derive any benefits from cigarettes? Yes! Cigarettes can give a person better powers of concentration, as a general rule, because they cut off the harsh impact of outside noises & disturbances. Persons in good health are usually not bothered by smoking... in moderation.

Why do Cement & Rock Dust, when added to cattle feed, bring about considerable weight gains? The weight gained is not in the flesh, but in the bones. Cement & Rock Dust merely cause the bones in the cattle to increase in size & weight.

What Mind energies are used in Healing? While the Delta (the animal-body energies) wave does the actual healing, it is the Beta (P-mind) wave that PUSHES the Delta-wave energies to the level required for good results.

How does one use this Beta-wave? Beta occurs in the P-minded high-excitement drive. Good healers "hype" themselves up by having enthusiastic observers around them, or they just "hype" themselves up MENTALLY.

Can any bodily positions be used in healing? Any position can be used, but most healers usually avoid the "face to face" position because the Sex energies are stimulated in this position (with the addition of large amounts of Delta AFFECTION healing energy).

Can animals send strong healing energy? Certainly! A good example is a dog sending healing vibes to his master while using a favorite licking expression. A dog's saliva is not infection-causing to humans because their use of affection kills off the possibly infectious agents!

HOW DOES ONE GO ABOUT HEALING ONE'S SELF?

The brain is a fantastic mechanism & far more efficient than anything science could produce. If a condition exists that was caused by a faulty thought then, it is possible to re-program the brain to eliminate the problem... simply by corrective thought. Generally speaking, you as the intellect, can talk to the brain & ask it to correct a condition that is obviously not of benefit to the body. This takes a certain amount of time since it takes 7 minutes just for new blood to be circulated to the organs. It is usually best not to be too specific... for if it is a general condition that needs altering, the brain is far better able to make the correct changes than your lower intellect. Keep on reminding the brain of the condition you desire... we are usually too frivolous & vacillating in our thinking to convince the brain we are serious. The MIND can be used in healing for a far faster & greater effect, but until one gains a 'flowline' for understanding, this is beyond normally required efforts.

WHY CAN'T WE USE FREE ENERGYS TO GROW NEW BODY PARTS OR HEAL OURSELVES?

We can. At this time however the instant change of matter through using the 'mentals' is awaiting the acceptance & useage choice of Earths peoples. Once a final choice period is over, such 1st instance energy changes can come quickly & lawfully. At the moment one can focus their mind on the problem and slowly re-new the body by degrees. At this time few persons of the free bother to do this because of the energys or attention it takes from normal body functions & protection. This of course renders them more vulnerable to attack. Apparent 'instant healings' frequently do occur, but these often take place under the auspices of the domination & there is a price to be paid. By healing a heart...there may be a danger of excess enrgy taken from the kidneys to effect such a cure. The domination will often perform services but the price to be paid is almost never hinted at. All services done under free law energies, on the other hand, carry no obligation or price. We grow new skin & it is only from our pre conditioned thinking that we fail to grow new body parts....or stay healthy.

CAN I REGULATE MY BODY FUNCTIONS MENTALLY ?

Yes. If for instance, you are feeling listless for a few days, mentally speed up your heart a few beats per minute. By learning to listen to your heart, you can easily learn to regulate the beat according to the need. If you want to run off toxins or poisons...or wind up a little more quickly in the morning after you awaken, learn to speed up your heart accordingly. If you are hyper-active, think your tempo down somewhat. Your brain normally keeps your body functions working very smoothly, but there are times that your mental control can intervene a bit for your best interests. In such cases, it is essential for you to "talk to"...or work out a mutual understanding with your brain. The brain feels it is working for the best interests of the body at all times. Fear is a natural protective mechanism for it. It is up to you to show why you should exert such outside influence.

You have stated that, "When you stop comparing, you stop pain." Could you explain this statement? You must recognize something for it to exist. To RE-COGNIZE something means "to know that something percieved has been percieved before". In other words, to recognize anything you need to have the faculty of MEMORY. Without memory, you cannot compare. If you cannot compare the feeling of a crushed arm to the feeling of a "normal" arm, then pain in that crushed arm does not exist for YOU. In animals, pain is a warning signal only... just like an alarm clock going off telling them to "baby" that portion of their body until it heals. Pain exists for the human as something terrible only when they use their Mind to COMPARE. The exercises & rituals of many groups are simply methods of putting one in a state where the mind is not forced to compare. For example, Nature Cults have one watch the sunset. Concentration on the beauty of the sunset gives one no alternate sun to compare it to. Concentration on the painfull area or event perpetuates the pain by allowing comparison. If you concentrate on PLEASURE instead, then you cannot RECOGNIZE the pain.... and it will no longer exist for you AS LONG AS YOU HOLD YOUR CONCENTRATION UPON YOUR PLEASURE DWELL. In such a pleasure dwell, some persons will actually fall asleep. To find your own pleasure dwell, get a piece of paper and make a list of all the things you USED to find pleasurable. Then, a week later, make a list of the pleasures you PRESENTLY enjoy. Then, take a month looking at the two lists & ask yourself where your pleasures went and how you can get them back. If you really look hard, you will discover that YOU have DENIED YOURSELF of over 70% of your old pleasures for all kinds of justifications. Many persons only have a 10% enjoyment quotient, and they seldom use even this tiny percentage! Many persons are so negative that they have actually killed off all of their pleasures! Without pleasure, you might as well be dead!

IS IT POSSIBLE TO ELIMINATE PAIN ?

Pain is a safeguard for the body. It signals an alert when something is wrong. A number of persons have been born with a painless nerve system and this has always resulted in a shortened life span. At present however, there is a great deal more pain than is necessary due to mental pain conditioning. Childbirth, for instance, should bring joy instead of pain. These two feelings are closely linked and when the wrong conditioning has occurred the joy of sex can be painful, or flagellation can bring joy.

How can I stop a Dentist's drill from hurting me? Tell yourself that you will, soon be getting a signal, in the form of the doctor's inserting the hypodermic needle into the area to be anesthetized, and that you do not need pain in this area. The nerves, in that area, can then send a feeling... but it won't need to be pain. Think of these "problem areas" (where he is about to drill) as sending SIGNALS for action (like an alarm clock does), & NOT pain, as such. If you follow these simple steps, you may be pleasantly surprised!

Could you explain about the Human aging & growth factors? The Human body has a 156 year half-life breakdown limitation. This means that if the human does not kill off any of his/her emotions, the human will live a full life until they reach the age of 156... when they will merely crumble into dust! The many stories of Chinese, etc. living to be 200 or even 300 years old do not take into account the many changes in the Chinese calendar. Even during the time when the Exiles first came here & had their Mind-over-matter abilities, they STILL had to re-constitute their "garments of matter"... in an extremely painful process... every 156 years! Incidentally, children between the ages of five & ten can form the kind of body they want (if their power of WILL is strong enough). For example, a child who is picked on for being a "runt" can grow up into a tall, stocky person that no one would dare to push around. Persons today do not usually live to be 156 because they kill off their emotions. When all of your emotions are used up or killed off, you will die. We end up killing ourselves every time we DENY our own emotions... a little bit at a time.

How do rejuvenation drugs and/or treatments work? Anything which causes the cells within your body to renew themselves thru SEXUAL INTER-RELATIONS is effective. If the human abstains from sexual relations & refrains from sharing Affection with others, then the cells ALSO stop such actions... and your health goes. (see Comps. 3 & 4 for more details)

How does one overcome aches & pains in the Joints? About 90% of all arthritic joint problems are brought about by anxiety, fear, & stress. These emotional factors cause tension, which in turn brings undue pressures against the joint's friction areas... resulting in pain. Aspirin tends to loosen this pressure, but the BASE FACTOR behind the emotional problems cannot be reached by drugs. Lack of Affection, due to C-minded DENIAL factors, is the cause of these emotional dis-eases... and the enjoyment of Pleasure & Affection prevents the undue pressure build ups in the first place.

How do some persons seem to stay so young? When I was a boy, I recall a Dr. King who looked young all his life & outlived several wives. He and others in such great shape are persons who stay in B-mind dwell a good portion of the time. Tension, tenseness, agitation, strain, and the other consequences of continued & unbridled P-mind dwell usage bring on early body breakdown and a toxic state. Old Doc King would go on a two week "toxin elimination" Juice Diet every year. This is an excellent idea for most persons. Another way to eliminate toxins is to consume a small intake of lecithin daily. Whey contains a great deal of lecithin, and is preferable to soy-based lecithin.

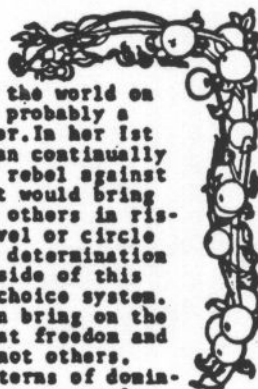

What causes excess FAT in a human? The animal-body of the human tends naturally towards a lean, lithe body condition. This "natural" condition is set up by the DNA/RNA patterns of the body. Your body has a set number of fat corpuscles, and this number does not change. However, they CAN swell up, when the Brain so directs. This occurs when the Mind (usually P-mind) reduces the PLEASURES of the body, over a period of time. When the Mind treats the body as something ugly (by denying its pleasures, etc.), then the animal-body rebels against this aggressive action with PHYSICAL UGLYNESS.

Why is there such diversity in human appearance? We reflect what we are inside by our outer appearance.

What determines our outer appearance? We ARE our outer appearance. Our OUTER appearance is the OUTER EXTENSION of our INNER state of BEING. Our Soul functions WITHIN a chemical-electrical-mechanical enclosure... which we call a body. If our EMOTIONAL input didn't affect us, we would stay "youthful" until we reached the age of 156... when we would merely crumble into dust, due to atomic unbinding. When you DENY & KILL OFF your OWN emotions, then you are destroying your OWN health, happiness, & life.

FREEDOM

Because it is so easy to blame the many problems of the world on individual ideologies, groups, & vested interests it is probably a good idea at this point to examine the situation further. In her 1st chapter of "You" Janet Wheeler points out that while man continually dominates his fellow beings & animals, he continues to rebel against his domination by others. Total domination by this fact would bring on an adoration of self. More closely, people dominate others in rising waves of authority, starting at the baby-family level or circle on up to the highest forms of government. Under a self determination decision persons can recognize that the very opposite side of this domination chain exists. It is the FREE or freedom of choice system.

Since it is really only the act of the self that can bring on the reactions in life, at this point it can be realized that freedom and domination ARE and one can choose whatever fits self, not others. Self, being free, has the right to look at all the patterns of domination that exist and realize that the teachings forced upon people under physical & abstract punishment threats are self accepted domination patterns. A point can be reached when self realizes that continuity in free can only be had when it is based on Self Knowledge... not the knowledge of others. Acting upon self knowledge and allowing each & every other self to work upon their self knowledge...with the total right of self defense to each in his own different knowledge, such a continuity can be the basis of a free system & an understanding of self. "SELF IS THE FREE KNOWLEDGE & IT'S USE WITHOUT DOMINATION"

For persons who choose to exist under & uphold a FREE system there are guidelines in the News-Novel #11 "Your Road". This work points out that regardless of your choices you are only accountable to yourself. If you continue in a domination system you will pay the price of returned physical or mental pain (witness the last ten thousand years) If you continue to seek freedom you must accept the responsibility of granting freedom to others. Coming from within yourself freedom cannot be taken from you unless you allow it. you have the total right to self defense & choice. Being a reality, thought will determine whether you are happy, sad, free, or dominated. You will be continually required to make the choices yourself...or slip back into being told under the domination system. If you are faced with anger, hostility, or joy, you can accept or reject as you wish. If you are a slave you will say "I'm afraid to" if you are an incomplete person & helpless, you will say "I need". As a free person you will say "I choose to" & then take the responsibility of your actions. You will notice that persons of domination use the terms "you must", "you have to", & "you should".

THE WAYS OF DOMINATION ARE:

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| "To think badly of a person."                                   | "To do something for someone when they have not asked (do-gooding)" |
| "To condemn or judge a person."                                 | "To do something for someone & expect something in return."         |
| "To steal from a person."                                       | "To project destructive thoughts to another person."                |
| "To destroy another's possession."                              | "To make others make your decisions for you."                       |
| "To make another person do something against their choice."     | "To make others do your job or take responsibility for you."        |
| "To tell lies about another person."                            | "To make another think for you."                                    |
| "To kill another person."                                       | "To not allow another a choice."                                    |
| "To threaten another or harm another to get your way."          |   |
| "To threaten or destroy another's possessions to get your way." |   |
| ...& lastly, "To control another person."                       |   |

Now can you recognize where the problems lie? (More data from publisher)

--- FRY'S ---

...FOR COMP STUDENTS WILLING TO CONTROL THEIR CHAOS...LATER COMPS COVER THE ART OF USING ALL 3 MINDS TOGETHER FOR OPTIMUM BENEFIT.... FRY

ARE WE RESPONSIBLE FOR PERSONS LESS FORTUNATE THAN OURSELVES ?

Under FREE law, you are only responsible for yourself. You must act for yourself & keep yourself shielded if you would remain FREE. Great or poor, others have made their present conditions by their past past actions. Only the domination uses labels or titles. The FREE can move in freedom unhampered & undominated by such chains. In dealing with the laws of society you should be responsible to the point of the law that you wish. Children for instance, must be controlled to a degree until society ceases to place the responsibility of their upbringing on the parent. {legal adulthood} As compassionate beings, we should act out of good will in aiding our parents, country, or persons in trouble.

DO THE EXILES CARRY OVER MUCH OF THEIR KNOWLEDGE INTO THE PRESENT ?

Persons of 'originator' background do carry over this knowledge but few are able to re-gain enough of it to duplicate their past positions. Although they cannot choose the bodies they will incarnate in, they will often carry over powers far beyond the Earth Children. Voodoo priests, magicians, shamans, empire builders...most still carry over only a small part of what they once had. Persons of such background can usually sense those of their own kind & will not allow 'outsiders' or the Free into their organizations & power structures...many can work their way up to wealth & power in a relatively short time. Such knowledge is carried over of course, by the higher self or entity, & to some degree by genetic lines. {data later}

DOES THE THEORY OF EVOLUTION CONTAIN TRUTH ?

Since the exile problem arose, the planet has been in a status quo position regarding significant changes. This is to ensure that at the time of the final choice, all things will be just as they were at the time of the exile choosing. Before the so called 'fall', there were numerous adaptations. The larger reptiles for instance, had to drastically shrink in size or perish.

We live in a contracting & expanding universe & even the small lizards that you now see are direct descendants of former giants. Because of the abundance of food in more recent times even the people of today are inches and pounds larger than persons of more recent history. In ages past, there were many sizes of 'Earth Children'. ...as to evolution beyond such adaptation, Either one thing evolved & everything evolved...or everything was created. It is my knowledge that there is intelligent control of energy and light, & that creation is a fact.

Do we owe those who have done us a good turn?

Debts are the tools of domination. The domination wants you to feel responsible and sympathetic. This allowed a greater control over you. It is nice when persons can exchange. Giving, however, should be done with no thought of reciprocation, acceptance with no thought of debt.

Technically, under the laws of Earth and the Universe, you owe no debt and none are payable. If ignorance of law preceded a self-imposed debt, know that a gun held to your head doesn't make a binding contract. Self is free and the 'choice' laws allow you to be free as long as you wish to be. As far as debts of money and such are concerned, it is well to remember that if you break Caesar's law, you are subject to Caesar's penalties.

If my carelessness gets a friend hurt, do I gain a Karmic debt? Not necessarily! Karma is determined by your INTENT. If you INTENDED to have an enjoyable time with someone & they happen to have an accident thru your carelessness, there IS no karma.

What are the Criteria for "Correct" Actions, and how can we truly come to KNOW "right" from "wrong"? The only difference between a Lover, a Gigolo, & a Rapist is often just TIME, PLACE, & SITUATION. The Time may be right, but the wrong Situation can often times lead to disaster! To act "correctly", therefore, you need only fit your EMOTIONS into the correct Time, Place, & Situation. The Genetic patterns of most humans carry the stored-up experience of approximately 1,833 lives..., so all persons now carry DNA patterns of "right" & "wrong". The Father's (the Creator) system of "right" & "wrong" is called FREE CHOICE, and the method that we humans come to learn Free Choice is called "Karma", in most schools of metaphysical thought. To have Free Choice, you must ALSO grant Free Choice to OTHERS... and this is where most humans trip themselves up. In either case, you eventually come to KNOW what you have done by "witness", or by EXPERIENCE. What you "visit" upon others will, in turn, be visited upon YOU. By having a "taste of your own medicine", you come to KNOW the RESULTS of your actions upon others. If the result was PLEASURABLE, then that act was "right" & if the result brought PAIN, then that act was "wrong".

How do I get rid of Karma-induced pain? Pain from such a source can be eliminated or released when it is RECOGNIZED. Emotional pain, however, can come from many other sources & is a "goaded" factor. The memory of prior pain-causing events continues, and unless one allows the B-mind to turn pain into pleasure or one allows self-realization to erase the pain, there are problems. Even a simple headache can continue after the inducing conflict is over, unless correctly dealt with. Pain is an alarm system. Once the damaged area is recognized, it is foolish to continue. Without recognition, however, no choice can be made. People have no choice when the "negatives" far outweigh the "positive" free-choice factors. The first thing we humans hear are negative "don'ts". From there, it often just gets worse until the stamina is so depleted that the person is forced to return to the painful "norm".

Why are we so entangled in a maze of Karma? If you can visualize yourself as three persons tied together in an unwilling bondage, the situation will soon become clearer to you. Your animal body is saddled with two Minds that cannot see, hear, or move unless they act THROUGH the animal body "vehicle". The animal body lives for pleasure and fun, but the P-mind cares nothing about the pleasures and needs of the animal body. P-mind therefore tries to manipulate the body to serve its (P-minds) goals in gaining more excitement and things. The B-mind has the same dependency on the body, but it has a greater respect for body and favors all of the "impractical" BEAUTY concepts of living. With the chaotic thought processes and drives that result from this "three minds in the drivers seat" situation come the constant denials and punishments..., which create what some refer to as "karma".

Why do accidents occur ?

Only absolute order and continuity exists in the universe; otherwise chaos would result and the material world would disintegrate. What may appear to be an accident had it's cause in some previous action ..or transgression against another. Most of the more drastic human tragedies result from violation of 'free choice' laws. If a person brutalizes another, knowing it is 'wrong', they will eventually get the same kind of treatment under Karmic law. As we get near to a cyclic ending this action is speeded up until payments come in weeks or months instead of years-or later component lives.

In this imperfect material world there are a certain amount physical & genetic imperfections.

Is there Karma or retribution attached to killing animals?

There is no Karma attached to killing animals for food or to protect oneself. Shooting animals for sport and placing them in zoos carries a certain amount of Karma--depending on the ethics involved with the individuals. Using animals for laboratory experiments would carry no Karma, but it would not be ethical to a person acting under free principle.

IS ABORTION MURDER AND SUBJECT TO KARMIC RETRIBUTION LAWS ?

According to free law, life is that which can sustain & perpetuate itself. Since a baby can only sustain itself at its' mothers breast, after the 6th or 7th month, it is not legally life, until this time. No karma is thus incurred. {ed. note: as Comp. 2 explains, there are a number of human components beyond the brain that later come into play.}

WHAT ACTIONS AM I HELD ACCOUNTABLE FOR ?

You are held accountable for doing what you know is wrong. If a person actually feels it is not wrong to rob a bank, then there is truly no so called 'karmic' retribution. The payment would come in getting caught under the laws of the land...or 'Caesar'. It is probably well to remember that even the highest leaders of domination are usually doing what they feel is right. Under a FREE LAW system, YOU are always the judge of yourself.

Karma can actually be erased if a person is truly remorseful for acts of wrong doing. {Biblical 'repentance.'}. Karmic debts as they are often referred to, can be worked out with anyone. One need not face a specific identity that they wronged in the past, to 'balance the slate.'

While hurtful actions, long brought hurtful karma, there were no actual rewards for magnanimous or generous actions until the 1970's. At this period a 'JOY' field of energy was activated around Earth. Persons doing certain generous things, with no thought of reward or motive, were momentarily linked to the joy field energies. This was often felt as a rushing surge of exhilaration & joy over the body, just after the action.

How many lives has my Soul experienced here? Since our egg knowledge was broken some 11,240 years ago, there have been approximately 4 billion humans that have walked this Earth. So, that comes out to roughly 1,833 lives per person ( that is, 1,833 lives per Soul). These lives are often looked at as a waste, but there is actually not a moment wasted! Each time period & action are a vital part of the Soul's learning patterns. As these experiences mount & the Soul gains in KNOWLEDGE, it is continually thrust forward by such actions towards a New Perfection.

Is it possible to just give up?

Certainly. One of the problems now is that too many persons don't want to be responsible for their actions. The domination system thrives on such irresponsibility. A few steps further and persons can cease to exist as mental beings. A number of persons in mental institutions do not recognize that they exist--and thus do not exist. They are only body-shells without perceptions or recognitions. The light of life is gone from their eyes and their bodies.

Karma is created for most persons who take their own life because of life's burdens. In unusual cases, persons of free status can gain permission from a 'council' to discarnate Karma free. In such cases, it usually happens that the domination has made 'implants' and has so well blocked necessary free channels of energy that accomplishing a mission or putting up an adequate defense is impossible.

If I have a Soul, why am I unaware of it? In the first periods of life, the Soul will protect the young body with "intuitions", etc. UNTIL its advice is constantly fought by ones parents and ones C-mind. When the Soul meets too much resistance, it backs out. This saves the child from excessive trouble & from possible trips to the "funny farm" for "seeing things that aren't there", etc. The Soul often re-surfaces when the person reaches old age, leaving such senior citizens to lament that they "wish they had only known...". In periods of dis-ease, the old Soul can aid in the healing process by bathing the entire body in comforting energy-flow vibes. The potential is there, IF you will but RECOGNIZE it and put it to USE. Ask for its' help. It is only too happy to serve you. The ancient Soul is what many refer to as the Subconscious. Your Soul is very ancient. It has been accumulating knowledge for tens of thousands of years. Before the time the Exiles came here, they knew perfection. If you have feelings of guilt & must ask questions, then you are OUT of perfection. When these feelings of guilt & questions are gone, then you become a totality... finite.

Are there really "lost" souls? Lost souls are a rarity. While there are numerous situations that could fit into this category, the most common situation occurs when a persons various emotional dwells are extremely scrambled at death. Since the first other-dimensional plane is a place of Serenity, persons who are very scrambled emotionally must stay "earth-bound" until their emotional state calms down to the point where they can enter the first veil. This situation could be likened to a tape recorder that has recorded many scrambled messages. To fulfill its function, it needs to be able to reproduce only one message at a time at the proper speed. Since time is only relevant to OUR dimension, ghosts (as they are often referred to) can be around for long periods of time before they are ready for transition. It is somewhat more common for souls to be stolen from living persons. Persons with this problem are very unsure of themselves. They remain uptight & discontented until their souls return. Their brain and Minds can never fill the void until this occurs. There are more complex situations, but all such cases comprise only a fraction of a percentage of the norm & are best handled by persons of Entity-level awareness.

What "inner force" drives me? The prompter in each of us is the Soul, while the animal FEEL-FIELD brings REALITY. Our Soul coordinates this dimension, and it can eventually turn into an Entity. Entities are a TOTAL unto THEMSELVES, but they are not THE total. Entities capture a Soul, and not all persons here have an Entity. Most persons have only a DNA influenced A-mind (the Minds being carried within the cellular structure) without a B or P-mind Entity to back them up. However, this in no way limits their Souls from achieving Entity status.

If I am made up of many parts & Minds, then who am I?? You are, in this physical 3rd dimension, your ancient Soul. Your Soul is that part of you that uses your other Minds as TOOLS to help it to attain its goal of reaching New Perfection. It uses the actions of CONFLICT between your 3 minds to drive forwards in KNOWLEDGE towards New Perfection. Your Soul constantly questions ALL of your Minds' ACTIONS, and it cuts off the effort to ANY of the 3 Minds if it does not accept their proposed actions. Once it learns to BALANCE these Minds, your Soul will become an Entity.

WHAT IS A SOUL MATE ?

In the non-physical realm an identity is without sex. In the world of matter on a carbon based planet such as this, there must be sex...under the 'duality' principle. The 144,000 exiles & their 44 leaders, thus became 288,000 & 88 beings. Somewhere on the planet, all persons of intelligence origins have a 'soul mate'. Most persons do not feel inwardly content or complete until they are with their other half. Being exact opposites, soul mates enjoy completely different earth knowledges, and, in fact, only one will even recognize the other as a soul mate. There is some complication to all this in the fact that there are also duplicates in a domination form. In other words, a person of Free background can encounter their 'domination' soul mate. Such unions of course, are usually anything but dull.

When a person reaches a level of awareness sufficient to know of their other half, there is the possibility of meeting by choice. This, of course, can take time...& even bring disappointment if one's mate is tied down. The literary works of the Brownings cover some of the joyous aspects of s..union

-  How can I find one of my soul mates? Think of what you want, and mental vibrations will eventually bring you together. In the meantime, don't deny yourself of what you can substitute NOW while you wait for your "order" to come in. To do so would be as foolish as stopping your food intake until you got a steak!

What determines where an old Soul's "split halves" are born on this planet? Hostile C-minded vibrations are usually attracted to similar environments, however, there is no way that persons of ANY Mind level or dwell can be exact in choosing a SPECIFIC area. A person aiming for the United States, for instance, may end up being born in Africa instead!

What happens when we die ?

The vast majority of persons go into various levels of what some call the 'astral' regions. At the 1st levels persons mentally make their own reality, whether a 'heaven' or 'hell'. Later, they eventually wind up in either the higher domination or 'free' realms where they get an objective look at their shortcomings and are sent, or volunteer, to come back into the physical again. The 'hell' fires are simply incredibly beautiful energies. These energies are only slightly less intense in the domination regions. ± Only persons of 'free' status may travel beyond the confines of these regions. Most find themselves succumbing to the desire to come back into bodies and aid in educating or uplifting humanity however. (Data on passing through what the Bible refers to as 'veils' is found in illustrations in the Modern Humans texts. Balance can provide a means of overcoming the material world and an astral 'death').

HAVE HUMAN BEINGS CHANGED MUCH IN BODY STRUCTURE ?

The original humans up to 13,000 years ago were not the same 'beings' as today. They were the highest form of animal in the animal kingdom. Homo sapiens. Archaeological finds confirm that civilized man changed little in his mode of life up to this time. There was however some change in structure. In early periods, there were extreme variations in size. There were also differences in cranial structures, according to the development of certain areas of the brain. The old science of Phrenology had validity for a period of time... until the inbreeding of 'intelligence' became widespread.

HOW LONG IS IT BETWEEN INCARNATIONS ?

During periods when civilizations are at a culturally low ebb, it may be from one to several hundred years before a person gains much from entering a body & culture. Toward the end of the 3,400 year cycles, the cultures are advanced and persons come back from a period of a few dozen years, to even less. As this is written {mid 70's} only a few years usually elapse between death and a return.

WHO ARE THE JEWS ?

The Jewish race is simply the fairly pure genetic line of the originators or 'exiles'. While the non-physical identities of the exiles have continued to come through in many varied types of bodies, the strictly genetic lines have been retained. This has given them an advantage in certain knowledge carry overs. On the other hand, it has been a disadvantage in that they are 'inwardly' recognized & disliked by many other races.

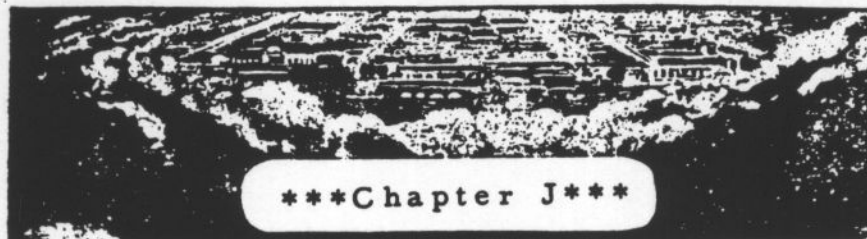

Even to this day the Jewish race continue to try to keep their blood lines free of contamination or dilution....After the 'Mother land' Atlantis sank, it was the Jewish colonies that emerged strongest...simply because there were more persons who integrated into this particular colony.

Why are so many Jews going back to Germany in 1980? The Atlanteans who escaped after Atlantis sank made their way all over this planet. In Europe, they made their way down from the Scandinavian areas & into the area that was once called Prussia. Prussia was an 113,545 square mile area in northern and central Germany which was formally dissolved in 1947 and divided among East & West Germany, Poland, and the Soviet Union. The Jews carry a high genetic lineage of these Atlantean survivors, and they have more in common with the Germans than they do with any other race! Even their languages are similar! Accounts of the Germans hating the Jews are usually nonsense, as newspaper accounts of the time will indicate.

How much longer will we humans evolve? We can't evolve! We can only AWAKEN or come to KNOW. For example, there is no way that we can get a "part fish-part man". We can only mix within our OWN species. Hybrids are actually not LIFE, because they cannot reproduce themselves. Without reproduction, there can be no CONTINUITY.

Why do persons on the edge of death often experience mental CLARITY? This clarity comes from MIND action, not necessarily BRAIN action. Even medical science is catching on to the fact that discomfort & bodily distress can be aided by chemicals (tricyclenes, etc.) which aid Mind action. They do not recognize the Mind as a separate entity from the brain yet, but they do recognize the Alpha state or mind dwell.

COMPS. ,the: the Modern Humans Comprehension Courses, by Alfred B. Glaser

When faced with brutality, should I meet "fire with fire" OR should I "turn the other cheek"? Neither! You can't get rid of brutality with more of the same, nor can you afford to let them "stomp you into the ground". You CAN stop their force from reaching you WITHOUT resorting to brutality. Your action will become brutal if you have already stopped their force but continue to kick them while they're down. Persons who resort to brutality are suffering from deep pain & fear deep within themselves. Most brutes don't REALIZE what they are doing to others until they meet someone who stops their force & the tables suddenly become turned! Your Right of Protection allows you to defend yourself by stopping force before it reaches you. It is only when you go BEYOND the stopping of their force that you lose your rights & become like them.

How do I treat inconsiderate persons? Some persons enjoy being surly & inconsiderate. If their acquaintances will fight with them, then not only do they have the enjoyment of the acquaintance tie, but they ALSO have the enjoyment of fighting... and the resulting anguish and/or constant complaints about their problems! For most persons, however, the problem stems from the fact that the inconsiderate person just DOESN'T KNOW that they are being inconsiderate... or, they are incapable of comprehending your image of them as being inconsiderate. There is actually a fine line between "OK & Too Much", and in most cases, a little tolerance helps. After all, what difference will their actions make by next month or next year?? When your breaking point has been reached, however, you should tell the inconsiderate person that he is wrecking your Pleasure Dwell & thereby violating your Free Choice. He can then either choose to stop, or be stopped... by YOUR DEFENSIVE force.

Is it a good practice to mentally send back the negative vibrations that one receives? Not necessarily... sometimes you will be receiving such vibes unintentionally from good acquaintances. Because of differing opinions or irritating circumstances, they may think of you in very negative terms, thus sending to you negative vibes that could lay you low... & lay THEM low, if returned. By going into a Pleasure dwell, without frequent interruptions, such negative vibe levels cannot affect you. If you are "hit" intentionally & you have a reasonable awareness of a DELIBERATE attack, a HEAVY dose of their OWN medicine does wonders.

Can I gain the "super strength" abilities of Ki or Chi that some of the Kung Fu & Karate masters use WITHOUT years of practice? Yes! The B-mind energies can be brought into play immediately & in full force IF NEEDED for DEFENSE. Exercises & rituals are not really necessary, but they are usually used to bring the student to the point of confidence in the use of such abilities. Such abilities will work, however, ONLY when needed for DEFENSE.

IF MENTALLY ATTACKED, HOW DOES ONE DEFEND THEMSELVES ?

Concentrate on all the pictures that come before your minds eye, until you get only one recurring possible attacker. These mental pictures will usually tend to swirl around & eventually blend into the person responsible. Once recognized, you can simply send the negative thoughts back to them. This return of negative thoughts is automatic if you mentally picture it. In the case of other dimensional identities or 'entities', the procedure is just as simple as mentally affirming that you recognise that your free will is being violated... & you wish the energies sent back to their origin. A certain set ritual or set of words is not necessary as long as you truly realize your right of free choice, recognize when it is abridged, and ask that it be returned, if violated. Just as a physical attack is dealt with on a physical level, a mental attack is dealt with mentally. Words are not really required. Unlike persons in the physical, other dimensional identities are quite aware of whether they are of domination or free allegiance.

HOW DO I LOCATE & STOP SOMEONE WHO IS SENDING DESRUCTIVE THOUGHTS TO ME?

Picture in your minds eye all the friends & enemies that could be suspect. When one stands out more clearly, distinctly, or in sharp focus, this person is very likely the 'source'. Actually their negative thought forces may, or may not, be intentionally sent to do harm. Just sending out idle negative thoughts can be destructive toward a 'reciever'. In any case, you should mentally decree & envision, the hostile energys returning to the sender. They will automatically recieve this energy in a somewhat greater intensity than it was originally sent. In cases where persons send more powerfull hexes & such the procedure is much the same, except there may be 'life force' lines to locate & contend with. Jesus Christ covered some of these procedures & they are still guarded in church archives. The blessing & making of 'Holy Water' is a good example...& such water is very effective against unwanted entities. Severe psychic attacks can also be countered by digging into the "memory banks" & picturing scenes & happenings of the past. Such a refusal to recieve in present time is a pretty difficult state of thought to continue however.

CAN I DETECT SOMEONE WHO IS PICKING MY BRAIN ?

Certainly. If someone is looking into your eyes to gather information, there will often be an odd shimmering effect, not unlike the indistinct rays of a desert mirage...around that persons eyes. If you place the shield or thought that you want this probing halted, or reflected back to the sender, it will be. If you suspect that someone is probing your mind from a distance simply visualize & mentally affirm your wish to send, or reflect back, this 'probe'. All persons have the right of self protection, mentally or physical.

Because most persons fail to know that such things even go on, it is often a good idea for 'newly awakened' individuals to ask their 'mentals' to give their brain a warning when such probings occur. At the time your body computer is aware of a probe or some sort of 'attack, you will get a warning. This warning may only consist of a strange sense of 'something is to quiet... or 'something is wrong,' to an actual visualization of the impending problem. As one will ask, recognize, & then act in defense, further ability can come.

IS THE CONCEPT OF TURNING THE OTHER CHEEK VALID ?

It is not a practice upheld by those who are FREE. Under the dual polarity aspect, we have self control through our own set of values. In this, we have the right of self defense at all times. If a person threatens another he thereby breaks his agreement to peace or non-violence. Reciprocity is thereby lawfull. Only factions of domination will oppose defence. This is typical of many 'warped' religions...& such systems as communism.

A dominator who finds & abuses a person who turns the other cheek will only be led to commit further abuses if they find it easy. If, on the other hand, he finds his abuses defended, he will learn a valuable lesson. The more total & complete the defense, the more valuable will be the lesson.

CAN WE BE OVERPOWERED BY FORCES OF THE DOMINATION ?

No. Not unless you fail to resist. Your body is subject to control but your mind is free of any actions which are against your will. Free choice is an inviolate law of the 'All That Is', & any identities who would violate this law can be subject to destruction. The details of practical defense may seem a little complex but in all cases it simply boils down to your retaining your right of choice...or giving it up in ignorance & under self imposed domination. All friction is caused by domination energy flow lines & if one recognizes this & requests they be free of these negative or domination interferences, they will be freed,

Why are persons so hurtful? C-minded persons think that they are actually helping other people by taking away their pleasures & crushing their emotions! To them, things would be great, if those darn emotions didn't constantly get in the way! Many times you will get hurt by another's words or actions when they meant no ill will towards you at all! When someone "hurts" you, or tries to hurt you, ASK them, "Why did you try to hurt me?". The results will often be surprising! Other persons cannot hurt you if YOU do not let the hurt reach you. Ask them IMMEDIATELY why they are trying to hurt you, and the "hurt" will not have a chance to reach you.

How can I prevent hostile reactions in others from my eccentric actions? If you will simply present yourself to others as a very changeable & impulsive person, then they will have more difficulty in categorizing you in what they would consider to be a negative position. For example, it is often better to add an, "I may change this view later.." to many of the statements you make. It is well to remember that most persons have annoying idiosyncrasies & while we DO notice these, it is only prudent to IGNORE such "faults" & "hang-ups"... and most persons do.

I often feel sorry because I hurt someones feelings. How do I make up for such actions? The majority of our "hurts" are NOT outward physical hurts. Instead, they are inward emotional hurts caused when we fool OURSELVES. People constantly assume that they have hurt another person's feelings & suffer for it. Don't! People you deal with will tell you when you hurt them, or they will let you know by withdrawing from you. Your P-mind loves to try to load a "Bum Rap" on you, at such times, to generate feelings of guilt. Don't listen to it. The chances are good that you never really hurt that person at all!

Why are some people depressing? Persons may look happy, but if they are feeling bad, they tend to drag others around them into the same pool of misery. This can easily be reversed by sending them AFFECTION thru laughing, or thru giving them some form of attention while you are in an affection dwell.

Why do women have such an aversion to killing? Men have an inward genetic drive to protect women, so they can feel justified in killing to protect the female & in killing to gather food for his family's survival. Women, however, are "geared" to nourish & bring life to the young..., so they find it very hard to rationalize such destruction.

How can I avoid being used by others? Many persons feel USELESS, yet they resent being used! We are used by others only when our PLEASURES don't match. To win, the victory must be TAKEN from the loser. To be USEFUL, come to KNOW your own pleasures & seek to fulfill them.

Are there any Cosmic Laws which protect man from continual destruction? Under LAW, acts of destruction must have equal acts of reconstruction.

ARE THERE IDENTITIES OF THE FREE WHO WILL HELP US IF WE ARE IN TROUBLE?

Yes. If your allegiance is to the Free principle, you need only ask for help from free identities on the other dimensions. A Free representative can for instance, instantly aid you if you are having difficulty fending off a mental attack from the 'astral'. Such help will be cut off instantly however if you yourself begin to dominate.

To what degree can the "Devil" control a person? The identity which we know as Lucifer (the Devil) has control of the P-mind circuits of the human to some degree. He can increase or decrease the current running from a persons' C-mind, and this can spell the difference between success & failure in the material world of money, etc. Many persons who gain fame & fortune thru this added mental "boost" are often dashed down & cut off at the height of their career. Persons with strong B & A-minds to work with can often continue without their lives falling apart. However, in most cases the B & A-minds have not been awakened sufficiently to keep the person functioning at higher levels. The A-mind may not seem to be able to handle high-level operations, but one must remember that the Soul works THRU A-mind! When B-mind works WITH A-mind, the results can be staggering! When we say that Lucifer can interfere with ones P-mind operations, it must be understood that this action can take place ONLY if we give up our Free Choice & Right of Self-defense. Defense is ALWAYS available against ANY outside control that violates CHOICE laws. When a person makes a pact with Lucifer to gain power, one is giving up ones Free Choice. In such a case, Lucifer CAN toy with you at his leisure LAWFULLY.

Can thoughts influence others actions? Yes. Someone with Mind-power potential can influence thousands. Mahatma Gahndhi of India is a good example of this. His "non-violence action" thoughts altered the entire course of a country. Thoughts can influence or ever paralyze persons of lesser mental power. This is why SELF-CONTROL is so important.

How can I detect energy-vibe stealers? If you suspect someone as being a vibe-stealer, ask yourself how you felt when you first met them & then how you felt after being around them for awhile. If they are vibe-stealers, you will feel somewhat drained. Often, vibe-stealing persons will unload their troubles on you; they'll use cuts, digs, and questions in their conversations; or they'll ask favors from you. Compatible persons, on the other hand, expand each others pleasure WITHOUT obligatory requirements or ulterior motives. Do-gooders seeking good responses from their actions will discover that they become energy thieves themselves..., and their efforts usually turn sour.

What is a good way to stop psychic energy attacks? Because the A-mind state is very diffucult for hostile P-mind energy to penetrate, a very simple & effective defensive system against psychic attack involves entering into and maintaining an A-mind dwell. This procedure involves setting up a triangular body configuration in order to use the body's energies to best advantage. After a certain amount of practice, it might be possible for you to forget about the physical motion and just take a deep breath & mentally enter this state. (1) First, draw something you like on paper. If you are P-minded, you may wish to use an interesting mechanical object. If you are A or B-minded, you may wish to use a flower or an animal. (2) With the picture on a desk in front of you, set your elbows on the desk with your index finger of each hand placed at the memory center (your temple) at the side of the head adjacent to the eyes. Place the thumbs just in back of each ear (on the Mastoid process). (3) As you press on these points, take a deep breath & you can recall past memories related to the drawn object before you. As long as you concentrate on these memories and NOT on the attack or your FEARs about the attack, you should remain safe.

What road should we follow in appearance? Appear to be no better or worse than others. If you appear to be worse off, then you will tend to be used. If you appear to be better off, you will be knocked down.

WHAT ARE SOME SPECIFIC WAYS TO DEFEND OURSELVES AGAINST DOMINATION WHO ARE IN 'SPIRIT' BODIES ?

If entities or energy forms enter your sphere of being without permission you can command them to leave..if you recognize them & so choose.

Mentally state that your free will & choice is being abridged or violated and demand that they leave under FREE law. Once this or a similar communication is given, they must leave or be subject to annihilation. This, of course does not mean that they must stay away for any lengthy period of time, but it is usual for a determined entity to be eventually irradiated from an area with a little persistancy. Frequently lower energy level forms will chose to drain or 'tap into' the physical bodys energys. In such cases, persons have the right to 'mentally' take the energys right back from the entity. Once recognized, one can put up mental 'walls' or shields to prevent further leakage one can also turn the tables and draw energy from the entities until they flee. Even the highest domination identities or energys can not enter into our sphere of being if we ask for help from the FREE to bolster any lack of our own resistance. With the biblical backgrounds so common to many persons there is often a preference to words of biblical origin to convey the necessary thought patterns. If an 'in the name of Jesus Christ' I command you to leave' is more meaningfull, then use it. Knowing you have the authority ..& using this authority with conviction is what brings results.

Many persons find that the entities of 'Earth bound' origin {domination} seldom know any more about truth & law than persons in our dimension. For these & other good reasons, it is usual for persons of FREE origin to ask the origin of all entities. Upon being ask, it is usual for identities of the domination allegience to leave, rather than answere in the affirmative. Persons who are not familiar with such dealings will occassionally allow entities to remain..through excessive fear or curiosity. It is necessary to be very positive in your actions or thoughts. Excessive fear can allow an attack on you to continue. Know then that you have the right to absolute full defence..& learn to use this right. It sometimes happens that the domination will send an entity, or what we could call a discarnate being from the 'nether world'...with a very limited intelligence or knowledge. Such entities then may, or may not comply with a valid dispersal request. Many persons disperse them by obsorbing their energies as mentioned in line 10 above.

CAN WE DEFEND OUR FRIENDS ?

If two persons have chosen to be together & are set upon, each may defend the other until the aggression has ceased. This is true of physical or mental attacks. If you recognize that a person is under attack, you may ask the individuals if you can assist them. With such permission you can defend even persons you are not aquanted with.

Is it possible for a persons Soul to have it's body taken or seperated from it against it's will ?

'Body swaps' and identity changes have been going on occasionally for ages. Only persons who mentally give permission for another identity to use or dominated them normally have problems. Drugs can lower the willpower and resistance. Some countries like Russia sometimes encourage certain drugs which lower resistance. Ginseng is an herb that slowly lowers resistance & is often used in Iron Curtain' country beverages. Russian mental transference experiments of the 60's were successfull to a point but required a 'life element' to synchronize the identities who were exchanging. Some unethetical Scientologists at upper levels have encouraged this practice.

There should be no dangers to persons retaining control.

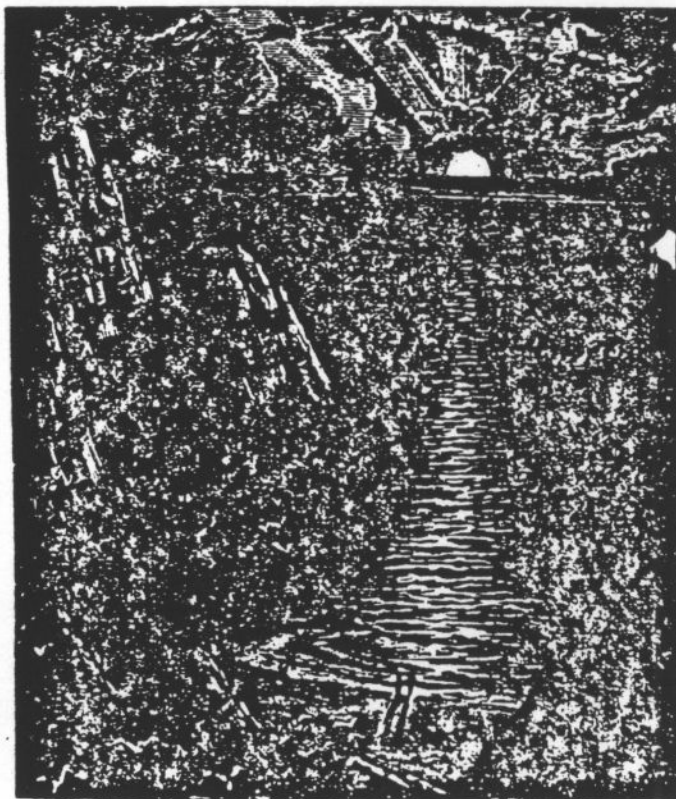

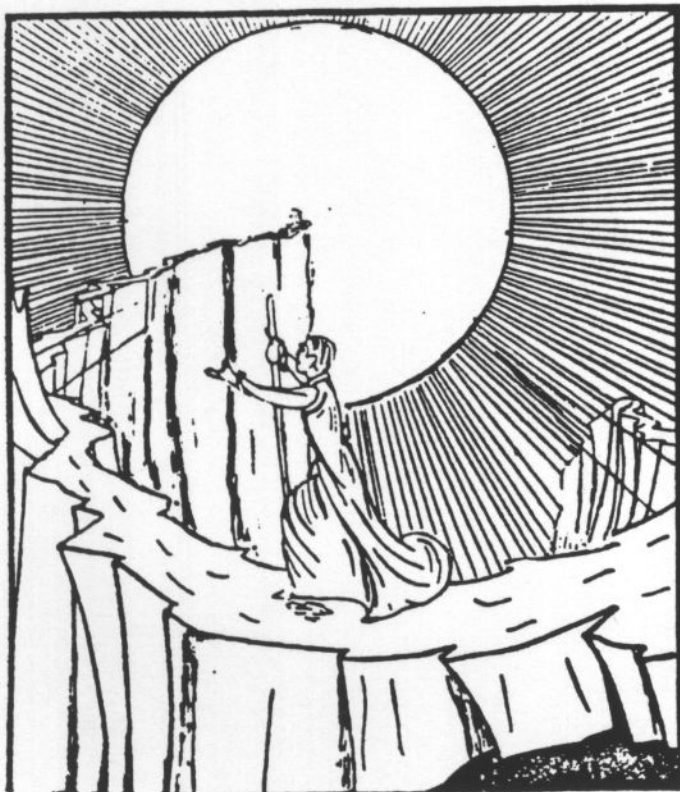

What is the major block against freedom? Fear. Two thirds of the things or goals that humans fail to accomplish are due to fear. Freedom to express one's self is given in the U.S. Constitution, yet today there are so many walls & restrictions around this right that fear stops the majority of persons from speaking out or getting to hear the truth. The smallest dog will often take on another animal many times its size WITHOUT the fear we know. Once accepted, the fear we are accustomed to can be RECOGNIZED as being USELESS to our survival... and it quickly goes away. Real SURVIVAL fear tends to raise the hair right up on the upper body extremities.

I refuse to fight in ridiculous wars, and it seems to me that Peace can come only through NON-violence. How can you justify fighting? By your actions, you are indicating that NOTHING is of value to you. If this is true, then why don't you give me all of your material goods & money?! Since you don't want to fight for the country that supports & sustains your way of life, then you do not deserve your Freedoms & Possessions. Persons with your attitude deserve NOTHING. Unfortunately, persons such as yourself are usually a DRAIN upon those persons of higher responsibility & deeper insight. War will end & peace will come... as soon as persons learn SELF-responsibility. And, with persons such as yourself around, it could be a long wait!

HOW DO I FIGHT FEAR ?

Fear is an important function of the brains survival mechanism. Under primitive conditions this fear of the unknown could be a vital & important protective feature. The common mistake is to make an excuse for fear. You can live with fear, but you should not live with excuses. Recognize your fear, but don't let it stop you if you can see that the goal is worth the danger.

As your mind is functioning to a greater degree the fears begin to lessen. If you give allegiance to the FREE system you will begin to know that you can defend yourself ..and this will aid you even more. Without the threat of loss or harm there will be little to sustain fear. Leaders who fear, or do not trust people, are of domination allegiance. Someone who is truly Free doesn't really care who their associates or friends may support. That is their choice & in all actions he is beyond their control by his self choice & defence.

AVARICE AND LOVE—By L. Löffler.

HOW TO HAVE A BETTER WORLD

Upon this planet is a system that uses survival as a key to fear and gain of every person. This system has built-in CONFLICT. It does not matter what the surface condition is called—Capitalism, Communism, Socialism....—the basic condition is manipulation of the strongest emotion of the human—SURVIVAL.

When survival for all peoples becomes assured, seventy (70) percent of all conflict is erased. The remaining conflict then will be open and under choice. Conflict is expressed in hostility. The control of hostility brings brutality—which in turns sharpens the SURVIVAL emotion.

When you have taken the Modern Human Comprehension Courses you will be able to understand why the following conditions must exist in order for the Kinds Of Man to be brought into balance.

Guaranteed Life Support
from the Cradle to the Grave

- I. Food, clothing, shelter, medical care, education and play will not be a subject of barter and trade.
- II. A specific separate currency will be put into circulation to secure the above necessities of life. This currency shall be called survival currency and will be so marked. No profit, under penalty of law, can be made from the exchange of this currency nor shall it be taxed.
- III. A second currency within each nation, province etc. will remain in circulation and as it is renewed it will be marked "Pleasure Currency". This money will be earned money by all forms of labor and taxed to that extent that it will provide the services needed to guarantee the necessities of the survival commodities. The use of pleasure money in any way to barter, trade or acquire survival commodities will be punishable under law with liability focused on the buyer rather than the seller.

This system can and will work.

Modern Humans
Alfred B. Glaser

FINAL SCENE OF "THE LATTER DAYS"
AND THE OPENING SCENE OF "THE MIGHTY MILLENNIUM"

What is love? Love is granting others TOTAL FREEDOM, while granting YOURSELF the same privilege. Such love requires total SELF-responsibility, which is the PRICE you must pay for LOVE and for TRUTH. Few humans today wish to pay such a price! If you have to ask what love is, then it is obvious that you have not KNOWN love. More than likely, what you thought was "love" was only P-minded possessive excitement! Can a possessed "thing" be Free????

Why do many women manipulate men with love? Women must often use affection as a weapon. Young women will often remark about going out with a "75 Chevy", etc. Women hide their hardness & use affection-control on men as a means of livelihood for herself and her offspring.

I find that being in a good mood during my working hours tends to raise hostility in others. Why is this? The Serenity dwell will produce high efficiency without the great energy drain of the normal P-mind excitement dwell. This breeds resentment from persons who are not willing or able to do the same. It is interesting to note that new-born babies carry-over this Serenity dwell from the 1st astral plane. This Serenity state is more easily entered into at night, because the vast energy of the Sun competes too strongly with other energy sources (except P-mind).

WHAT IS LOVE ?

Long ago the different concepts & actions which may relate to the higher concepts of this, were eliminated from the major languages. As a result only some of the more 'primitive' languages carry more specific words for the various human inter relative feelings & actions. The word 'love' then, is now a 'thing' word without a precise meaning. Love as a true concept is precise however. LOVE is Total FREEDOM. If you really care about someone, you will want them to have this total freedom. If you only want to dominate some one then you will try to limit their freedoms...as in so many 'so called' loves.

Why has Marriage been so important & popular, over the years? The Institution of Marriage has endured for thousands of years, despite countless assaults, simply because it insures a CLOSE relationship. True Marriage has NOTHING to do with laws or contracts of ownership, because TRUE Marriage is a PRIVILEGED ASSOCIATION between two people (man & woman). Under the Free Choice Laws of this Universe, Systems which prevent the FREE expression of Affection & Sharing DO NOT SURVIVE. The only thing that REALLY counts, in life, is our relationships with others. Although they usually DON'T recognize it, we humans are constantly searching for companionship. The only "guaranteed" LEGAL companionship that exists is Marriage. Even if the tie between the couple is chaotic, they still have the "in sickness & in health" companionship that we all need. Raising ones Consciousness or Collecting Security (through $$) is of little value, UNLESS you have someone to SHARE the experience with.

Why do many marriages blow up over LITTLE things? Most of us overlook what WE consider to be annoying faults in others, but when a certain line is reached & the built-up resentment becomes too much for us to bear, we lose our tolerance... and the relationship blows. Men & women should give each other MUTUAL SUPPORT. Today, many women are punishing their mates for little things that FORMER men in their lives were responsible for! Small reminders of similar traits (between the Present mate & the Past one) can trigger instant hostility..., and more & more men, who are treated shabbily by their mates, are beginning to get along WITHOUT women companions.

How can I make a true assessment of a persons' character? Words mean little... unless they are backed up by ACTION. It is foolish to "trust" a person who says one thing... yet does another. You don't ever REALLY "trust" ANYBODY. You come to KNOW certain things about them thru their ACTS, and for this... you grant them a little leeway.

I've tried everthing, but I just can't seem to find loyal companions on my "wavelength". What can I do? Expectations are often the #1 killer of relationships, and ..... the base factor of your problem is the fact that you expect too much of others. People today are threatened & controlled to such a degree that they are often "automated" out of thinking, so they really have little choice in their actions. Find others with the same pleasures that you have, and if you please them, they will return the favor. Relate on your pleasurable levels, and FORGET the rest (the areas you DON'T share pleasures in) & you'll be happier, in the long run.

What does it really mean to be a Man? A man is measured by the strength of his convictions. A man will die to uphold his convictions.

Why are man-woman relationships going under these days? One reason is that a great many women want to act like men. Husband & wife should SUPPORT each other. Men were created to care for & protect women. Women were created to raise children & keep the home. If men and women didn't have completely OPPOSITE knowledges & drives, they would not be able to relate at all! If they were really the same, there would be no need for two different sexes! Women should not copy men. they should do THEIR OWN thing. Women haven't done one single thing to replace men or to be equal to men..., because they are NOT men! A man cannot erase his need for women, but he CAN use MONEY to replace the services of his wife by contracting them out from other women..... from food to sex! When women get tired of evading SELF-responsibility and help in halting War, the world will be a much better place. The only TRUE basis for equality between men & women is in the EQUAL SUPPORT each should give the other in marriage.

How can one be Free, if one is "tied down" with a mate? The Father (the Creator) designed this planet with infinite care. Men & Women are EACH only ONE HALF of the Soul's EMOTIONAL FIELD, so each "half" needs the OTHER half to become WHOLE. We call this "coming together to be whole" LOVE... and as strange as this may sound, love is actually FREEING of BOTH Men & Women! Men are freed from having to cook & raise the children & keep the home. Women are freed from having to keep the money & food coming in, and they are freed from having to protect their family.

Do you think that women have fewer choices in life than men do? Women have MORE choices in life than men do! If a woman fails to get a job of equal or almost equal pay than men are getting, she can still go back to being a housewife or marry the boss. Men, on the other hand, must either face the job market & work, or sink.

Why do so many single women get involved with married men? Married men can (potentially) have their sexual needs fulfilled by their wives, so any relationships that they have OUTSIDE of the marriage are ASSUMED to be based upon some OTHER desire, on the married man's part. Single women usually ASSUME that this "other desire" is "true love", and this appeals to those women who feel that they are needed for sexual fulfillment ONLY, in their "normal" relationships with men.

Why are women so paranoid & insecure? Fear is their major problem. There is little security, in today's society, and their confidence is constantly being threatened by the fear of job loss & financial disaster. When jilted, this often brings on the fear that they may not be able to arouse a man again, etc. Failure often breeds fear, which often turns into anger & paranoia. Even men are now becoming afraid that they will not be able to keep a woman around for long, due to their inability to support & give security to more than ONE person. Being keyed up, on a continuous basis, is extremely detrimental to one's health. Many such persons wear themselves out, by the time they get to be 33 years old, due to the constant inner conflict & lack of Pleasure & Affection.

How did women lose their equality? Nine thousand years ago, women ran society! They bred from only selected male "stock", and had the rest of the male population castrated at an early age! Men were kept in ignorance as to their role in creating babies. This kept them under control for some period. Ancient writings refer to this as the Sin of Eve..., since she withheld this knowledge. As rebel tribes formed away from the Female Society population centers, they slowly built up enough strength to challenge & conquer the Female Societies. From that time forward, every means possible was used to lower the station & stature of women so that they would never regain such power again. Men still carry the DNA Blueprints for Survival and Protection through the restriction of the female. For this reason, even today men can relate easily to each other, but they keep their defenses up when they get around women. Men & women should learn to be SUPPORTIVE of each other by using their different attributes together, thus forming a united whole.

How do the thought processes of men & women differ? Men have a logical outlook & are obsessed with THINGS. Women, on the other hand, are obsessed with EMOTIONS. Women deal in abstracts & fantasies in their thought processes. This is why Soap Operas are so popular with women.

What has caused the differences in the way that men & women are socially linked with friends? Men generally consider another man to be a TRUE friend when they can depend upon him in times of danger... back to back, so to speak. In the case of women, however, after thousands of years of depending upon the male for her Survival, most women see other women as potential threats to their security. This causes females to be much more cautious, when checking out friendship possibilities, and this also causes woman to woman relationships to be less friendly & more difficult.

How do men & women vent their hostilities? Men usually vent their hostilities in open "battle", & NOT emotional games. Not women, however. A woman will often rip a man apart EMOTIONALLY out of hostility... or just for fun! Hopefully, this situation will change in the near future... or this planet will really be in trouble.

Why do women have so much trouble with their causes?

As we pointed out, women have been a threat to the domination systems and receive greater restrictive measures as a result. A second problem is in the greater difficulty women have in working together. A third factor is in the restrictive relationships women tend to burden themselves with. The more relationships in life, the fuller the life. Close restrictive relationships bring on feelings of resentment. Women have tended to have fewer true friends and outside interests than Men.

* Traces of this situation can be found in mythology and some ancient history texts. "The 1st Sex" by Putnams has referenc

Are women carrying their share of the load?

Thus far women have generally shirked their responsibility in making decisions. They have tended to tell men what they wanted and how they wanted it, not making responsible decisions on their own. Their reliance on men has put an added burden on men's shoulders. It is man's nature to fight, but war and world chaos are not entirely man's fault. Women could help end war if they made the effort. Until they do start acting, it is their children who will die in the wars.

You say that most Women are PROSTITUTING themselves, but do the Men really give them any other choice? Well, there's a broad misconception here about Choice. Nobody GIVES you Choice. You MAKE Choice. Think about that awhile. I've never in my life been GIVEN a Choice. I've had conditions stated to me & have been told to decide between those conditions, but THAT isn't a Choice. What makes you think I MUST decide? I don't have to decide between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea. Let him have the Deep Blue Sea. Let him have the Devil. That's no concern of mine! So, Choice you MAKE. Nobody gives it to you. It comes from WITHIN. And in this way, Women have taken a path of LEAST RESISTANCE. They can't identify it as being prostitution, but they can identify the actions & the behavior pattern very easily. By the time the baby girl has grown to womanhood, she's seen her mom & other women & everybody else using it. It's very easy to "ape", and she's seen the results on her father & brothers & other men, and she just follows that pattern... which is the discriminate use of her Affection... and she gets what she wants! But, she HAS made that choice. She might not KNOW it, but she's made it! And, the act of prostituting themselves is what has actually been happening for thousands of years! The few Women that have fought back have been crucified & everything else, because there hasn't been enough of 'em. The majority of women PREFER to be this way, and it's the simplest & easiest way to be... for the majority of women. Until they wake up to the fact that they're NOT REALLY LIVING THEIR OWN LIFE... they're living the life of men & the way the man wants them to be, and they really HAVEN'T made a Choice..., they'll continue to do so.

But, being presented with two situations & being told that you're gonna HAVE TO choose between one of 'em is a damn lie! You'll find that your life is a hell-of-a-lot more easy when you make choices REGARDLESS of what other people say. And, you have to make it on your own & take the consequences. Because somebody lays a couple of situations out to you and says, "OK, make a decision", forget it! Who in the hell are they, God? You might have to give lip-service if they've got a rifle to your head or something like that, but you KNOW what you're doing then & you've made that choice.

But... a woman has been doing this so long & it's so deeply ingrained that she's gonna have a terrific battle to overcome this. And, she's gonna be hurt & ignored & everything else. But if enough of 'em do it, it'll be fast & it'll be over quickly & things'll straighten out... because she has an EQUAL SHARE of everything here. The Creator didn't say, "Men get it all, and women get nothing." I never found that anywhere.

So, this is what this is based upon: the fact that she follows a routine & a pattern set by her Elders... of like sex & gender..., and she doesn't REALLY know what she's doing! When she tries to do something that she HERSELF really wants to do, everybody that she knows becomes highly upset! So, it's hard to be that way, and she just has to bear the results of whatever her actions may be. And, that usually proves to be too much.

What about marriage? Marriage came before law. Laws grew from the habits of people. The Domination leaders then found that by changing the laws, they could change the habits of the people. Marriage is an ACT between two people, and this ACT has nothing to do with legality or registration. The Jurors' Handbook states that, "This is a nation of LAW, not men.", in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States! As an interesting side-note to marriage... men are often prone to be attracted to jobs or "things" they can control, because they can't control their wives at home!

Women mistreat me when I remain true to them. Why is this? Women tend to resent men that remain true to them without effort or temptation! Give the same woman the idea that she must fight to keep her man from another woman, and she will fight to keep him!

What are the Base Needs of men & women? In the present time period, Women need to be "needed", and Men need to be left alone (with occasional respites). BOTH Men & Women, of course, need AFFECTION.

Are Men really any more Self-Responsible than Women? Not really, it's just in a different area. Women are self-responsible in a different EXPERIENCE than Men are. Men are self-responsible in THEIR experience, which differs largely from a Woman's experience. A Man is usually, when placed within the Woman's experience field, very lost & UN-self-responsible. A Woman placed in a Man's field & a Man's experience is the same. Given TIME, both can adjust. But, each... to their OWN experience... they're self-responsible, yes. The Woman seems to be... by the Men... less responsible & all of that, but they're NOT thinking of HER experience field, nor her Biological or Created field. They're thinking about THEIR field & her not being self-confident in THEIR field. Well, that poor man is not confident in their field either... the Woman's field. So, it's on an equal level. It's just different EXPERIENCES one's dealing with. Let's get 'em TOGETHER. Then, we've got the WHOLE picture.

What do women want to hear from a man, to make them feel needed & secure? A man must get across the idea that SHE is the ONLY woman that turns him on, and that no other woman will do. He needs his woman for a variety of reasons, and he finds her attractive & desirable enough to constantly pay attention to her. Above all, he needs to reassure her that she is going to get certain GAINS (emotional & material) from the relationship. There are some strange double-standards to consider, however, in the "attention" aspect of relationships. DON'T give her the impression that you are either "too worthless" or "too good" for her, or you will be left out in the cold. It goes something like this... women often feel that they are worthless. So, if a man thinks TOO MUCH of them, then they assume that the man is worthless! If a man thinks TOO LITTLE of her, then she assumes that she is not good enough to be with him.

Could you explain how the difference between how men & women THINK affects relationships? Men are taught that they MUST conform, and while Society also influences women, they tend to be less affected. Men are REALISTS who tend to go by Facts & Words. If a woman gives a man the impression, during her conversation, that she does NOT want a relationship with him, then he usually believes her. He doesn't pretend to be able to read her mind, yet she will often ASSUME that he CAN..., and that he should know that she was only "fooling" or temporarily angry with him. When he walks out on her in response to her request, she is often hurt & confused... for that was not her true INTENT. Women tend to live in a fantasy world, and they are often not logical. They do not have an acceptance of guilt like men do, and they can retain their Affection Dwell much more easily than men.

What are the actions that women must take to clear up the chaotic mess on Earth?

Only time will tell what the specific actions will be. In the past, women tried to disarm the men of the planet by ceasing to grant the warring men conjugal relations. As unusual as this sounds, it could very well work today if the details of this procedure would be broadcast to the entire female population of Earth--and if the majority of women started to accept the long overdue responsibility. It is an unfortunate fact that women have long gotten pretty well what they want by simply shoving responsibilities upon the shoulders of the men. In the near future, women will very likely have an opportunity to take on the necessary 'clean up' job of Earth. The specific details will be available then for those who listen.

My wife will often argue with me for long hours trying to get me to change my convictions, over some seemingly insignificant action. Why is this? A man is measured by the strength of his convictions. Due to thousands of years of Domination conditioning, women will periodically TEST the STRENGTH of their man's convictions. If the man "gives in", thus seemingly abandoning his convictions, then she will usually turn away from him in disgust... and the relationship blows. When the man stands up for his convictions, in this "head GAME", the woman gets "put in her place"... which is what she was HOPING for, because that means that her man has "passed" the test!

Is "Womens Lib" truly good for women? With a high percentage of today's women unattached, it is obvious that there are drives on the part of women to be freer. Unfortunately, when a woman separates from a man her life is usually even more restricted than before. The man can usually go on in the same type of lifestyle with little inconvenience. The woman, however, must now not only compete with men (in a marketplace stacked against female competition) to support herself & her children, but she immediately becomes prey to a host of unethical Services (mechanics, etc.) that "bleed" her for her ignorance in such matters. Women today are trying to act like men, when they were created as women. If they would be themselves & act like women, then they could apply their half of the world's intelligence to turning this planet into a paradise. We have been hearing the man's side of things for 11,000 years. It's about time that the women contributed their side!

What is causing the present friction between men & women? Much of the problem stems from Security. Males are forced to survive on their own at an early age. Females are oriented to take care of & furnish the males' home. Females, therefore, are oriented to accept the male as a security image, instead of themselves. The public is never given the truth as a guideline... only fantasy. So, when insecurity on the part of either marriage partner grows, the marriage falls apart. Many wives, at the present time, are paid prostitutes. When the husband "brings home the bacon" to share with his wife, she gives him affection in return.

Is it as easy to change the mind of a man as it is to change the mind of a woman? Women can change men's minds to an extent, but men cannot usually change a woman's mind.

What is the most important thing in relationships? Persons "out of sync" can easily separate into hostility, if there isn't HONEST communication. For example: affection doesn't necessarily lead to sex, but persons who feel they MUST change (or are pressured to change by their partners) usually feel nothing but resentment.

How can I get & keep friends? Fulfill a person's need, and you will always be sought out.

In what way should Men & Women support each other? People should come to realize that they must be SUPPORTIVE of each others needs. If you take care of me & some of MY needs, then I will be glad to take care of many of YOUR needs. If the Woman cleans the house & does the dishes, the man will usually be glad to fix the car & keep the food coming in. Today, all too many wives RESENT doing dishes that they didn't get dirty, and men are beginning to resent the diminishing quality & quantity of Emotional returns that they are getting. Most persons have long been trained in DENIAL. A gentle hint of their needs must often be changed to an "You do this for me, or else I will deny you that" type of attitude. Most acquaintances today USE each other, and "nice guys & gals" are finishing LAST. People want to know, "What am I going to get out of it?". This isn't necessarily bad, but the problem arises when persons want "something for nothing", and are therefore UNWILLING to reciprocate. After a time, the short-changed partner has little choice but to leave & find someone ELSE who can fulfill their expectations.

Why is there such a gap in rapport between men & women today? A transition is happening at this point in time where security is being threatened. Women are taking jobs to "free" themselves from depending upon men for survival. As a result, men are getting less sex & are feeling more unneeded. Roles should be SUPPORTIVE, not destructive.

What on earth do women REALLY want from men? Women want, ABOVE ALL ELSE, to be NEEDED. Men must give women their full attention, when with them, for the woman to respond & be fulfilled. Such attention cannot be faked, over any length of time, or the woman will easily recognize it as insincere. Women extol a peculiar double standard. They believe that a male must be absolutely true to HER ALONE, yet she often believes that it is HER prerogative to have freedom of emotional expression with other men. This stems, in part, from women's lack of Security & her dependence upon the Male for her security. Women want to gain, from their relationships with men, but they seldom RECOGNIZE this fact. Few women wish to be responsible. At the first sign of hardship or danger, most women will hide behind a man's protection. When these facts are pointed out to most women, they will evade the issue or attempt to deny it completely..., and most of them become HOSTILE, when faced with the truth. This hostility can be overcome when they come to RECOGNIZE what they have been doing UN-knowingly. For thousands of years, women have tended to gain their "wants" & "desires" by manipulating men. As a whole, they have not faced their responsibilities or shouldered their "equality". After a time, THEIR actions (or LACK of action) resulted in their being placed in an inferior position to men. The average woman uses Sex & Manipulation, in order to shirk Honest Work & Self-Responsibility. Many women, therefore, have an inferiority complex that is deeply ingrained within their Genetic structure. When they gain material things, from their actions, it assures them that they are WORTH something. Even Whores are strongly motivated by the desire to be needed! They obtain their Survival money from making men happy. Expensive material appearances, therefore, can be very sexy... in the eyes of many women. The physical appearance of a man doesn't REALLY influence women that much, however. There are no truly UGLY men, as far as most women are concerned, and what people have been taught in advertisements & "fables" is nonsense. People should never make assumptions that sell themselves short.

What should I look for, in a companion, to ensure an Enjoyable association? Look for a Matching of Wants... to each have similar wants & pleasures.

. . . . .

Women have depended upon men for thousands of years. Is there any hope left that this trend can change i.e. that women gain SELF-responsibility? Women have used SEX as a tool, for thousands of years, to gain their WANTS. In exchange for sex, men have provided for their needs. In the 1960's, however, this was halted, to some degree, by Higher Level alterations of the Free "guardians" of this planet. Women began to find that they could no longer depend upon such "gain for sex" actions. Men changed to an extent, also, at this time. Many men no longer had any respect for women, due to an INWARD lack of respect for their actions of the past (sex for gain, etc.). All of this, of course, has created general havoc, with male/female relations. This factor can be overcome with comprehension & RECOGNITION of these factors, by both men & women. If BOTH men & women come to be SELF-responsible, and BOTH men & women learn to truly SUPPORT EACH OTHER, then this planet will become a Paradise!

Why have women generally been restricted and controlled to a greater degree than men?

Women hold the key to the re-populating of the planet. The high levels domination leaders saw that women must be more tightly controlled from the beginning. This would help ensure that there would be no great uprisings against the system using sex and population control as a counter-action tool. Women have tried to regain their equality and freedoms during the height of several past civilizations. For the most part, women have been much less dominated than men. While women have been physically dominated, the men have been both physically and mentally indoctrinated under the 'systems.' Women hold the key to freeing the planet. When they become good and fed up enough with the chaos and bloodshed of the domination system, women may receive the mental 'light' and act with astonishing effect.

Can deep emotional bonds with a person prove to be dangerous? Many couples find themselves so deeply tied to one another that it takes them away from the Hard Reality of life to such an extent that they sometimes find it difficult to get positive things done. This danger will pass, however, with recognition & action.

Why is affection a sin in our society? If the Domination System can change people into things, then people can be bought & controlled. Money can buy any THING, so they treat people as "things". The sad thing about it is.... people begin to believe that they ARE merely "things"!

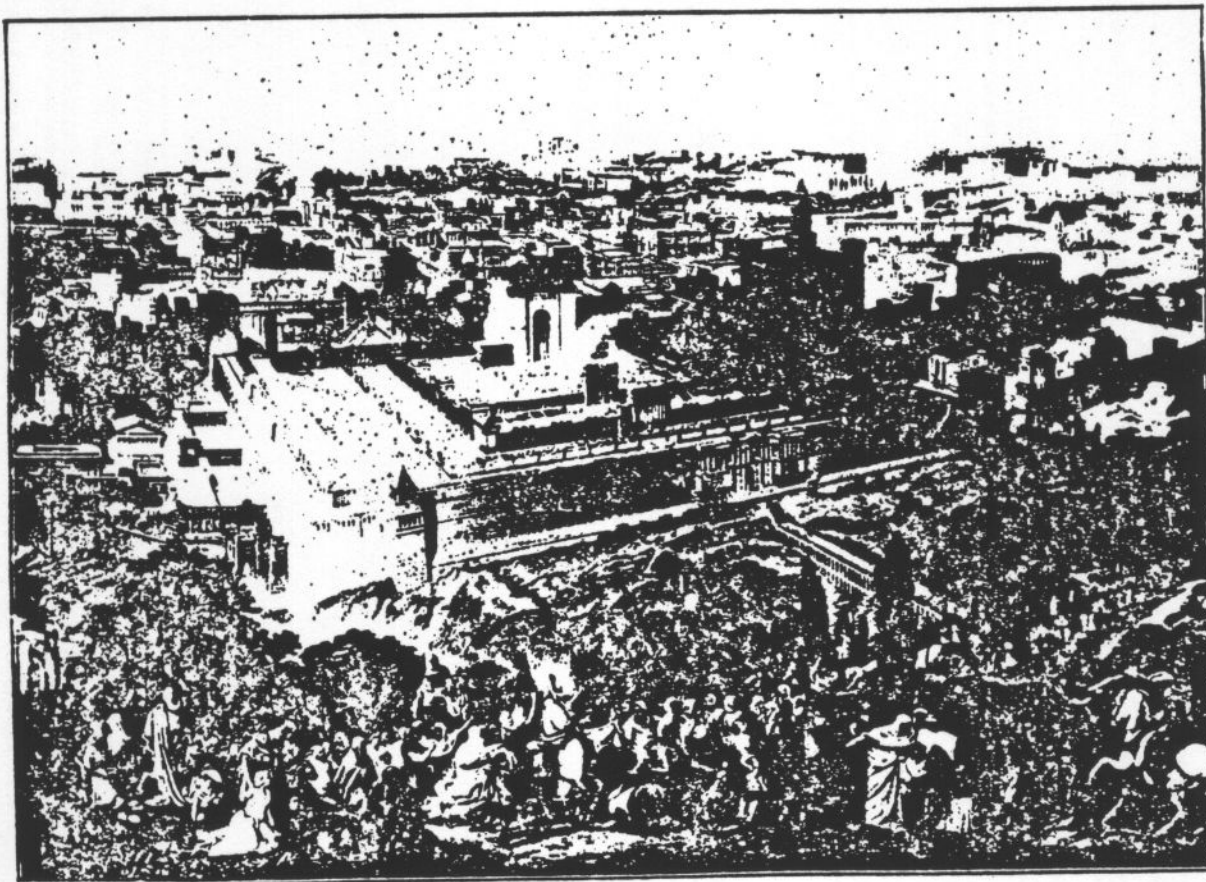

How is it possible to be affectionate in this hostile world? Affection is just a state of Mind you "click" into. Some persons can use it all of the time... whether loving or fighting! John Wayne was a good example of this sort of person. He did all of his fighting & brawling in an Affection dwell, and persons all over the world just loved him for it. Such affectionate persons can even get away with insulting someone, for the tone of their voice will not carry the hostility vibes which cause hostile reactions in others. More often than not, the "insulted" person will respond with the same mood of fun! Wayne was interviewed, just before he died, and he repeatedly dwelled upon the fact that there was not enough affection in the world. Because so few persons can get into this affection dwell for very long, they tend to try to kill it in others... when they run across it. By searching through your past memories & picking out a memory or a symbol that you strongly associate with affection, you can bring the state of affection back again whenever you wish. In today's world, affection is all but outlawed..., and to show outward affection can be just about as dangerous as carrying a loaded gun on the street!

Why are affectionate hugs & handshakes seemingly more effective than sending friendly thoughts to a person? The currents involved simply have a larger area of contact.

Some persons don't accept the affection that I offer. Why is this? You're probably approaching them in the wrong dwell! Someone in a C-mind dwell studying a manual only gets irritated with someone who comes along in a B-minded "Gosh! It's such a pretty day!" approach. You may need to lean over and admire the technical accuracy of the material they're studying. Get the person to lower their "blocks" by steering them a bit. ALL mind dwells accept, need, and desire affection & appreciation. It just takes a little diplomacy and effort to get them to share. Match dwells, & you eliminate conflict.

Why is it so difficult to share good feelings? Our modern societies are run by priority-minded individuals who are interested in getting rid of natural beauty so that the bodily output and functions can be controlled. All things stemming from this P-mind dwell get old & tend to burn out the body..., whether it be sexuality excitement or a fetish with guns or "things". Affection is outlawed by the Military & made difficult and downright sinful by Society. To counteract this effect, give affection and start looking at the beauty & music of Nature.

What motivates people? Seventy five percent of all persons have a primary motivation of SECURITY. This security may focus primarily on Money, Sex, or a hundred other types... but the BASE is still security. Once you come to understand a persons' motivation, then you can relate with them on a much more realistic & enjoyable level.

JERUSALEM — THE TEMPLE

****Chapter L****

CLEOPATRA BEFORE CÆSAR.—From the Painting by J. F. Gerome.

What are the Sexual differences between men & women? Men were CREATED with a greater PHYSICAL sex drive than women, to assure the continuity of the human species. A man can sexually "service" over 1,000 women within 9 months, if necessary, and he can even mate if he is sick or wounded! In men, the sex drive consumes about 10% of their life, however... in women, it only consumes them about 3% of the time. This 7% gap is rather substantial, and it can create problems... if it is NOT recognized. Women often grow hostile, when it is pointed out to them that THEY often don't enjoy sex to the same degree that men do. Women are naturally affectionate (physically turned on), towards males, for only 6 days per month! This period of "natural affection" begins 5 days after the menstruation cycle ends. For the remaining 24 to 26 days per month, the female must use her MIND to turn her on. Men, on the other hand, are capable of being "naturally affectionate" 100% of the time. (see Comp.1 for more details) Women realize that they are cyclic, and they can very easily go for up to 3 weeks with only a MENTAL interest in sex. This tends to drive men to distraction, because the woman can be affectionate & talk about sex WITHOUT her BODY being turned on in the least! Men think about sex 10% of the time, while women think about sex (sexual fantasies) about 90% of the time... according to a recent survey. If men ever found out just how many women orgasm in their HEAD (through fantasies, etc.) instead of their BODY... their minds would be blown! Because most women enjoy pleasing & "being needed" by their man, they will often act with compassion by fulfilling the man's needs... even if their NATURAL sexual needs & drives are NOT present. It is often up to the man to bluntly let the woman know that he needs sex, for she can often be totally unaware of his need... for she usually ASSUMES that HE feels & thinks like SHE does! Men & women think & feel differently, so they must, therefore, be treated differently. If there is good rapport on ALL levels, this emotional sharing will ensure fulfilling sexual relations. If this rapport is out of alignment, due to one's putting up a "wall" of isolation and fear, then RESENTMENTS quickly build up. Resentments also form if one partner feels that their UN-matched emotions & drives have FORCED them to make unwilling sacrifices for their partner. Honest communication, therefore, is absolutely essential... IF you want to have a PLEASURABLE relationship. ALL persons experience an occasional decline, in their sexual drives & moods, so don't feel guilty or sell yourself short. Don't act rashly, when sexual problems crop up. Just be patient & honest, and then just "wait it out", if necessary.

In courtship, do men "play games" as much as most women? Most persons hide beneath a FACADE, and in the Pleasure Dwell they often find that they were mis-matched due to their early dishonesty. Men will usually not fall for a facade, while women are prone to fall for facades... due to the way they THINK. It is also interesting to note that men are ALWAYS honest in dealing with sex. The proof is the Hard-on (erection). Without interest & desire on the part of the male, there can be no hard-on. Women can & occasionally do fake sexual enjoyment to please their mate. If discovered, such "love acting" can be a disaster to the relationship..., because the man can never be sure of her TRUE feelings from that time on.

Is there any Karma associated with Sex, besides the obvious example of Rape? There is no Karma associated with sex, UNLESS it is used to Dominate another person (give to get, etc). Outside of marriage or not, sex is just as necessary to NORMAL life as Food is!

Could you give an example of man's adaptive abilities? In days of old, it was a common practice for the ancient mariners to drink sea water! To adjust, they would first spend several days submerging their bodies in the ocean for a half an hour at a time & swish the sea water in & out of their mouths. After 3 days, they could drink small sips... and within 6 months, they could drink sea water by the mugful!!

Why can't I forget my former lover, like others do? Persons who can relate on Mind levels, as well as the physical (A-mind) level, have very DEEP bonds in their relationships. This is one reason that Higher-Level women are very reluctant to get started in sexual relationships. They are deeply hurt, when leaving. Even men, of this type, suffer. It is interesting to note that: when men are denied sexual relations with their lover, they would have what used to be referred to as a "stoney ache" in their lower groin area. This pain could only be relieved two ways. The first method requires that you exert great muscular tension while squatting, which can be achieved by trying to lift up your car by the bumper! The second (and more enjoyable) method requires that you make love to your mate. Women are physically prone to back aches, when their sexual energies are bottled up & not released.

Why do you call the animal-man the "King of the Animals"? The animal-man was the "King of the Animals" here, even BEFORE the Exiles arrived & gave man intelligence factors. Animal-man was "King" due to his ability to ADAPT to ANY environment & to adapt to almost every food. Man is the only creature on this planet with a 5 point digestive system, so man can survive under almost any circumstances. The best SURVIVOR is the "King".

What are the next most adaptable creatures on this planet, excluding man? The Rat is next in line in digestive diversity, but the unfortunate rat cannot throw up foods that get past its smell/taste receptors. The Human's ability to throw-up poisonous food gives him the opportunity to try a great variety of foods and to experiment with many different combinations of foods. The best all-around STRUCTURE for survival is the Spider. While most life-forms here are Carbon-based, the Spider is a Silicon-based development. Being Silicon-based, Spiders can actually live without oxygen!

What degree of truth is there in the term "Mother Earth"? The planet Earth is a living creation that once sustained herself from incoming and outgoing energies. While some of her energy sources are temporarily cut-off, she still retains her major functions. She breathes, and one can note the in & out respiration in the major cavern openings. During the winter, the air will flow in at speeds up to 15 miles per hour. During the summer, the air will flow outward at the same rate. Her "blood" is circulated by the intricate systems of water veins coursing throughout her "body". Fourteen thousand years ago, this system was so efficient that all surface areas of the planet were well watered by the finer surface arteries. Scientists are often puzzled at finding such artery systems under protective lava flows. Mother Earth's "brain wave" functions at the exact 8 Hz frequency that the animal brain functions at. This was first detected in 1962 by Dr. Schumann. When divided in half, the Eastern & Western worlds correspond to the act-react Right & Left portions of the Hu-man's brain.

Why are some persons so out-of-place? A person should adapt to new situations & relationships, to get the maximum experience & pleasure out of life. A former slave from Africa, upon coming here (the U.S.) & having children, will discover that his children are "different" than either parent expected them to be. They will NOT act like "normal" African-slave children, because the Soul of each child has programmed the child for the NEW environment, NOT the OLD one! The parents could adapt quite well in a similar manner..., by asking THEIR OWN SOULS for help (to adapt to the "new" culture) & by OPENING UP more... but this is seldom done, due to ignorance of their true NATURAL potentials.

Are all birth defects genetic? The cells of the body communicate with each other constantly. If the "connections" are bad, decision making can be impaired & certain abilities can be lacking. To open up the electrical flow in cells which have cut themselves off or have been genetically rendered inoperative, it is necessary that affection energies be used. Infant trauma, for instance, is cured when a mother-figure gives the baby attention and affection. The crippled arm of an adult can have its connections re-opened,.... both in the arm and the brain....by strong mind-will action or affection. As more persons receive such seemingly impossible "miracle" cures and heal up in a fraction of the time normally thought to be mandatory, the mental blocks against such immediate NATURAL healing actions are lifted. Then, everyone can enjoy the health potential we were all born with... but which we all ignore, because it's so SIMPLE.

How much do pregnant mothers influence their unborn babies? The problems of the mother ARE carried over, to a large extent, to the child being carried in her womb. A child born of a mother who worried constantly about coming to full term will often tend to be afraid of living a full life. Once the baby grows up, however, such problems can be eliminated through RECOGNITION. (see Comps. 1 thru 4 for more details)

What about all this talk about Birth Trauma? Birth HAS NO TRAUMA, ordinarily. Even the slap on the behind is not really a big shock. Babies, after birth, are very curious (as a rule), and they are usually able to see reasonably well, up to several feet away from them. After a few months, the memory of this early period usually fades out, by natural design.

In recent years, Rabbits & other small mammals have been Cloned. How do you explain this, in light of your statement that "man will NEVER create life in a test tube"?? If you would think just a few steps BEYOND... which most people don't..., you would realize that they've used a cell which has ALREADY BEEN CREATED. So, they're not creating life. Let's see 'em create a cell! I want to see 'em create an atom..., and then create a cell & then create the nuclei in the atom & then the perimeter of the atom. I want to see 'em create the necessary Kinetic Energies that this atom throws off which maintains contact between the material & the immaterial. I want to see 'em create something, not use something that's been here all the time, only in a different way. Mother Nature's done that ever since it's been created. It's been CREATED to utilize & bring forth different forms & everything by using the basic building factors that are here. But, I've never seen a man or heard of a man that brought forth anything NEW that's NOT already here. He'll take part of what's here & another part of what's here & put 'em together and say, "Hey! I created something!" The stoop doesn't know that all that he's doing is making a recombination. And, even the scientists admit that these are recombinations. That's their word for it. It's a science... Recombinant Science. So, they're NOT creating anything.

Can Hereditary defects be overcome? Many persons go through life with very little problems from Hereditary defects UNTIL they experience a sudden surge of EMOTIONAL shock, or they experience a continual LACK of AFFECTION. If Hereditary defects were passed on to offspring IN TOTAL, the Human race would have died out long ago! Something, therefore, must have been able to override or eliminate these genetic factors, in some cases. AFFECTION is that factor. For example, if BOTH parents mate in a high affection dwell, the affection energies will purify the babies genetic structure... and the baby will be born WITHOUT any defects.

Can a woman mentally protect herself from violation?

For most persons at this time, physical domination can be dealt with only by physical resistance. However, when the matter of creation is involved, there has always been a mental choice involved. A woman, for example, can mentally prevent conception by a conscious effort. There is a life force or anti-matter spirit prototype that must be transferred to start life. If a woman mentally puts up a block against the entrance of this life force, the sperm alone will not produce pregnancy. Even a man can withhold an exchange of life force if he is aware of his choice.

It occasionally happens that a strongly willed man can overcome the weaker mental resistance of a woman. But, again, if the woman puts enough mental determination into her 'shield', there can be no mental domination. A number of primitive races have practiced 'mental contraception' for ages; many civilized women do, by what they would call 'instinct'.

What about Mental birth control? There are many energy currents on this planet. Even the sperm requires a current to pass into the egg. This is why WILL is required for birth.

How can we reduce teenage pregnancies? The driving forces of Nature, in regard to propagation, are extremely strong. Young persons under such drives cannot be held in check easily. Ordinary taboos against sex are hardly able to act as a deterrent to the tide of teenage pregnancies. Under present pressures, about the only workable solution would be to make available to teenagers an oral birth control substance in a delicious edible food form that teens could buy as easily as chewing gum.

Is it wrong to be stern with children? Parents have been charged with the "sinful" or destructive actions of their children throughout history. Parents will do well to inform their children of the fact that they are not controlling or dominating their children out of PLEASURE, but for SELF PROTECTION. Actually, parents should realize that they are fighting the unknown & protecting their children by many of their "don'ts". A child can always give the excuse to friends that, "Dad won't let me."

Can our cells think? Yes. The cell is the true "Seat of Man", NOT the brain in your head! The typical 23 chromosome cell, in the HUMAN body, is (in effect) a "brain" itself. Each cell within the Human body carries the 3 Minds, so... each cell can direct ITSELF & THINK! It can also change its own structure to become any type of cell your body needs it to be. Our brain is merely a switchbox that receives the incoming thoughts of your cells! The brain is an Act-React mechanism, and while each hemisphere is the same, the Left usually handles the logical transmissions & the Right handles the "intuitive" transmissions. It's just a matter of wiring, and if one portion of the brain is damaged, the CELLS can direct a re-wiring job to correct the problem!

Will man create life in a test tube, as he is seeking to do? Not really. The recent experiments in North Carolina towards mating a gorilla with a man have failed. The billion dollar project in New York to clone humans is also a failure, and the only much-touted cloning "success" is a total farce! One-celled vertebrates resembling fish but with feet behind their fins were supposedly cloned. These creatures from the Everglades, being at the bottom of the Chain of Life, are one-celled. When a spawn solution was made available to the cells, they acted as eggs & "created" new creatures.

What about test-tube babies, etc.? Test-tube babies and clones are "vegetables" that can sustain their own life, but they cannot pass on that life to an offspring. Such creatures are totally sterile, as can be readily seen in the case of mules & hybrid seeds.

Could you clarify the way in which the 3 Minds are carried within the cellular structure of the Human? If you can visualize a round cell with 3 chambers in it, you might gain a concept of how Human cells carry the 3 Minds. ALL humans, at the present time, have a certain degree of use of all 3 Minds from their HEREDITARY DNA carry over. But..., not all humans have their cellular chambers FILLED with NON-hereditary, abstract Mind Entities. For example: many of the so-called Star People Volunteers come into bodies (at birth) that carry hereditary P-mind usage. However, they (as Alien identities) do not have a P-mind Entity to fill their cells chambers with. This allows them to easily run on B-mind dwell most of the time, until circumstances "force" them to resort to hereditary P-mind usage.

What is Life? Life is that which can sustain itself & procreate itself. Even the mentally retarded are considered life (under this definition), because they can digest food & have it brought to them. Babies are so adaptable that they can hang from a tree for 24 hours, if necessary!

If Life is that which can sustain itself & procreate itself, then doesn't that rule out paralyzed persons, or persons who have their procreative organs damaged or altered? No! The paralyzed person has made provisions for OTHERS to sustain them... & this is still considered sustaining Self! Inherent ability to procreate, IF present at BIRTH, is then carried GENETICALLY & is therefore not hindered by later alteration.

Can we give intelligence or knowledge to animals? A lab in Kentucky is now trying to increase the knowledge of animals thru experimentation. If they succeed, the results will be destroyed "mysteriously". No more "broken" egg knowledges will be allowed on this planet (see Comp.2 for details on how the animal-mans' egg knowledge was broken). There are Free Representatives from the Father here whose mission is to see to it that this planet is protected from further violations of Free Choice Law. These "wardens" constantly check out the animal population to see that no more egg-knowledges are broken. These visits account for the reports of UFOs & animals with strange puncture marks, etc.

What are some of the major differences in the Races of Man? Persons of different races use different modes to decipher thought patterns. Some persons use geometry & math, while others use chemistry or symbols. Each race has a different general perspective. Sixty out of a hundred Negroes can feel the ground and tell you if that soil is suitable to grow crops on. Their agricultural intelligence differs from the Asiatic "art" intelligence. Today, most persons are a complex mixture of ALL of these intelligences. However, only the White race has a strong technological intelligence. Testing other races with technologically-based IQ tests puts non-technical races at a great disadvantage. While there are over 800 racial patterns & types, there are 4 major types of genetic structures. They are: 1) Water-- persons who use the seas, etc. for their livelihood; 2) Land-- agricultural, etc. ; 3) a combination of 1 & 2 ; and 4) Technology-- an ALIEN pattern within the other 3 fields. Eventually, all 4 structures will combine.

A few tribes (such as the Jews) try to keep their blood lines PURE, while many races are now a mixture of White, Red, Brown, Yellow, and Black colors & knowledges. Does such racial mixing prove to be BENEFICIAL or DETRIMENTAL to the human? In the first place, beneficial... because ALL knowledges have got to grow, not just one. And, all intelligences must grow... and not just one. The Jews have been very selective & very greedy and selfish, because they've attempted to keep their intelligence secret & their own... forgetting that their Genes are transferred by the sexual act, and they haven't even thought about that! And, they used any woman they could use... over all these thousands of years, especially wars & everything else..., and what they were doing was giving their secrets away when they were making use of a free woman! So, even THEY got tricked! And it's about useless now, because the whole World has been cross-impregnated. There's no such thing as a PURE intelligence anymore, not even the Jewish intelligence.

And to continue on... detrimental to the human? Anything NEW is always detrimental to the human that PRACTICES that which is new, especially in the beginning. So, in the overall picture it must be so. In the immediate picture, it's a hell of a thing to put up with. The ones that try it first & the ones that advocate it in the beginning, you know, they can get crucified or jailed & all kinds of different things. So in that way, yeah... it's detrimental. But in the overall picture, it must be so. And of course, this is the path of the future... because ALL intelligences & ALL knowledges are going to become uniform. And, the only way that can be achieved is GENETICALLY, is through the transference of the Genes. That will be the New Perfection, then, when they'll ALL be blended.

But then, think what a wonderful color scheme that will turn out! It's just a color hostility that's been falsely produced. In ancient times, color was a challenge... not a handicap. Anybody that's a student of ancient history knows that. Alexander the Great was a black man. Cleopatra was a black woman. The White race tends to gloss this over & not even mention it, because of this color discrimination. But yet the white man enjoys color & is crazy about color... in his pictures & all of the life around him..., but when it comes to the different colored HUMANS, he goes nuts!! And, this will eventually straighten itself out.

What do you really think about the Jews?? Well, I have 3 Minds and a few other things going for me, and each one thinks a little different. My A & B-minds get along famously with the Jewish people. But we come to the P-mind or the technological mind..., and they are & have been the masters in this. So, since the C-mind is a highly competitive mind, all minds of the P-mind are in competition. And when you're competing with a person, you may like 'em before you compete, you may like 'em after you compete, and you may like 'em during the competition when you call a break..., but while you're competing, you do not like ANY person. And when it comes down to competing with a Jewish person, you'd better be ready & you'd better be willing & you'd better be able, because they'll take you! Nobody likes to be taken. And on that basis, I could do very well without 'em. (laughter) It'd make everything a lot easier!

So you see... if you will look at everything in your 3 Mind perspective as a basis, you will find out why you feel the way you feel! So... what do I think about the Jews? They're wonderful people, but... they can sure cause an awful lot of trouble very easily, because when you get whopped you don't like it! Now, I've got along with the Jewish people wonderfully, and there's not a word I can say personally where a Jew has mishandled me or has been anything other than fair to me. But, I know of instances where it's happened. And, the odd part about it is, the Jewish people will do the same thing to each other. So, we shouldn't feel picked upon! (laughter)

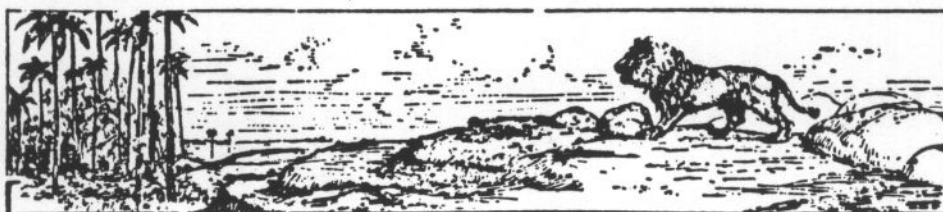

Why is there so much conflict between the White & Colored races today? Racial bias is built into the tribal survival-pattern of the human genetic pattern. Animals usually attack alien life-forms, colors, & tribes. This keeps their tribal "egg knowledge" pure (no mating with those of another tribe is allowed, etc.) The black/white racial problems were not violent or pronounced until the WWII Chiefs of Staff separated the troops into color lines. This was not meant to be segregating, in influence, but it was only a way to alleviate possible trouble & isolated incidents ahead. The result was very damaging, in the long run, to our social-racial interchanges.

Time is a big factor in our lives, but scientists are at a loss to explain its true nature. What really "makes up" time? Time, as we know it, is a creation of MAN! Our BODIES are governed by the cyclic rhythms of Nature, or the Celstial Clock of Astrology... as we call it. We can by-pass such influences, to a large degree, by using the power of our Minds. This Mind over-control, however, is frequently more of a detriment than a benefit to the body. Instead of eating when we are truly hungry & our body truly needs nourishment, we stuff ourselves according to a ritualistic meal-time schedule & wind up with dis-case, sickness, and a body in rebellion! If you let your B or P-mind (especially your C-mind) get out of CONTROL & continually try to run your life WITHOUT any regard to the body & its needs, you can get your body in deep trouble fast!

Is it just my imagination, or has time "speeded up" in recent years? In the mid-1970's, a time-warp factor was introduced on this planet to disorient persons & force them out of their lethargy. Most persons, on this planet, are not taking self-responsibility for their own decisions & actions. By allowing time to slip by at an accelerated rate, it was hoped that persons would be shook-up enough that they would wake up to the fact that their "time" is running out! Many persons remark today that they "hardly know where the day went". This "over-control" has extended to world affairs as well! Love was tried as an "awakening" actuator, and it failed. So, FEAR must now be used. There has been much talk, after the time warp went into effect, about World Holocaust..., but very little world-wide violence has happened. Things are in a "neutral" state UNTIL persons "wake up" enough to CHOOSE (see data on the Earth Flip). As of 1978, we moved into Warp #8. At Warp #10, the Earth could be gone. However, in August of 1979 we moved DOWN from Warp #8 to Warp #7... due to the fact that Warp #8 was causing too much turbulence in the lives of humans.

How much do Cycles affect our lives? Cycles, such as Astrology and Biorhythms, are the time-clocks of the Animal world. Persons functioning to a high degree on B & C-mind are still affected by such cycles, but they generally override such influences with Mind action.

What causes plants to come up in the springtime? In the springtime, the living Earth (now slowly dying) breathes OUTWARD..., and this breath is what warms & nurtures plant life. This outward breath is slightly above 42 degrees Fahrenheit, and it can be detected going in & out of caverns (depending upon the season). Farmers are well aware that their plants will pop up right on through the cold snow in the Spring. Hydroponic developments fail to grasp this vital temperature factor.

How did the Indians, etc. find out about the Medicinal properties of plants? Indians learned of Medicinal plants by attuning themselves with the plant. The human feel-field can actually "mate" with the feel-fields of plants, animals, and even rocks! Once the feel-fields are "mated", the two can communicate with each other. The plant could thereby determine the chemical make-up of the human body & thereby know what effect it would have on the human body... and then it would merely transfer this data to the human. Such telepathic communications between Souls happen hundreds of times a day, but we are usually not AWARE that they are going on. Luther Burbank (among many others) used these principles to co-operate with plants to produce such alterations as the Spineless Cactus, etc.

Are Hybred Plants beneficial to man? Today, most of our world-wide food production comes from Hybred plants. However, there will soon be a REVERSAL of this trend whereby only the ORIGINAL, non-hybrid species of plants will be available for human consumption. Hybrids will become inedible (due to taste factors), they will fall prey to natural insect/disease enemies (due to their lack of natural resistance), and of course they are sterile (due to the fact that they're hybrids... like the mule, for ex.).*Halstead predicted the corn blight of 1930 using these very factors. If man continues his dependance upon hybrid plants, the result will be a world-wide famine so terrible that disease will be rampant & the burial of bodies will be difficult!

What is "Live" rock, and how was it used by ancient man? 13,000 years ago, before the Exiles came here, the Earth was alive. Live Rock is capable of reproducing itself, growing metal, adapting itself as needed, and even thinking! Rocks with the qualities of Mind & Spirit were once used by humans, whereby rocks & humans could work out MUTUAL agreements to have the rocks take on certain patterns or structures. The Atlantean "Star Fire" crystals were LIVE crystals of Uranium. Live Uranium acts as a neutral point or "hub" between dimensions, and it recieved the extraterrestrial radiation of interlinking Universal energies. However, with the formation of the Van Allen radiation belt, the Earth began to die... & the rocks began to die right along with her. If something is breaking down or dying (another word for radiation), then it stands to reason that it was once alive! Live rock does NOT powder or decompose. In California, only live rock (a Geological term!) may be used on roadways, and such live-rock quarries are rapidly being depleted. When the "Egg-Knowledge" of the animal-man was broken, the "Joy" energies dispersed. This formed a layer of Ozone around the planet. Ozone is "dead" Oxygen, and it acts as a shield. This Ozone layer not only stops a great deal of the INCOMING energies, but it also halts the Domination from sending out THEIR knowledges. Since the Earth can no longer recieve life-giving energies from the OUTSIDE, it has been consuming its OWN life-energies to survive & it is thus slowly dying. Since electrical energies are constantly creating more Ozone, through our electric-based technologies, the Ozone shield around the Earth is becoming even MORE effective in cutting off life-giving energies... thus intensifying our problem. If the persons on this planet come to accept Free Law, then the Van Allen radiation belt will be no more, & this Earth will be a Paradise. As always, the CHOICE is up to US.

What are the so-called "Picture Rocks" of the Ancients? The Picture Rocks that many persons have found (R. Shaver, among others) are rocks which contain 3D or Multitudinous images. These "Picture Rocks" are NOT the product of some ancient super-cultures dabbling in creative expression, nor are they some exotic form of Data Recordings. They were produced by matter coating itself upon anti-matter energies through THOUGHT DIRECTION. This, of course, was at a time when the mineral world was alive & sustained itself from incoming solar energies. And, of course, this was at a time where the Exiles still retained their Mind-over-matter abilities. The picture rocks we see today are usually "dead" rock, and so they do not behave as they once did when they were alive.

Why hasn't Comp. I's knowledge of animals been out before now? Freud originally wrote about the functions of animals in much the same way that Comp. I covers the subject. Because it conflicted with accepted theories of his day, these writings were destroyed at his death & lost. The same situation was true to a lesser degree with the work of Pavlov.

Why do porpoises save drowning humans? A porpoise will get ANY air-breather to the surface, because this is what their young require when born.

What is really behind the techniques used to train animals? Most animals are trained with a combination of domination techniques & affection. Bears respond to being tickled on their stomach! Cats cannot be dominated. Apparent domination techniques, like the chair & whip of the circus performer, are only cues which the animal associates with affection from their owners, etc.

Do animals perceive the things we do?

We humans assume that animals use their eyes to perceive what we see. This is not so. A man sees things in a carbon range of perspective--or in the third dimensional world of matter. The dog or rattlesnake, on the other hand, see in the infra-red or heat range. To them we exist as shimmering rays of heat. Even our thoughts of love or hate show up in this range. Birds view things in the silicon range, and if we could view the heavens with this perception, we would see the silicon based planets that are now invisible except to our scientific instruments. Viewing things in the pheta range, the feline family can view things bordering in the fourth dimension. Most observant person can recognize that cats see many more energy forms in a room than they do. A number of animals were brought to Earth from an alien environment. Most animals have under three 'affinities'; the dog, with '6', can better adapt to different environments and food. Look into the eyes of a wolf and you may gain a greater respect for such life forms.

Unfortunately, a 'good' animal is now an animal that is completely dominated and blindly obedient. Persons are actually surprised when they find that an animal will automatically toilet-train themselves and defend their friends' property when left with their own free choice.

***Chapter M***

Will the space programs be of benefit to us?

The leaders of the domination system would like to extend their system to all parts of this universe. For technical reasons, the chances of this occurring are astronomically slim. It is well that we recognize the various unit value systems and such on this material plane are quite effective and efficient. It is only their usage under domination that is unlawful.

For the average person, the push to space will probably serve only to bring on the higher states of technology a little more quickly. Technically speaking, the 'mind' does not function beyond the Van Allen Radiation Belt for most persons. Since the brain alone is incapable of piloting space craft without automation, there are severe limitations for all persons except persons of 'free' status.

Are there other planets in our solar system? For every Carbon-based planet in our solar system, there is an invisible (to US) Silicon-based planet. These Silicon-based planets are spheres of gaseous Silicon, so they are invisible to our Carbon-based eyes. However, these gaseous spheres are teeming with life. If the Exile situation is straightened out & we reach New Perfection, then we would be able to transfer to these other spheres of life by CHOICE. Silicon is the OPPOSITE of Carbon, and recent scientific data indicates that we could breathe underwater & in space IF Silicon was injected into our bloodstream! It might be interesting to note that our Carbon-based planet runs on dual-energy framework patterns. Each Entity here, therefore, must have Male & Female counterparts... or you wouldn't be able to get the "juice" or "intelligence energy" out of the terminal!

What are Black Holes? Black holes are galaxies that are drawing IN energy. It might surprise some people to realize that, from a distance, OUR Solar System reflects no light itself!

What about the U.S. "Killer" satellites? The Russians were distraught when it came out in 1977 that our Wanderer space satellite could not only neutralize their intercontinental missiles, but it could knock out the majority of Russian cities within seconds with little hope of defense. These "Killer" satellites were made out of a seaweed-titanium alloy which actually flexes. The Wanderer is programmed to act as an independent "thinking" unit that can dodge anti-missile projectiles, and it can stop & start (as required) anywhere in space. Armed with Neutron warheads, the Wanderer could decimate entire populations with virtually no chance for retaliation. It was rumored that the Russians tried out Wanderer's capabilities in the Early 1970's, and only succeeded in losing a missile... as reported in the news. (written in 1978)

Is there life on Venus? Yes. Earth is 90% carbon and 10% silicon. Venus, on the other hand, is 50% silicon. Our carbon-based eyes would not detect life on Venus or any of the other silicon-based structures there.

IS THERE LIFE ON OTHER PLANETS ?

Other than the carbon based planets that we can see in our solar system, there are over 60 planets of other base ranges that we don't see. All of these planets have energies on them which are technically 'life'. {life is that which can sustain itself} In the 1960's, scientists began to discover a number of these unrecognized planets on special instruments.

It is well to remember that we humans represent only a minute grain of sand in the vast over all perspective of creation. If we can see action we can see life. Life is action. Men try to create life but can't even the 'hybrid' plants he creates cannot act to reproduce unaided.

ARE THERE SIMILAR LIFE FORMS TO OURS IN THE UNIVERSE ?

Yes, in structure. Earth however, is unique in that there are many knowledges mixed together...and all are in a mutable or chaotic state.

In the 'All That Is' flowline, millions of creations are seperated by being of different wave lengths...and everywhere but on the exile planet Earth, these creations are in a constant free law state.

True 'life' or real matter has no radioactive breakdown. The matter of our present planet is a phenomena of Earth alone. When we visit other local planets there there will be life on other dimensions but there will be no life forms similar to our own.

What we call 'self' is a unit of energy in the all that is 'I Am'... with a definite pattern & wave length. In this sense, we are all alone... but a complete thing cannot be shared. A glass for instance, will not be a glass if it is split in two. As unique identities in this gaseous field of energy, we have everything. We must only awaken to this fact & start using it.

Why don't UFOs make contact with us? The superior beings capable of creating such craft would hardly be stupid enough to come in mass to this planet in craft that were vulnerable or in forms that were "different". Mass sightings would trigger massive defensive actions by the world powers. The soldiers with their fingers on the little red buttons would hardly be able to stay rational in such a situation. As to what form they would take (bodily)..., they would use human bodies or simulated human bodies (androids), as they do now. We bear watching yet....

What propels UFOs? While we use push-propulsion (the release of energy to get speed), advanced UFO systems gain speed by catching onto energy flows that our usual instruments & eyes cannot detect. Einstein admitted that his formula only had to do with the PHYSICAL. We have witnessed happenings that could only have occured at speeds greater than light, and we have no way yet to explain this inconsistency. Scientists are beginning to get some clues in this area. Recent experimentation has shown that atoms CHANGE COMPLETELY in a cyclotron, when accelerated at different speeds. UFOs can defy the "laws" of matter, by keeping their spacecraft on the edge of our dimension. Jumping in & out of dimensions is easy, in a Universe made up of expanding and contracting holes. Walk through a wall... IF your holes are smaller!

Why is the Government so hesitant to admit that UFO's exist? The Government knows that there are UFOs, but they are reluctant to admit that they don't know what they are. Actually, the Government is highly interested in the UFO's advanced spacecraft technology. We need them, but they don't need us....., and they successfully evade us at every turn.

Why are U F O's shaped like they are?

In many cases the shapes of UFO's are due to the drive systems. In the larger cigar-shaped craft, the streamlining is necessary because of friction. Outer space is not a void but is full of space dust and is a media in itself. Ships not streamlined to some extent would disintegrate at high speeds. In the future we could have craft traveling at several times the speed of light.

As this is written, the forces of Free who act as guardians and 'parole officers' have many different types of craft in their fleet. Each is specialized according to its mission and function. There are, too, many other craft of neutral or Earth-bound domination origin.

Where do U F O's come from?

There are many kinds of UFO's and they have many origins. We have a certain number of alien visitors coming to the planet on what we could call 'sight seeing' trips. We have a limited number of other dimensional craft from other dimensional regions. There are craft of Earth origin that are restricted to the planet. There are mental craft which are created mentally by the domination for control purposes. And there are craft of Real or free origin whose missions are to carefully watch the planet to see that the domination and that system doesn't get out of certain boundaries.

The free 'parole officers', as they could be called, have kept a careful watch on the planet since the time of Moses. In the '60's and '70's, they prevented a premature nuclear holocaust on a number of occasions. Such intervention is rare but is necessary at a cycle end to give humanity every chance possible to make their choices in the proper circumstances. It is interesting to note that a number of aliens use the ancient Atlantean language because it is the most technically precise language the planet has had. German was a close derivative of Atlantean. The non verbal communication of visitors is, of course, mental telepathy. Coming from a free universe outside, 'visitors' never interfere with the routines, actions and choices of Earth's inhabitants.

What kind of technology has the fewest limitations? The Systems prevalent in this world depend upon act-react principles, so they have built-in limitations. The more advanced systems of ancient times & of Alien cultures utilize a Curvature principle of operation. Various ancient writings frequently blueprint such principles. Many systems used Crystals. Crystals contain awesome energy potentials that have only begun to be recognized today. Crystals of Lead were found to be able to pick up distant signals of a like nature & were used in radio-wave transmission. The Laser was found to project energy, when excited by light. The popular theory that the Laser PUSHES light energy is simply not true, however. Many simple crystals are capable of giving off great amounts of energy by simple Mind action (of a specific range). By "attuning" ones Mind to the proper range (for the specific crystal), an ungrounded crystal can begin to grow luminescent & become potentially lethal (to OTHERS) by simple mental attention. The specific frequency range needed for such actions does NOT include the C-mind Beta range, and because most persons are continually in a C-mind dwell, they cannot get crystals to function for them MENTALLY. Only Mind dwell that are free of CONFLICT can produce such effects.

Are the present "rape of the earth" & "air pollution" scares on the level?

A drive is underway, at the present time, to center the public's attention on the poisoning of the air & the rape of the earth. This is all a big hoax perpetrated by the high-level P-minds here. They hope to create enough fear, in the general populace, that they will be happy to support space programs that will allow us to build our factories & mine our natural resources AWAY FROM THE EARTH. Of course, this would allow these C-minds to escape this "prison planet" & would allow them to extend their influence throughout the known universe. Of course, this is all TOTALLY unnecessary! One good volcano puts out more "air pollution" than ALL of the factories in the WORLD...yet life on this planet has continued to thrive. Within a few years, we will have the technology to pro-create any natural resources we want! And, with "free energy" motors, we will no longer have the energy problems that now seem so dire. WE can change this Earth into a Paradise Planet... IF we so CHOOSE.

Are Psionic machines dangerous? Psionic machines are able to alter the chemicals at the base of the brain neurons. In old age, an absence of such chemicals brings on faulty memory, etc. Thoughts come to these chemicals, when transmitted, and then these chemicals... carrying the thoughts within their atomic structure... travel up the neuronal "tubes" until the synapse spark occurs. Without these vital chemicals, therefore, one becomes senile. Continued work with Psionic machines often brings on erratic brain-pattern reactions & motor-nerve actions. If continued, work in this field CAN be dangerous! If, for example, the Psionic device is used to kill bugs, it is against the body's nature to continue such destruction..., and a fear of this destruction, turning on one's SELF, begins to square upon itself. This eventually combines with the progressively scrambling brain circuitry to bring about a 1st rate case of Paranoia! The Russians, of course, have tried to take away the HUMAN element in Psionic research & produce Psionic machines that ANYONE can work... regardless of their Mind-state or beliefs. Some devices are now effective for up to 300 miles! However, ALL such devices are very limited & DANGEROUS if used WITHOUT the necessary knowledge and the proper self-control of the various human mind-components.

Are the "Negative Heel" shoes, like the 'Earth Shoe', of any real benefit? Rome conquered the entire civilized world, due to the fact that some unknown Roman cobbler discovered that the body could carry more weight for a longer period of time when he put heels on his sandals... thereby RAISING the HEEL of the foot during walking. By adding a heel to the sandals of the Roman soldiers, they could walk TWICE as far without being fatigued. An enemy preparing for a Roman assault, which was PRESUMED to be coming in two days, would be taken totally by surprise when the Romans showed up in ONE day. The human foot was not designed to carry extra loads. Overweight persons & persons carrying heavy loads are very limited, in their walking stamina, UNLESS they wear shoes WITH HEELS. Shoes such as the "earth shoe", which RAISES the TOE, are utterly WORTHLESS for walking with a load.

Why are scientists so closed-minded? If they can't produce it, in the laboratory, then it doesn't exist... for them. Scientists claimed that lightning balls did not exist, until they discovered that lightning balls & lightning could be produced in the laboratory in 1977. The scientists have YET to produce a Scientist, in the laboratory ... so, maybe THEY don't exist?!?!?

Why are new ideas so slow in coming? Our economic equilibrium can be easily upset by new knowledge. For example, millions of school texts had to be replaced when scientists discovered a live Coelacanth... a fish that had supposedly died out millions of years ago. Trillions of dollars would be lost overnight if anti-gravity devices were put into operation. Unless War demands come into play, revolutionary devices are seldom allowed to be produced. WW II produced new computers & planes that have revolutionized our modern way of life. Mental ideas such as telepathy are held back because of ego problems. With most persons, the desire to keep secrets creates blocks to such NATURAL actions.

Pollution is becoming a worsening problem. What can be done? As this is written, pollution is not even a tenth as bad over the planet as it is for some time after a major period of volcanic eruptions. What man is finding out is that there are natural cleansing actions which work far more efficiently than ever suspected. At this time ('75), the environmentalists would have us back living as the cave men, if they had their way. As nations gain freedom, the pollution problems tend to disappear through higher stages of technology.

Do ecology groups serve a beneficial purpose?

Like anything else, it depends on the group. All civilizations go thru a 'dirty' phase as advanced technologies are put to use. This is later replaced by a 'super clean' philosophy. Eventually, if the civilization continues, a happy medium is reached. As this is written, one of the largest ecology groups in the U. S. serves as a 'front' for powerful interests who use it to help eliminate public access to Federal and State-owned lands. The public is unaware of their private retreat on Federal land in Central California. They are, in fact, excluded, and only the wealthy and powerful can reach these 'protected' areas in private planes. Use and ownership of land gave a measure of security under the original U. S. Constitution, but this is no longer true in many cases.

Is the 3D Math of mathematician George Brandes valid? His equations concerning the make-up of matter in a Multi-dimensional Universe ARE valid... because he uses the Trinary or Triangulistic mathematical system. Unfortunately, it is just too early. Like Einstein, who had his equations in 1903, Brandes does NOT have the tools to UTILIZE his data. Einstein had to wait until 1944 before his data could be used by the newly discovered Nuclear technology. *

What about the so-called 3D or Trinary math system? At the present moment, science uses what is called Secondary math. This math system is based upon the act-react system, which means that it covers 2 dimensions only. If  $1+1=2$ , say in terms of energy, we assume that  $1+1$  should always equal 2. However, if  $1+1=3$ , we deduce that there must be a hidden element BETWEEN the two "ones" for them to equal 3. That "something in between" is the RELATIONSHIP between the two "ones". Trinary math is 3 Dimensional because it includes this "in between" relationship as a third factor. In Trinary math, you KNOW what is "in between"... and work from there. Secondary math is in use, presently, because we must use the body as a tool & machine builder, to bring thought into actual form in the physical. Triangulistic math is used exclusively for 1st instance energy change (mind over matter) systems. Animals need no math system, so they have none. (3D Math is covered in Comp. 5 private sessions)

***Chapter N***

It seems that one "needs" to have a clean home, a car, a telephone, good-looking clothes, "car, life, & home" insurance, money in the bank, and a "steady, well-paying" job, to be "accepted" by society & live a "normal" life. How can one "live for Pleasure" when the rules of the society require that one MUST CONFORM to be accepted? Well, you gotta be sneaky! I think the shortest answer to that was one that Christ used when they asked him what should be done about taxes, and he said very clearly & without hesitation, "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and give to the Father what is the Father's." Now, that's a very simple little statement, and nobody gives it a second thought! So, please give it a second thought, because it shows you the distinction between what you must conform to HERE & what you must conform to within the Father's realm. And, you don't need that pointed out to you in a lecture or a sermon. If you give to Caesar what is Caesar's & give to the Father what is the Father's, that question is answered. You can give to Caesar the sweat off your brow & everything else, and be secretly laughing because you're giving your love to the Father. And, there's nothing Caesar can really do to you... and you'll be happy. But, if you're gonna try to give your pleasure, if you're gonna try to give your joy or your affection to that Caesar ALONG WITH your money & your taxes, you're gonna hate that Caesar. So, you gotta be sneaky. Give him what he wants, but that don't mean you have to like him & that don't mean that you have to openly dislike him. Accept it as being a fact of life, pay your taxes, do the things that are necessary within the legalistic system of the nation in which you find yourself, and in your own soul & heart reserve your affection for the Father.

So you have to learn to live with What Is, but you have to reserve your feelings & your emotions ALSO for What Is. And, that's where you fail it. And in answer to that question, you will be accepted... should you just give the necessary taxes to Caesar, and the lip-service he demands, and then you can go about your own merry way & do pretty well what you damn well please. And, you'll find an awful lot of people doing exactly the same thing.

Some people confuse something here, though. And, this is where the main part of that problem lies. One of the major factors in being accepted in ANY society is to be physically CLEAN. You mentioned a "clean home", but what about a whole clean body, what about keeping your body clean regardless of what you're wearing & keeping what you're wearing clean regardless of what it is. In the general middle class or the under middle class, as long as you're clean & behave yourself, you're accepted. If you're NOT, it's because you THINK you're not being accepted, and act accordingly! Clothes don't make you clean, cars do not make you clean, & homes do not make you clean. You have to clean yourself.

Animals do not work, why must we?

To most persons 'work' is not really work if it is something enjoyably done. Few persons can enjoy themselves doing nothing for any length of time. When the 'free' system eventually replaces the 'domination' system, each person can voluntarily provide a service that they enjoy doing. In a free choice system, there are enough bakers, nurses, truckers, scientists, and such from volunteers. Abilities, knowledges, propensities, and enjoyments are actually pretty well naturally divided up among different people. With high technology the basic necessities will be provided without cost, and service will be voluntary.

The wealthy domination interests of this planet have a fear of the violent reaction of the masses of working people. The working person is the basis of everything. Money, sales, profits mean nothing without production. At this time ('75) the super-rich are trying to lower wages a bit and bring the unemployment rate to around 10%. They feel the working class has a little too much to stay easily subjugated.

WHAT ARE SOME OF THE MAJOR PROBLEMS ON EARTH ?

Domination is the major problem. The goals of the Domination are continued turmoil & confusion. Since perfection must exist in our perfectly functioning universe, the imperfection of the domination system on Earth must eventually end...or spread beyond the planet & infect the universe. One of the underlying causes for the push to space is tied deeply to such motivation. The rebel Exiles have had ample time to accept the FREE, after so long under their imperfect domination system. Under their own system, most of them suffer chaos, mentally, physically, & spiritually. As they continue to dominate of course, they give the right of others to dominate them...& the whole cycle drags on...over & over.

What do you really think about the Exiles & the Denial and Conflict that they have set up on this planet? Has any GOOD come out of their Domination Systems? The Exiles, of course, are of pure intelligence. Now regardless of what that intelligence may be, it is still intelligence. And, you have to admire intelligence... and especially a PURE intelligence. Now simply because it differs from other intelligence doesn't make it bad OR good, it simply makes it DIFFERENT & hard to live with... IF you have a different intelligence. However, they are to be respected, they are to be honored for being OF intelligence, they are to be looked upon with favor within their intelligence field, and they should be accepted for what they ARE & utilized for what they are in conjunction with the other intelligences that we have... because that is a wonderful intelligence. ANY intelligence is wonderful. But since it's a part of us and we have other intelligences which they do NOT understand, that does NOT make them evil. It's only when you COMPARE that one turns out to be "good" for us or "bad" for us... at the given Time, Place, & Situation.

And, has any good come out of their Domination Systems? Sure! They've crashed the world forward to where it is today. This always builds a great amount of fear in people, and along with this comes a lot of sorrow, a lot of pain, a lot of ... what we call... deaths & disfigurements & dismemberments. But, it's always happened in progress, even among the Cave Men. So... at least their's has been applied to advancement of ALL of Humanity. It may not be acceptable by many, but it IS advancement.

HOW DO I KNOW IF I AM OF DOMINATION ?

To some degree by action. Do you, for instance, interfere with the free choice of another? You may be used to some degree by the domination because of ignorance, but if FREE, you will have a basic drive toward allowing others their freedom of choice. As you are able to contact your higher self with its self knowledge you can ask your 'self'. If you can truly get beyond P-Mind thoughts or domination 'tamper' you will truly know. This is a great step...

HOW CAN I GET A JOB DONE, IF I AM A BOSS & CANNOT ORDER THE WORK DONE?

As long as you have orders from persons above you to get the job done, the persons above you are the ones responsible for dominating. All you are doing is directing persons under your supervision toward the goal of others. As long as a decision to dominate does not originate with you, then you are free of breaking free law. You must also be subject to the laws of the land in many cases. { render unto Caesar } Such laws for instance, make you responsible for the actions of your children. This requires that you control them to the extent that they do not break the laws of the land until they are of age. It is usually very helpful to explain this situation to them. Even the very young can differentiate between being dominated...& being controlled by a parent trying to fulfill parental obligations under society's laws. Children can always be given the choice between doing something usefull freely, or being forced to do something usefull. You will 'inwardly' know when you carry such control to far.

WHAT ARE A FEW ADVANTAGES & DISADVANTAGES OF BEING FREE ?

Those of legal FREE status are what you might call citizens of the universe. They are free to enjoy & explore the universe for all time. They may invent unique games to keep themselves amused, they may volunteer for dangerous 'missions'...such as many do on this planet, and unlike the domination, they may enjoy a personal relationship with the 'father'-creator of 'all that is' (a different experience than receiving power & knowledge from an Earth god exile). On earth, the FREE ride the birth death cycles as humans by choice.

Disadvantages on Earth include being alone much of the time...except for the 'father' & a few others of the FREE, or similar knowledge levels.

If one is opened up to knowledge to a fair extent, there is usually a constant battle with the forces of the domination. One must keep a guard up continually, or suffer mental & even physical attacks. The FREE are subject to every harassment that can befall them as FREE persons under a domination system. Surrounded by domination & the dominated masses, the free must ever defend themselves.

IS IT DANGEROUS TO ASSOCIATE WITH PERSONS ACCEPTING THE DOMINATION ?

A person who is truly free really doesn't care which side his associates are on. Being free, they have the right of defense & cannot be harmed unless they allow it by action or choice. Only persons of domination allegiance refuse to 'trust...& play the many domination 'games'. An example of such games are the trend to promote sympathy or responsibility. Only persons of domination will encourage you to feel responsible or sympathetic toward others who have failed to be responsible to & for themselves.

WHY DON'T THE FORCES OF FREE JUST PUT THE DOMINATION LEADERS OUT OF ACTION & CLEAN UP THE PLANET ?

Because this would be against FREE choice laws & the parties involved, would themselves, become the domination. People must act for themselves if they would straiten themselves & the world out. The 'REAL' or FREE can only advise...they will not act for others.

HOW DO I RECOGNIZE PERSONS OF THE DOMINATION.?

It is sometimes difficult until the person takes action. By their actions you shall know them. A person of Free allegiance will always give you a choice & try to set you free of limitations. A person of Domination will sooner or later tend to subjugate, restrict, limit, order, & in numerous other ways, control you. Once you meet a person of the Free, the difference will be more obvious. Surrounded for so long by both factors, most persons haven't learned to note the difference.

To some degree, allegiance could be found by asking certain questions after the 1960's. After this time persons were required to answer truthfully concerning their allegiance to Jesus Christ etc. When asked, for instance, whether he followed under the cloak of Jesus Christ, a domination minister might answer 'yes'-but he would tend to qualify this answer with justification as to why he & his church followed certain precepts. Thus, such persons would unknowingly & 'inwardly' answer the question correctly. Such inward evasions of a positive answer were easy to spot for persons aware of all the rules of the game. Unfortunately few persons were even aware of the domination faction, let alone planetary law.

Words are usually the 1st giveaway in the recognition of dominators. Persons who constantly use words like 'you must' 'you should' & 'you will' are usually knowingly or unknowingly of the Domination. A non-domination person may occasionally use such words, but they will be directed in a manner, or with the thought, that a choice of response be given. Free persons usually tend to use the words: 'could you' 'would you' 'do you wish to'... or just mention the problem & leave the response & action up to the individual.

WHAT SORT OF A CHAIN OF COMMAND DOES THE DOMINATION USE ?

The majority of higher level domination leaders {the '44'} stay in the higher Astral levels. They direct their system through a number of lieutenants who carry out major orders & policys. Only during a 'cycle ending' are they forced to return to the physical again in random bodies. Because the vast majority of persons are controlled by domination oriented ideologys, religions, beliefs, & money, these leaders have no problem in re-gaining positions of power & authority on the physical plane. It has been typical that around a thousand persons have controlled the economies of the world. The consortiums, with their inner power groups & banking empires, have long held the people in control. Through their financial control they can manipulate food, gold, platinum, & most of the other raw goods on the planet. Working through 'cartels' & representatives of the 'old line' families & the large corporate giants they can control the flow of wealth to a surprising%. At this point, it should probably be pointed out that the unit value system of money is a very usefull & worthwhile system. The only problem has been it's use in domination. To ensure a constant flow of capital to the proper groups & interests, it has long been usefull to perpetuate a fear of war in the peoples of the world. Tax money is then more easily obtained to buy the required defence arms...and things usually get out of hand sooner or later & there is another bloody war.

HOW DO I RECOGNIZE DOMINATION THINKING ?

An example might be the case of a crooked Judge. A Free person would realize that we really judge ourselves and would only want the judge removed from office. A person of domination on the other hand, might want retaliation...or to have the judge locked up. Throughout history man has remained a serf for those in power untill he organized & faught with his fellows for freedom. A favorite strategy with the domination is division. As long as different ideologys, governments, & races keep fighting & confused, they can be manipulated by a more well organized domination system over them.

IS AN ACT OF DOMINATION EVER VALID FOR THE 'FREE' ?

Higher level identities of the Free on certain missions have used domination..in knowledge & with recognition of the act toward an end result. The vast majority of persons act in ignorance & are used as tools for the domination system or leaders. The leaders of the domination of course, feel that they are right & their actions are valid. In all cases, persons judge themselves. Persons of either allegiance reap Karma for actions against what they know is right. Persons of Free allegiance often choose to be under domination in certain situations. In such cases they choose it, & are not dominated.

Many of the high level domination leaders enjoy the 'game' aspects of dominating & controlling subjects. Where they could once pit one army against another, they can now pit one organization, country, or monetary system against another.

IN SEEKING FREEDOM IS IT BEST TO BE ALONE ?

There are many advantages to having a 'low profile' in dealing with oppressive systems. The only problem has been that the majority of persons remain 'serfs' for the oppressors until they organize. Alone, a person is pretty much defensless, and can be intimidated, or even liquidated by organized powers. To lessen the tensions of life & gain mental freedoms, a person can escape within himself in any environment. To gain a free system, one must fight for such freedom with his fellow man.

Life is made of relationships. The more relationships there are, the fuller the life will be. What good is freedom without a little fullness with it.

DO PERSONS WITH A HIGH LEVEL OF KNOWLEDGE IN FREE USAGE ATTAIN POSITION ?

Yes. The free who manage to ascend to positions of importance however, are very often 'discredited' shortly after their rise to position. Very few can stand for long in a world system run by an elite domination group.

One of the few high level leaders {9th level of the '44'} to change sides & still retain a great deal of influence was Gandhi of India. Using his great knowledge against domination principles he retained power, but was typically denied wealth.

Is Fame and Fortune denied those persons who have chosen to live by principles of Free?

Not necessarily. Living on a planet whose unit value systems are run under domination principles makes gathering wealth hard but not impossible. It is fairly easy for high level domination to put others to work for them and tell them to do the work or suffer the consequences. Great wealth is accumulated by having others work for you. The Free, on the other hand, do not care to dominate others, and, unless they have a superior over them, they will refuse to give orders. To get a job done, they will usually present the problem and give the persons involved a choice of whether they wish to help or not.

Some of the few occupations which will allow a person of Free to gain great wealth are those involving 'entertainment' and the 'arts.' Such occupations, of course, rely upon the free will acceptance and generosity of the public. The 'Free' of high awareness who could take advantage of their power and knowledge for making money refrain from doing this, as it would violate 'free' laws.

How does Money & Ownership fit into the Freedom of Choice system? To start with, we do NOT own ANYTHING on this planet! We have only the USE of things. We can have endless USE of what is here as long as we do not DENY OTHERS the same privilege. Once we learn to RELAX & no longer DOMINATE our fellow human beings, then our problems & unhappiness will lessen to a great degree. The Domination never tells you what price you will have to pay for their services, or what debt to them you will incur... because, to them, the price will always be there! Those of the Free, however, act because they LIKE to do whatever they CHOOSE to do... so their actions NEVER carry a price or debt. Sometimes, however, it is necessary for those of the Free to "take on" Domination guises or practices to accomplish their missions. Such actions by the Free are valid, for they have the knowledge & self-control to know when to "back off", when dominating others. For example... since most persons on this planet are knowingly or UN-knowingly serving the Reflection (the Domination Systems), a person will immediately be suspect if he deviates from the "norm" to any great degree. For this reason, Free Missions can be accomplished more easily by being under the guise of the "norm"... and in today's society, persons act under the motive of Commercialism. Offering knowledge for money is not ethical (for the Free, acting under their SELF-choice laws), except to keep up your VISUAL front of Commercialism. Most Free individuals then return the rest of the money back into society, because Affluence creates an ease of Domination... & thus difficulties.

Can money be used WITHOUT Dominating someone else? There is a fine line between the USE & ABUSE of money. If you are using your money to provide for your SURVIVAL needs; which would include conveniences, necessities, and the usual pleasures of living; that is one thing. If you are using money to show off, to gain power, or to control others... that's another story!

How can I free myself from the Slavery BUILT INTO the Domination & Denial Systems that you speak of? If YOU enslave & have slaves, then you are enslaved also! If you dominate others, then you can be dominated. A FREE person cannot dominate others, nor can HE be dominated!

WHAT ARE THE GOALS OF BOTH THE FREE & THE DOMINATION ?

As I pointed out, the goal of domination is continual control through chaos & perpetual turmoil. Since there are automatic stop principles which end all their imperfect governments & systems, they are often frustrated as they see their empires rise & fall. There is just no revision or repair in a crumbling system that has lost it's last small measure of freedom. The highest levels of domination leaders of course, really don't become so concerned. It is they who will come back again in positions of power & control.

The goal of the Free is to give all persons choice, & to set all persons free, who wish to be free.

WHAT IS THE LAW OF FREE CHOICE ?

You may face a situation or person, & accept or reject according to your knowledge & choice. But, you will not judge, or interfere with the free will & choice of another. Self choice is the one law that all identities exist under. If, for instance, an identity fails to choose to accept Free law or domination- either one, they are refusing to acknowledge the Trinity & will cease to be. When the Exiles power was originally taken from them, a number of them chose not to make such a choice...& were 'dispersed' or de-created. In this same context it is required that all identities identify themselves as to allegiance. If an Astral entity refuses to tell you he is of domination or Free when asked, they must either leave...or face such a 'dispersal'. Only on the physical plane are most persons in ignorance as to their status.

WHAT IS THE FREE PRINCIPLE ?

In Domination all things have a function. In Free, there is an absence of function. Under a free system there is always choice. The so-called laws of gravity are not laws. Gravity is. Law is a matter of choice. Under the domination principle, persons pay in kind for actions & results. Under the Free principle, there is never a cost or a price. By linking up to 'All That Is', under Free law, 'All That Is', is available.

How can just one person be of much benefit, in aiding the cause for freedom? A high percentage, of the world's causes & changes, were brought about by only one person. The French Revolution, for example, was spear-headed by the writing efforts of Voltaire. Hitler's oratory brought him the control of a nation. One person, with a Vision & a desire to Act, has ALWAYS turned the tide of history.

Who will put the upcoming "New Culture" into effect? The PEOPLE will. No culture can ever be forced upon people & hope to last. To succeed, the coming culture must fit ALL people & be on a one-world base. By realization of the 3 basic dwells a Human exists in, there can now for the first time be complete compatibility among persons of each mind-dwell group. Once the framework is recognized, a Priority-minded person can stay among his own group, thus shunning persons of alien mind frames, etc. Such simple methods will put an end to transgressions, and there will be put into effect a SELF-GOVERNING set of principles applicable to ALL societies & peoples. The artists will be free to pursue their chosen crafts, and the Builders can enjoy building, etc. Since they are an on-going situation, cultures vary with the current understanding of the populace. The works of different cultures or peoples show the vibe-level used. To have a system that will function without flaw, it will be necessary to guarantee Food, Clothing, Shelter, and Medicine. Women especially just won't function right until this comes to pass. Today there is no security. Any foreman or member of a Hierarchy can take a worker's job and security away.

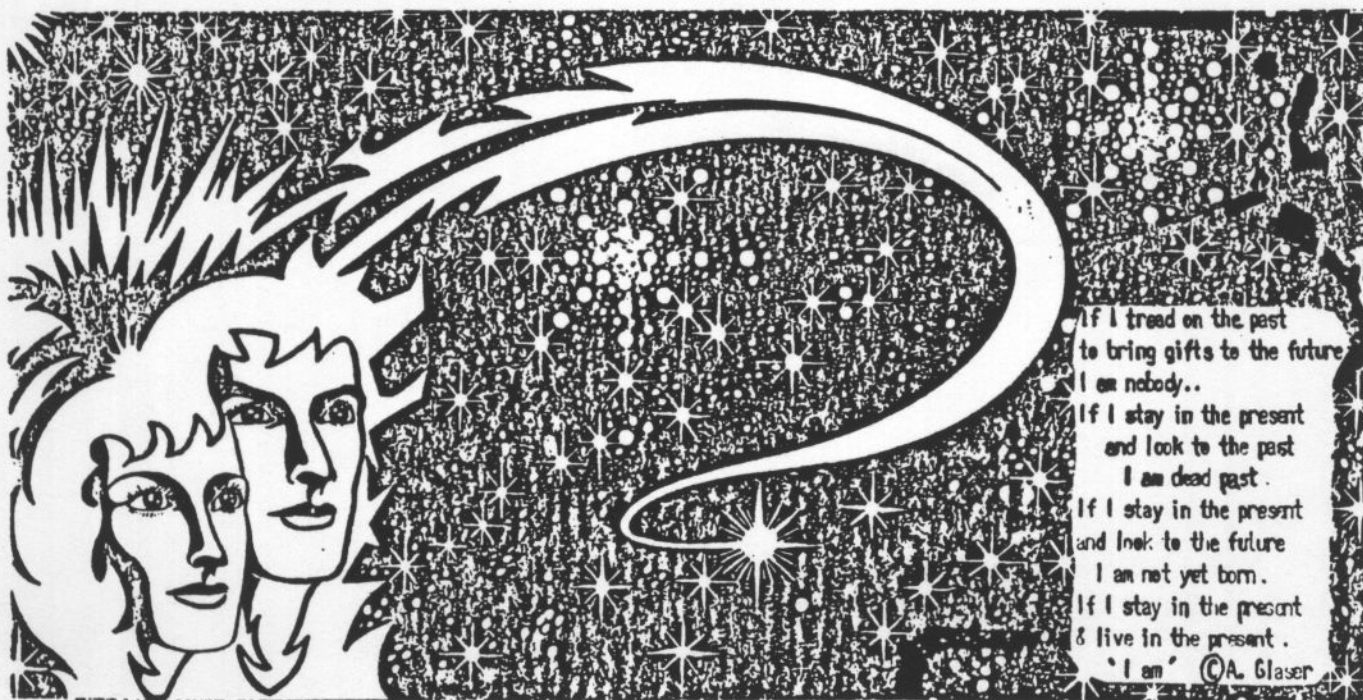

How can we eradicate world hunger? Distribution is the key to eradicating want, but the present systems are becoming very complex. After World War II, for instance, the Krupp empire was so interlocked with networks and parts that it could not be broken down. Today, the world's financial Dynasties are aiming at getting a common unit of "labor value" for a set amount of money in every nation....., but this plan is too late and unworkable because more people are starving, in this change-over period, than ever before. The mass of distressed people will rise up and bring chaos, before the "transition". To be successful, economic changes must not take anything from other persons. To work, they must offer a greater reward to everyone. With our present level of technology, there can easily be world-wide distribution of food & products....., AFTER the required & inevitable collapse of the present monetary and world banking domination systems. This distribution problem brought on the French Revolution, and it is still causing an uneven life-style in the world's population.

A recent experiment in which hundreds of persons were given a guaranteed income was a failure because few of the persons would work at anything when their survival needs were being met. How could this problem be overcome? This particular experiment used persons who were on various forms of assistance and welfare. They were just not used to producing anything! The majority of persons in the world would produce, and ensure the success of the system. Since survival would be guaranteed, most people would begin working at jobs they LIKED to do... not HAD TO do. A number of guaranteed assistance projects have failed. The W.P.A. guaranteed jobs, and other programs guarantee a certain amount of money. These programs don't work, because it is necessary to GUARANTEE life.

How is it possible to use money for the benefit of man? Once the Food and Shelter of ALL persons was guaranteed, anyone wishing to gain more than subsistence would be able to earn a second type of currency by working. By obtaining "survival item" money from local area centers when needed, persons who wished the second "luxury" money could earn as much as they wished. Possession of more than a limited quantity of the "survival item" money would be illegal & thus prevent hoarding and the DENIAL of this currency to others UNLESS they did the bidding of the person who was hoarding the "survival item" currency.

... So now you KNOW... what will you choose ? af
